Rebels Declare Independence of Canton District

Nanking Government Denies Reports, But Its Appointed Chairman Is Forced to Take Refuge in Hongkong—Spokesmen Say President Does Not Realize Strength of Opposition

Revolt Leaders Say Movement Is Directed Against Present Chiefs

By REGINALD SWEETLAND
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

SHANGHAI, April 30.—The Kwangtung Provincial Government at Canton today declared its independence from Nanking, and General Chen Ming-Shu, Nanking's appointed chairman, was forced to take refuge in Hongkong, according to reports received here.

The Nanking Government late this afternoon issued a denial in the face of these reports, while at the same time it sent Finance Minister T. V. Soong here to try to induce Sun Fo, Minister of Railroads and son of the late Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, founder of the Kuomintang, and Wang Chung-Hui, Chief Justice and member of the International court of Justice at The Hague, to return to Nanking.

PLAY LEADING ROLES

Both Sun Fo and Wang Chung-Hui are playing leading roles in the Kuomintang plot to oust President Chiang Kai-Shek and Mr. Soong.

A spokesman for this group of revolters informed The Chicago Daily News this afternoon that President Chiang is unable to realize the strength of the group against him and declared that a majority of the men under arms in China are ready to support the anti-Chiang movement.

This group declares that it is not making use of the Communist forces scattered throughout the country, but admits that General Feng Yu-Hsiang and other disgruntled or ousted warlords will seize the opportunity to strike back at President Chiang. The leaders of the group insist that their movement is not directed against the Government but only to end the despotism of the present chiefs.

WILL REMAIN NEUTRAL

Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, Mukden warlord, they state, will probably remain neutral, his own interests compelling him to stand aloof while the Kuomintang partisans attempt to re-establish their power. As the movement gains momentum, its leaders feel that the militarists will gradually close in upon Nanking, forcing President Chiang to flee.

Throughout the day President Chiang's envoys were attempting to gain entrance to Sun Fo's residence in the French concession, which is carefully guarded by French colonial troops, without success.

The leaders of the revolt stress that no outstanding figures are directing it, this being a party movement from within, designed simply to remove the traces of oligarchism, after which the party will convene for the election of its own directing heads, to be held responsible only to the party.

ALBERTA BUSH FIRES SPREAD

Flames Fanned by Strong Winds—Child Burned to Death

EDMONTON, April 30 (CP).—Fires, fanned by strong winds in Central and Northern Alberta, caused one death yesterday. Burned over a wide area of timber and open park land, and are causing trouble in a dozen of other places. The country is timbered and dry, which facilitates rapid spread of the flames.

The death was that of Jimmie Wheelton, three-year-old son of T. A. Wheelton, Clyde, who was caught in a stubble fire which cut off his retreat when a sudden gust of wind surrounded him with flames. The accident occurred at 4:30 p.m., and the boy died at 11 p.m.

With a brisk west wind driving sparks a quarter of a mile ahead of the advancing flames, a raging fire has burned twenty square miles of timber and open park land at Spirit River, and with a change of wind to the east the blaze is now sweeping west toward the British Columbia-Alberta boundary line.

Smaller bush fires are burning at Onoway, Calahoo, Fort Assiniboine, White Court, Pigeon Lake, Clover Bar, Ardrossan and many other points, but constant guard has prevented them from reaching serious proportions.

King of Siam Given Degree At Washington

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP).—American educators honored the King of Siam today with the presentation of the degree of Doctor of Laws to him by George Washington University.

Representatives of leading universities participated in the brief ceremony in the Hall of the Americas at the Pan-American Union. President Lloyd Hock Marvin of the university called the King "a beloved ruler of independent people" in presenting the honorary degree.

After the ceremony the King went to Baltimore to have his eyes examined.

2,000 HURT IN CAUCASIA

Quake Death Toll Is 500—20,000 Peasants Homeless —$1,000,000 Damage

SHOCKS FOLLOWED BY ELECTRIC CLOUDBURST

By JUNIUS B. WOOD
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

MOSCOW, April 30.—Extremely fragmentary reports from only a few towns in the Caucasus earthquake area indicate that 500 persons have been killed and 2,000 injured, and that 20,000 peasants are homeless in those districts alone. This week's quake is the worst since that of 1859.

The zone of destruction extends to the Soviet Republic of Armenia and to Persia.

While no definite estimation of the amount of damage has been made, it is certain to run well over $1,000,000.

It is reported that only 110 persons have been killed, several hundred injured and four villages completely destroyed in the district around the Armenian city of Gerysay, a copper mining and smelting centre some 175 miles west of Baku. The destruction is equally general in other scattered mountain villages, 40 per cent of which are reported destroyed.

A severe electric cloudburst followed the shocks, completing the destruction of food, clothing, supplies and other property, and adding to the misery of the victims.

Armenian officials, including the Gay-Pay-Oo, placed in charge of relief by the Soviet Union, are appropriating $500,000 and shipping 100 tons of provisions to Baku.

FOUR PRIESTS KIDNAPPED

FOOCHOW, China, April 30 (AP).—Four Catholic priests, kidnapped last week near here, are being held at Fengting. Negotiations for their release thus far have failed.

ART CIRCLES SHOCKED BY DISCOVERIES

Royal Academy Finds Three Paintings, Already Hung, Were Faked

ACCEPTED WORK OF BOY IS MERELY COPY

Reginald Eves, Noted Portraitist, Turned Down in Election of Associates

By NEOLEY FARSON
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

LONDON, April 30.—One of the greatest sensations in the history of the Royal Academy has followed the revelation that three pictures, the work of a world-famous portraitist, and already hung in this year's academy, are merely photographs painted over.

The second shock was the discovery that the accepted work of a surprising sixteen-year-old boy "find" is merely a copy from an illustrated book preface "On Board the Hispaniola," from Stevenson's "Treasure Island."

The portraitist is Reginald Eves, fifty-five years old, whose sitters include the Prince of Wales, the Queen of Spain, Stanley Baldwin and Thomas Hardy. He had submitted three architectural scenes, two of London and one of Venice.

MAKE RISCOVERY

The discovery that they had a photographic base was made at the Royal Academy meeting on Friday, when the Academy was discussing the election of new "associates," its most coveted honor. Mr. Eves was turned down at the elections, after members of the Academy had become suspicious of the mechanical perfection and amazing precision of the three canvasses and had actually peeled off the oil with a knife, discovering a faint photographic impression below.

Some sections of the canvas were hardly touched with oil at all. The pictures were returned to Mr. Eves, who is now making explanations and apologies.

Pressed for time by overwork in Venice, he says, he got writer's cramp and, afraid or unable to finish them, came to London and had the scenes photographed and the photos transposed and sensitized on the canvas. Mr. Ewes admits that the Academy was right in its rejection. He is sorry that he submitted the works and asserts that he did not intend to do so at the outset.

DRIVER KILLED AS DYNAMITE EXPLODES IN HIS AUTOMOBILE

RICHMOND, Cal., April 30 (AP). Dwight Hutchinson, wealthy contractor of Alamo, was killed near here today when ten sticks of dynamite exploded in his automobile. He was transporting the explosive to a construction project. The car dived over a 400-foot embankment and burst into flames.

Parents Will Pay Less on Textbooks Under New Scheme

List of School Books Authorized for New Term Is Little Changed—Price Reduction of 30 Per Cent Is Indicated

PLANS for the operation of the Provincial Textbook Bureau, through the medium of which reductions between 30 and 40 per cent in the cost of school books will be handed on to benefit British Columbia parents, were announced by Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, yesterday. The province has already on order books for the next school year, to start in September; and the corrected list of authorized works for all grades in the public and high schools was released yesterday, involving few changes.

Through arrangement with the booksellers, the province, it is anticipated, will do most of the ordering of the books. These will be distributed to the booksellers in the province at a figure 15 per cent less than the set price of each work to the public. Stationers may order their own supplies independently of the province, but the public is assured that each and every work will be made available at a set price, ranging between 30 and 40 per cent lower than that paid heretofore.

SAVINGS POSSIBLE

This reduction, it is explained, will become possible through the guarantee retailers will receive from the Government that all authorized books ordered from the bureau and left unsold will be rebated. Elimination of this, the greatest loss in the textbook business, combined with pooled freight charges and other savings possible under the plan, will combine to permit material reductions in the prices to be paid by parents for the books necessary to their children.

Another feature of the plan, Mr. Hinchliffe stated, was that uniform prices would prevail throughout the province. Any particular work will cost the same in the northern parts of the province as in Vancouver or Victoria. If parents cannot obtain the books from the stores at the fixed price agreed upon, they will be able to receive them from the bureau at that figure, post paid.

ARE READY FOR DEMONSTRATION

New York Police Prepared for Possible Outbreaks During Communist Celebration

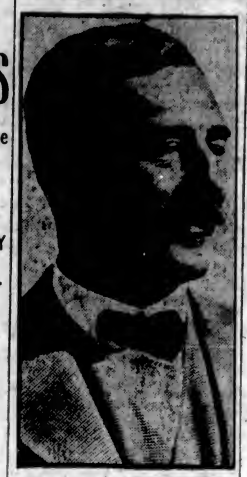
NEW YORK, April 30 (AP).—A Communist demonstration in Wall Street today, prelude to the world-wide observance of May Day tomorrow, was handled by police without difficulty. About five thousand spectators gathered around the nucleus of thirty demonstrators, encouraging them with ironical cheers.

Bits of paper were dropped on the demonstrators from skyscraper windows, and someone hit a policeman on the head with a piece of soap.

Police Commissioner Mulrooney announced special precautionary arrangements against an outburst tomorrow, this duplicating the policy put in effect by police departments in many large cities throughout the world.

In New York every church and public building will be guarded, as well as the homes of prominent citizens. Reserve squads will be mobilized in the vicinity of Union Square, where the Communists have a permit for an open-air meeting.

Will Pay Visit to Canada Today



SIR RONALD LINDSAY

British Ambassador to the United States, will today pay his first visit to Canada in a quarter of a century. A moderately strenuous programme for his ten-day sojourn in the Dominion has been arranged, including a Parliamentary luncheon, which will be tendered in his honor by Premier R. B. Bennett.

ALIEN RIGHTS MAY BE LOST

French Gov't Fears Foreigners in China May Lose Legal Protection

NATIONS DISAGREE ON COURT JURISDICTION

By PAUL SCOTT MOWRER
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

PARIS, France, April 30.—With the approach of the date set by the Chinese Government for the abrogation of extraterritoriality, fears are expressed in French Government circles that foreigners in China may suddenly be deprived of all serious legal protection.

France is willing to see extraterritoriality annulled in principle, but demands the establishment of a transition period, during which civil jurisdiction would be accorded immediately to Chinese courts, but criminal jurisdiction over foreigners would be exercised by mixed courts and extraterritoriality would be maintained in four centres—Shanghai, Tientsin, Hankow and Canton.

VIEWS DIFFER

It is suspected here that the British Labor Government, in negotiations with Chinese Foreign Minister C. T. Wang has showed willingness to limit extraterritoriality to Shanghai alone, and give full criminal jurisdiction also to the Chinese courts, except that foreign advisers would be allowed to be present at trials.

France feels that Chinese justice, despite its new code, has not yet evolved to a state of efficiency and impartiality justifying such concessions and hopes that the United States will share the French rather than the British viewpoint.

BOUNTIES ARE CUT ON BEASTS

Cougars and Wolves Worth Less This Year; Magpies Are Outlawed

Bounties to be paid by the Province for destruction of outlawed birds and animals were set by order-in-council yesterday. The payments on cougars, timber wolves and coyotes will be less this year; but a new bounty is added, at the rate of ten cents a head on magpies.

Applicants must be in possession of a fire arms licence to claim the bounties.

Provision was also made to continue the policy of employing professional marksmen, where necessary, to reduce the numbers of predatory animals in any area.

The bounty on cougars, formerly $40, has been cut to $30; but on timber wolves, reduced from $15 to $5; while the bounty on coyotes shot between May 1 and October 30 is reduced from $7.50 to $5. Otherwise, the bounties will remain as in effect last year.

AVIATORS UNINJURED WHEN PLANE CRASHES; BARN IS SET AFIRE

SEATTLE, April 30 (AP).—A plane fell 200 feet on to the roof of a barn near Kent today, crashed through the roof and set the barn afire, and the two flyers in the plane escaped without injuries.

The two were Mrs. Dwight D. Hartman, president of the Women's Aeronautical Association of Seattle, and Eddie Griffin, pilot for the Coast Air Line. Mrs. Hartman is the wife of a prominent Seattle attorney.

REBELS ARE RETREATING IN MADEIRA

One-Third of Island Is Already in Hands of Portuguese Gov't Troops

GUNBOATS AND PLANES FIRE ON INSURGENTS

Revolters Throw Down Arms in Many Places and Join Loyalist Forces

LISBON, April 30 (AP).—Reports from Funchal, Madeira, to the Portuguese Government late tonight said Government forces had landed on the island and the rebels were retreating into the interior, hotly pursued by the Loyalist troops.

One-third of the island, the Government's report stated, is already in the hands of the expeditionary force and three columns were marching on Funchal, after occupying Sao Vincent, Camara do Lobis and Machico.

The retreating rebels, according to the report, were being harassed by the combined fire from the ships Vasco da Gama and Vouga and from seaplanes flying overhead.

FALL OF FUNCHAL

The rebels threw down their arms in many places, it was stated, and joined the Government forces. The Government was assured the fall of Funchal was considered certain and that the Loyalist troops had already reached the outskirts of the city.

The rebels, the Government said, had abandoned their positions on the heights around Funchal, which formed the nucleus of their resistance.

BANDIT GIVEN TWENTY YEARS

One of Most Severe Warnings Against Gun-Play in Montreal Is Delivered

MONTREAL, April 30 (CP).—One of the stiffest warnings against gun-play in the history of the city was given by Judge Lacroix today in sentencing Leo Cote, alias Quellette, to twenty years in penitentiary for shooting Leon Pettigrew, a taxi-driver.

The judge declared he was empowered to award life sentences and was determined to do so in similar cases, unless a crime wave now passing over Montreal showed signs of abating.

Cote, who was convicted of shooting Pettigrew three times, was arrested following a gun fight with Constable Lacombe. Cote was severely wounded by the policeman and is still suffering effects of the bullets.

He was convicted on two charges, receiving twenty years on a charge of attempted armed robbery and seven years on a charge of wounding Pettigrew. The sentences will run concurrently.

The taxi-driver recovered.

Ocean Travel Costs May Be Cut Severely

PARIS, April 30 (AP).—A drastic cut in the cost of transatlantic travel was understood today to have been proposed by British shipping interests at a rate conference meeting at the Hotel Astoria, Paris.

The British proposal was said to amount to a 10 per cent reduction in first and cabin class ocean fares and establishment of a $100 steerage rate for the round trip between Europe and the United States and vice versa.

May Devise Plan To Halt Attempt To Recall Mayor

SEATTLE, April 30 (AP).—Forty clerks were checking signatures today on petitions for an election to recall Mayor Frank Edwards. It was estimated 5,000 of the nearly 24,000 signatures would be checked by tonight. To be valid, signatures must be those of qualified voters.

Thomas J. L. Kennedy, attorney for the Mayor, conferred with the executive to devise a plan to halt the attempted recall.

Former Boy King Of Rumania Ill With Diphtheria

BUCHAREST, April 30 (AP).—Crown Prince Michael, former boy King of Rumania, was ill with diphtheria today. He was running a high temperature. Two injections of serum were administered by physicians. Michael was suffering considerable pain, and it was said that considerable anxiety must continue for some time.

Hon. H. H. Stevens Sees Big Increase in Wheat Exportations to France

French Demand Forces Greater Proportion of Foreign Wheat Which May Be Mixed by Millers With Domestic Grain—Canadian Product Favored for Strengthening Purposes

Imports From Dominion For First Two Months of Year Show Gain

OTTAWA, April 30 (CP).—Increase from 10 to 25 per cent in the proportion of foreign wheat which may be mixed by French millers with domestic grain is welcome news to Canadian holders of wheat.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, last night expressed the view that the change will mean a large increase in exports of Canadian wheat to France.

Domestic stocks of wheat in France of sufficient specific weight are decreasing steadily, requiring increasing use of wheat of high gluten content for mixing. As the condition becomes more marked there is a greater demand among millers for Manitobas, which are generally considered as most effective for strengthening purposes.

TRADE SHOWS GAIN

French imports of the Dominion's wheat in the first two months of 1931 were nearly twice as much as in the months of November and December of last year and seven times as much as during the first two months of 1930.

France's imports of Canadian wheat in November last totaled 1,343,030 bushels; December, 1,330,884 bushels; January, 2,474,461 bushels, and February, 2,683,633. The figures are all much higher than for the corresponding months a year ago.

Eighty-Five New Homes Being Built To Date This Year

PERMITS for eighty-five new homes were issued by the municipalities of Victoria and Oak Bay during the four months ending April 30, of which thirty-eight were issued for construction in the Capital City and forty-seven for Oak Bay.

The total of building permits value for the four months for Greater Victoria, which includes the municipalities of Victoria City, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt, amounted to $744,358, divided as follows: Victoria, $308,962; Oak Bay, $318,140; Saanich, $99,621, and Esquimalt, $17,635.

Figures for April only are as follows: Victoria City, $96,910; Oak Bay, $51,225; Saanich, $15,184, and Esquimalt, $9,475, making a total for Greater Victoria of $172,794.

FORTY-FIVE LOSE LIVES

Naval Laboratory Plant in Brazil Is Wrecked by Terrific Explosion

SCORES OF INJURED TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 30 (AP).—Firemen and police tonight were searching the ruins of the plant of the Naval Laboratory at Nietheroy, where forty-five persons were killed and seventy injured in a terrific explosion today.

Approximately 400 persons were working in the two buildings destroyed, and it was feared many more bodies will be found.

The local press estimated the casualties at from 150 to 200.

The cause of the explosion was not determined.

Rescue squads hurried to the scene of the accident immediately after the blast, which was heard for miles. The hospital at Nietheroy was soon filled with the injured, and others were brought across the bay to Rio de Janeiro in launches.

Authorities started an investigation.

EARTHQUAKE IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, April 30 (AP).—An earthquake shook Ciudad Branos, in the State of Guerrero, but no damage was reported.

May Head Toronto University

REV. CANON H. J. CODY

of Toronto, will be the next president of the University of Toronto, succeeding Sir Robert Falconer, whose retirement takes effect in June, 1932. It is understood Canon Cody is chairman of the board of governors of the University and rector of St. Paul's Anglican Church in Toronto.

Theatre Clerks Are Robbed En Route to Bank

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP).—Two theatre ticket agency clerks, en route to a bank, were held up today by a trio of gunmen, just off Broadway in Forty-Third Street, and robbed of $1,639.50 in cash and $735 in cheques.

Committed for Trial

VANCOUVER, April 30.—Charged with attempting to murder his wife, Edith Drew, on the night of March 28, A. E. Drew, street car conductor, was committed by Magistrate H. C. Shaw for trial after preliminary hearing in police court today.

Mrs. Drew was shot in the head while in the garage with her husband at the rear of their home. She lost the sight of her left eye.

Conservatives Gain Seat From Labor in Ashton-Under-Lyne

Mosley Candidate Splits Vote and Comes Poor Third—Crowd Indignant at Millionaire Socialist for Interfering in Contest

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE, England, April 30 (AP).—Conservatives won a seat from Labor in the by-election here today, Lieut.-Col. J. Broadbent, Conservative, defeating J. Gordon, Labor, and A. Young, candidate of Sir Oswald Mosley's new party.

It was the first by-election in which a candidate of the Mosley party had contested a seat in the House of Commons.

The Conservative candidate defeated his Labor opponent by a substantial majority, while the Mosley standard bearer came in a poor third.

Facing a hooting and jeering mob, Sir Oswald Mosley, brilliant young Socialist leader, tonight outbraved the bravest of them, and figuratively snapped his fingers in the faces of more than 1,000 disgruntled electors.

DIVIDED VOTERS

The demonstration came shortly after the result of the by-election in this constituency was announced. Lieutenant-Colonel J. Broadbent, Conservative, won the seat from J. Gordon, Labor, and A. Young, Mosley's new party candidate—but had it not been for the Mosley candidate, it appears Labor would have won the seat.

TO ARRIVE IN OTTAWA TODAY

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British Ambassador to U.S., Will Visit Dominion

WASHINGTON, April 30 (CP).—Sir Ronald Lindsay, British Ambassador to the United States, left here this afternoon for his first visit to Canada in twenty-five years. When Earl Grey was Governor-General and Sir Ronald was a junior secretary of the Embassy here, he used to go to Ottawa for vacations to stay with his cousins at Rideau Hall, where there was skiing in the wintertime and tennis in the Summer. Sir Ronald still plays tennis.

Smoking a cigarette in a long black holder, Sir Ronald stepped aboard his train looking as fit a man of six-foot-four as he did when, two years ago, he came off the Aquitania at New York to represent His Majesty in the United States.

The programme for this ten-day visit to Canada is moderately strenuous. He will address the Canadian Club in Montreal and the Empire and Canadian Clubs in Toronto. In Ottawa, where he will be the guest of Sir William Clark, he will attend a state dinner to Prince Takamatsu of Japan, and will be entertained by Premier R. B. Bennett at a Parliamentary luncheon.

SIR JAMES MELVILLE SUCCUMBS IN LONDON

LONDON, April 30 (AP). — Sir James Melville, Solicitor-General under the Labor Government until last October, when he resigned in ill health, died here tonight.

He was one of the first lawyers to join the Labor party, and had always been very active in its interest.

Sir James' father was a noted detective-inspector who frequently had charge of secret service detail guarding King Edward VII on public occasions.

His death causes a parliamentary vacancy in Gateshead.

LEAVES CASTLE FOR OUTDOORS

King George Deserts Royal Apartments for First Time Since His Illness

WINDSOR, Eng., April 30 (AP). —The King emerged from Windsor Castle today for the first time since announcement of his illness made a month ago. He was accompanied by the Queen on a walk around the grounds of the castle.

They strolled through the park for nearly an hour, the King wearing an overcoat and a bowler hat. At Frogmore, half a mile from the castle, an automobile picked them up and they came back for luncheon.

The King let it be known that he had enjoyed the fresh air and sunshine after his long siege, and it was said that he is making excellent progress toward complete recovery.

The Prince of Wales, who got home only yesterday from South America, was up before noon and away from the castle, for he had a lot of business which had accumulated during his absence. He is staying at York House in London tonight and returning for the week-end.

Rumania's Parliament Dissolved

By EUGENE CRAWFORD
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

VIENNA, April 30. — Within the last twenty-four hours Rumania has made what, in the opinion of many observers, is a definite move toward a regime which may be a dictatorship in fact if not in name; and numbered among these observers is Rumania's former Premier, Julius Maniu, Peasant Party leader.

Immediately after Premier Nicolas Jorga today read King Carol's decree dissolving Parliament and proclaiming new elections, Mr. Maniu, with other members of the Peasant Party, held a caucus in which Mr Maniu is reported to have declared that Professor Jorga had not even made a move to seek the co-operation of the Peasant Party before his bold step.

Mr. Maniu appealed to the country to beware of Professor Jorga and boycott him on election day. Today's session of Parliament, which may become historical as the last democratic one in Rumania for many years, lasted one short hour.

Endorses Proposals

TORONTO, April 30 (CP).—Premier George S. Henry, of Ontario, last night gave his endorsement to proposals outlined by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, for unemployment insurance. Ontario would do its share in endeavoring to better conditions for the working people, he said, when informed that the Prime Minister had announced a scheme to which workers, employers, the Dominion and the Provinces would contribute.

FIRE AT FORT QU'APPELLE

FORT QU'APPELLE, Sask., April 30.—Fire breaking out here at 1:30 this afternoon gutted two store buildings, two small garages and two ice houses, with an estimated loss of $30,000.

Two firemen, Earl Pettis and George Miller, were overcome with smoke.

SAYS FUR FARMING PROGRESSING HERE

S. J. Chisleworth, of Manitoba, who is spending a few days in Victoria inquiring into fur farming, states that the Provincial Government of Manitoba has interested itself greatly in fur farming, and is now arranging to equip an experimental station to encourage the industry and assist the farmers of that province. Mr. Chissleworth expressed his surprise at the progress the fur industry is making on the Coast, and states that farming equipment here is the best he has seen in Canada, and with Victoria's ideal Spring weather the industry should be a great success.

OTTAWA HOUSE VOTES SUPPLY

Public Works Estimates for West Discussed—Criticism Is Heard

OTTAWA, April 30 (CP).—The House of Commons today buckled down and spent a solid day discussing and voting supply. Public Works Department estimates were under consideration, with particular reference to votes for public buildings in Ontario and the West. While there was plenty of criticism from varying angles, fair progress was made.

When the House rose, a total of $2,239,150 had been voted, covering appropriations for the Provinces of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. When adjournment came the House had under consideration the general appropriation of $562,300 for buildings in different parts of the Dominion.

A criticism which was heard repeatedly during the course of the day had to do, not with amounts appearing in the estimates, but with failure of the Government to expend sums provided at the last regular session of Parliament.

OPPOSITION COMPLAINT

Members from the opposition benches drew attention to the estimates for last year, pointing to votes which had been passed, and then informed the House that the work provided for had not been done in a period of unemployment. When the Government found it necessary to call a special session and vote emergency sums, why had not sums already voted been put to work? This was the tenor of the complaint.

Hon. H. A. Stewart, Minister of Public Works, made direct and definite reply to these statements. The mere voting of a sum of money did not bind the Government to the expenditure of that amount, he said. Frequently circumstances developed which made it inadvisable to go on with work for which financial provision had been made. Plans might not prove satisfactory; other conditions might be unfavorable. It was the duty of the Government to use its best wisdom in deciding whether or not to go on with the work.

EMERGENCY VOTE

Referring to the special session and the emergency vote of $20,000,000 for unemployment, Mr. Stewart said that the expenditure of this money had been the means of setting a much larger sum to work. Provinces and municipalities had co-operated with the Dominion in the relief work, each furnishing its proportion of the money used. Not only had the sum been increased by this co-operation, but utilization of the money in such a way as to insure its being used for unemployment relief was insured.

The House, at earlier sitting, approved the public buildings votes in the Maritime Provinces and Quebec.

Broadbent polled 12,420 votes; Gordon, 11,005, and Young, 4,472. Given even two-thirds of Young's vote, which could be normally expected, Gordon would have won the seat by a slight majority. As it was, the split in the Labor vote was too great a handicap for Gordon.

The constituency has ever been a stormy rock in the political sea. Tonight, Sir Oswald, with Gordon and Broadbent, were in the Town Hall waiting for the result. With Mosley were several women. When the result became known, an angry crowd gathered outside.

POLICE GUARD

Gordon was taken out of the building by a side door, under a strong police guard. Mosley, however, went to the front door. He paused at the top of the stairs and gazed defiantly at the raging crowd, which hooted and jeered him.

With hands in his pockets, and a slight smile on his face, Mosley walked slowly down the steps into the street. The crowd rushed around him, but he continued walking slowly.

Police closed around him and escorted him to his hotel headquarters. Despite the turmoil and the threatening appearance of the mob, Mosley refused to move any faster than his slow, nonchalant walk.

OPINIONS DIVIDED

Opinions are sharply and hotly divided as to the justification of Mr. Eves' procedure. His wife claims that Canaletto (or Canale, an Italian painter noted chiefly for his pictures of Venice) used a camera obscura and that a great many famous artists use photographs to remember a certain pose by their pupils, only filling in the major figures.

The modernist, C. W. Nevinson, gleefully declares that the Royal Academy should welcome Mr. Eve's work with open arms, as "the Royal Academy has always set up a photographic standard, and instead of following the tradition of Raphael, carries on the tradition of Raphael Tuck" (a postcard publisher). He says that anyone can see for himself that the academicians must work from photographs, as they are "always painting dead men."

Mr. Nevinson says that Millais made use of a magic lantern to project pictures on canvas and even had a false wall in his studio to conceal the lens.

Sir John Lavy says that he sees no objection to painting over photographic bases—except that it handicaps the artist himself.

EXPLANATION ACCEPTED

John Singer Sargent discovered Eves when the latter was living on ten shillings ($2.50) a week. The Academy is apparently willing to accept the incident as a "lapse of memory" and the explanation that the pictures were sent by mistake. Eves' lifelong ambition to become an associate probably depends on the quality of his future work.

The defenders of the sixteen-year-old boy, Victor Ledger, a sales assistant in a Covent Garden provision market, are chiefly his father and mother, who are prepared to swear that Victor painted the stirring sea scene from imagination—although even the color of the clothing of the two sailors, the waves, the ship deck, spars and rigging are exact replicas.

FUR SALES ARE HIGH AT SEATTLE EXCHANGE

The April fur sale at the Seattle Exchange was well attended, and bidding was exceptionally high on the following fresh furs: Fisher, cross fox, white fox, red fox, lynx and good, dark mink. Although the quality of the furs was only fair, they sold well, with prices that fully equaled the last sale.

Silver and blue fox, muskrat, marten, skunk, ermine and squirrel were in fair demand, with prices about the same as the former sale. Coyote, raccoon, bear and wildcat furs were practically neglected.

Honor New Zealand's High Commissioner

LONDON, April 30 (CP).—Sir Thomas Wilford, New Zealand's High Commissioner to Great Britain, was called to the English Bar last evening. He came to London to assume his new duties last year.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, April 30 (AP).—Members of the Army General Staff expressed the belief today a battle between the Government troops and the rebel army, under General Ferrera, might occur at any moment near Santa Rosa, Copan province, Western Honduras. General Ferrera is being closely pursued by Government troops.

GAELIC POETRY LECTURE THEME

Rev. Bro. Lawless Gives Address at New Education Fellowship Meeting

"Early Gaelic Poets" was the subject of an instructive lecture given last night by Rev. Brother Lawless, principal of St. Louis College, before a well-attended meeting of the New Education Fellowship in the lecture room of Victoria College. It was the final meeting of the season.

The lecture, aside from the historical interest surrounding the early Gaelic poets and the high literary culture of Ireland's earlier days, carried an intimate touch by the manner of its deliverance. Brother Lawless, although he does not style himself a lecturer, gave his hearers a vivid portrayal of the great and loyal endeavor of the Irish to retain their literary traditions. Though beset with obstacles strewn along the path political and retarded through want and poverty, they gave to the world some of its finest works in poetry.

IRISH SCHOOL SYSTEMS

Brother Lawless prefaced his descriptive and biographical remarks on individual poets with a review of the school systems in vogue in Ireland of the ancients. He referred particularly to the monastic and secular systems, the former guided by the church and the latter by the laymen. The secular system became known as the Bardic School, from which the great majority of the higher intellectuals emerged. He described the peculiar method of teaching in the Bardic schools, which were often huts, isolated and secluded from life. In these huts the scholar poets were shut in darkness, furnished with the structure of a poem and left to prepare their work. These schools lasted until the middle of the seventeenth century, when they were forced to close when education of the higher type became more restricted. He referred to the "Courts of Poetry," later formed and presided over by a high sheriff, with meetings held in various places, not infrequently in the local tavern, where poets recited their poems, the themes of which were commonplace and without thought of technique. These courts were scattered and Munster had the majority.

The lecturer, in dealing with the various types of Gaelic poetry, contented himself with reference solely to the Aislinn. The Gaelic language, he said, was admirably fitted for poetry. He described the various changes in literary form from the language of the aristocrats to the language of the poor, when the poets no longer had the ear of the nobility, because there were none.

INDIVIDUAL MASTERS

Of the individual poets, he selected two as outstanding in poetic history of Ireland, Egan O'Rahilly and O'Sullivan. O'Rahilly he described as the first of the Munster poets, whose poems were confined to elegies, satires and lyrics. He was the first to use the harmony of the Gaelic language in poetry. During his praise of the work of O'Rahilly, Brother Lawless read a number of verses of his poetry in English and in Gaelic. O'Rahilly was an aristocrat; lived from hand to mouth, but endeared himself, through his poetry, to the more scholarly of the poets of that day.

O'Sullivan, the darling of the Munster peasantry, was of a different stamp, and came after the great O'Rahilly. He wrote the best poetry between 1770 and 1780, but he came closer to the people. His later life was almost pathetic. Joining the army after quitting his following as a schoolmaster, O'Sullivan, while abroad, pined for his own land, and after several years' service came back. He attempted to resume his teaching career, and founded a small school, but because of his inability to adapt himself, the school came to a speedy end. O'Sullivan took to roaming and contracted the fever. On his deathbed he asked for pen and paper, but the pen fell from his fingers and his last words to the world were spoken: "It is a weak poet that lets the pen slip from his fingers."

Brother Lawless' descriptive passages of his lecture were outstanding, and in many places impressive, especially when dealing with the more intimate and personal side of the early poets. His colorful casting of the roles of the ideals of Irish poets, their birthright, their manner of living, their characters, their accomplishments and their appeals to the people, rich and poor, placed him in the foremost rank of educational entertainers.

B. C. Nicholas, president of the fellowship, mentioned that Brother Lawless is completing his final term as principal of St. Louis College. The thanks of the membership was extended to Brother Lawless by Mr. Nicholas.

States Missions in India Not Menaced By Mahatma Gandhi

C. F. Andrews, Famous Missionary, Declares Nationalist Leader Opposes Tactics of Some Missionaries Combining Proselytism and Social Service

By CARROLL BINDER
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

LONDON, April 30.—Legitimate Christian missions in India are not menaced by Mahatma Gandhi or the Nationalist movement, C. F. Andrews, famous missionary, biographer of Gandhi, and friend of Sir Rabindranath Tagore, told The Chicago Daily News today in an exclusive interview. The Mahatma's remarks on missions have alarmed some churchmen, one bishop even threatening passive resistance against attempts at expulsion from India.

The bearded English missionary, who more than any other living Westerner enjoys Indian friendship and confidence, says that Gandhi merely opposes the tactics of some missionaries combining proselytism and social service. He objects to compulsory Bible instruction in schools and the obligation that applicants for medical attention listen to a sermon before seeing a doctor, according to Mr. Andrews.

NOT ENEMY OF MISSIONS

"Voluntary Bible classes and non-compulsory preaching by nurses and evangelists in hospitals are not condemned by Gandhi, who is not an enemy of missions, as distorted remarks published abroad seem to suggest," Mr. Andrews said. "Any Christian mission carried on with fairness and sincerity will not be condemned by him.

"Resolutions proposed by Gandhi and unanimously adopted at the Karachi Congress last March provide that any new Indian Government shall guarantee by statute absolute religious freedom, and that the state shall favor no particular religion. Under such a constitution it would be impossible to expel any missionary.

"The Karachi resolutions also recognized the equality of the untouchables with everyone else in the eyes of the law and politics, so it is preposterous to suggest that Gandhi would penalize untouchables by withdrawing the Christian missionaries or become a champion of the high caste Hindus.

WARNS CHRISTIANS

"Gandhi, however, warns the Christians against employing unfair methods of proselytism. Every missionary society working in India should scrupulously revise its programme, eliminating everything suggestive of compulsion to get people to become Christians."

Mr. Andrews contemplates another visit to the United States in the Autumn, when he has completed his third book on Gandhi and a volume on religion. He has just returned from South Africa, where he succeeded in blocking Transvaal legislation segregating Indians, which threatened bad blood in India and other parts of the Empire.

Casualties to Vessels Over Five Hundred Tons Shows Big Decrease

NO BRITISH VESSEL LOST DURING MONTH

Total number of casualties to vessels of 500 tons gross register and more, during February of this year, as compiled by the Liverpool Underwriters' Association, was the lowest in four years. The report shows 590 casualties, as compared with 728 in the previous February; 767 in February, 1929, and 675 in the same month of 1928.

Analysis of the accidents shows them due to the following causes: Weather damage, forty-eight; founderings and abandonments, one; strandings, 117; collisions, 191; fires and explosions, twenty-three; damage to machinery, shafts and propellers, seventy-five, and miscellaneous casualties, 135. No carriers were listed as missing.

ALL STEAM DRIVEN

Total losses also showed a marked decrease, both in the number and tonnage of ships affected. Nine ships were lost during the month, totaling 23,838 tons, as compared with eleven ships aggregating 33,425 gross tons lost in the previous February and twenty vessels totaling 54,396 gross tons lost in February, 1929. All of the craft totally lost were steam driven.

Of the vessels lost, two each were from Greece and Japan, and one each from Finland, Germany, Italy, Spain and Turkey. No American or British ships were lost during the month.

GREEK SHIP LARGEST

The largest ship lost during the month was the Greek steamer Captain Rokos (ex-Carina), 5,486 gross tons, belonging to Georgios Vergottis of Argostoli. The Captain Rokos, of steel construction and built in 1907, was wrecked at Virgin Gorda (18-31N, 64-18W), while en route from Rio Grande and St. Lucia to Philadelphia with a cargo of bones.

The second largest vessel lost was the Japanese steamer Chofuku Maru (ex-Pendragon Castle), 4,498 gross tons, belonging to the Kawasaki Kisen K.K. of Kobe. The Chofuku Maru, of steel construction and built in 1908, was wrecked near Point Cloates (22-42S, 113-41E), while en route from Fremantle to Shanghai with a cargo of wheat.

NATIONAL SOCIALIST LEADER IS SENTENCED

BERLIN, April 30 (AP).—Paul Joseph Goebbels, National Socialist leader who was brought here from Munich for trial, was sentenced yesterday to serve fifty days in jail or to pay a fine of 1,000 marks on a charge of insulting the Republican Government by articles published in his paper, Angriff.

A second sentence of one month's imprisonment and a fine of 1,500 marks was imposed upon Goebbels in another court.

Prepayments of 1931 Taxes Now Total $324,542

TAX prepayments on Victoria's 1931 levy reached the high figure of $324,542.44 for the four months of the year ending April 30, according to figures given out by City Treasurer Edwin C. Smith yesterday. The amount earned by ratepayers in interest rebate totaled $12,555.05.

In the four months of 1930 ratepayers paid into the treasury the sum of $327,108.11, but of that amount $35,345.61 was paid in full as tax bills were rendered during April. Less the amount paid in full, the prepayments for the four months of last year only reached a total of $291,762.50.

The total tax levy for 1931 is given as $1,815,851.90, as compared with $1,726,419.33 for 1930.

SPRAY LEAVES FOR ECHO BAY

Victoria Pile Driving Company Loses No Time in Starting Contract

Towing the piledriver McCrary No. 2 and a large float required in the construction of the pier at Echo Bay, Newcastle Island, the tug Spray, of the Victoria Tug Boat Company, left the harbor shortly before 10 o'clock last night for the scene of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's proposed picnic and bathing resort.

Receiving the contract yesterday, the Victoria Pile Driving Company is losing no time in starting the work. The McCrary No. 2 is the most modern pile-driving plant on the Coast, and has accommodation for eight men. After reaching Echo Bay and delivering the tow there, the Victoria Tug Company will freight the creosoted piling for the pier from Vancouver some time today.

DECREASE IN ALL TONNAGE

Shipyards of World Constructing Fewer Vessels of All Types

FRANCE ONLY COUNTRY TO SHOW SMALL GAIN

Volume of merchant shipbuilding throughout the world for the quarter ended March 31, showed a decline of 325,000 tons from the December 31 total and reached the lowest figure recorded in the past four years, according to returns received by Lloyd's Register of Shipping from all maritime countries with the exception of Russia, for which no figures are available. Two-thirds of the decline is accounted for by the falling-off of work in the British and Irish shipyards. Germany also shows a marked decrease. Holland and Japan also show heavy losses. The United States showed only a slight loss, while France shows a gain of 60,000 tons.

Fourteen vessels, each of 20,000 gross tons or more, are now being constructed, Lloyd's Register reports. Six of these are being built in Great Britain and Ireland, three each in the United States and France, and two in Italy.

GAP LESSENED

Just before the Great War, it is pointed out, Great Britain and Ireland were building considerably more merchant tonnage than all other countries, combined, and 1,575,000 gross tons more than the United States. At the beginning of the current year, however, the gap had been lessened to 675,000 tons, and is now only about 440,000 tons. At the end of June, 1914, Great Britain and Ireland were constructing 430,000 gross tons more than all the other, excluding the United States. At present, however, these same countries are building 382,000 tons more than Great Britain and Ireland.

Launching of steamers and motorships in the March quarter were 158,000 gross tons in excess of new construction started in the same period last year. A decrease of nearly 150,000 gross tons in tanker construction was shown during the March quarter. The returns deal only with steam and motor tankers of 1,000 gross tons and upward. Of the total of this type of tonnage now being built, 663,122 gross tons are motor tankers.

LOSING FAVOR

An outstanding feature of the returns is a decrease of 285,000 tons in new vessels to be equipped with internal combustion engines, as against a decline of only 40,000 tons in vessels of all other types. At the beginning of the year motorship construction exceeded that of all other types by 340,000 gross tons, but at the end of March the motorship lead was reduced to 95,000 tons. The motorship total was 1,047,146 tons, as against 952,720 tons for all other types.

The total indicated horsepower of oil engines being built or installed at the end of March last is given as 873,680 i.h.p., as against 1,051,682 at the beginning of this year. For steam turbines the world total fell from 1,062,825 s.h.p. to 987,260. The indicated horsepower of reciprocating steam engines for all countries decreased during the quarter from 279,575 i.h.p. to 200,965.

ALL EUROPE STRUGGLING FOR MARKETS

BRITAIN DEMANDS REDUCED TARIFFS

Central Powers Negotiate New Alignment on Exchange Basis

By A. R. DECKER
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

PARIS, April 30.—Europe has passed its rehabilitation stage and is now so far reconstructed that it is striving for foreign markets to take its surplus goods.

Following the World War, tariff barriers were made higher and restrictions on trade were tightened to encourage home production. Each country, especially the newly-created Central European states, tried to be self-sufficing. Factories were erected, fields were replanted and production was stimulated by bonuses and subventions, with artificially high internal prices.

Now internal production has surpassed Europe's needs, while the outlet in foreign trade is blocked by tariffs and restrictions.

Most Governments realize that the only way to get the 15,000,000 or 20,000,000 idle workers into productive employment again is to foster trade. It is recognized that barriers must be lowered and restrictions removed.

GREAT JOCKEYING

Statesmen feel that they are at the beginning of an era of trade readjustments and are jockeying for position so that when the race begins they will not be left behind.

Great Britain is pushing for a trade treaty with France. Great Britain, traditionally a free trade country, is threatening to turn to protection unless other countries lower their tariffs.

Several weeks ago Great Britain addressed notes to several European powers asking for a 25 per cent reduction on about 500 articles. Industries, particularly French textile, are protesting and demanding the maintenance of the present high protection.

Also, in Geneva during the conference to attempt to reach a customs armistice, the British, who fostered the movement, said that unless the trend toward tariff increase in Europe halted, the British would have to resort to protection.

Already the British have succeeded in incorporating a certain amount of tariff privileges within the British Empire, so that Americans will find it profitable to construct factories in Great Britain and Canada. Indeed, the British hope in the last resort perhaps to oppose the German "Mittel Europa" and the French Little Entente combinations with a British Empire trade association.

DRAMATIC THREATS

The Germans and Austrians, in a dramatic manner by their threats of a customs union, have made sure their position in the race for trade arrangements.

Austria has already arranged with Hungary to adopt a system of Government bonuses for exports or for local industries affected by imports from the other country. Banks or central monopolies will see that there is an exchange of goods.

The French want favorable customs treaties, primarily with the United States, then with Great Britain and then with its Central European friends and allies, mostly for political reasons.

In Central Europe, France and Germany are rivals politically first, then commercially. Germany is tempting Austria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania and Jugoslavia by offers to exchange manufactured goods for farm products. France is offering to finance farmers through the Geneva Farm Mortgage Bank now being organized.

FRANCE MAKES OFFERS

Recently France reduced from 90 to 80 per cent the amount of native wheat required by law to be used in making flour. This makes it possible for France also to offer to take more Danube grain, and it is thought that France will purchase more corn from the Danube states. France has arranged special privileges with Czechoslovakia as regards the exchange of French automobiles for Czech knit goods.

French loans to Poland, Rumania and Jugoslavia carry trade agreements providing for ways to circumvent the most favored nation clause.

This year will see a galaxy of trade discussions in Geneva, Vienna, Paris and London. Already various Governments have prepared their campaigns for what promises to be a tremendous struggle for world trade.

"Freddie," said teacher, "give me a sentence using the word 'diadem.'"

Freddie overheard certain remarks at home, and out of his subconscious store of worldly wisdom he drew this reply:

MAKE READY FOR TRAINING SEASON

VANCOUVER, April 30 (CP).—Two Royal Canadian Air Force officers will arrive in Vancouver shortly to assist Squadron-Leader Earl Macleod during the Spring training season, which will open shortly at the Jericho Beach station.

They are Flight-Lieutenant A. Deniverville, of Ottawa, who will become adjutant of the station, and Flying Officer G. B. Holmes, also of Ottawa. Both will be pilot instructors.

Squadron-Leader Macleod and Flying Officer Forbes served together in the Royal Air Force at Calshot during the war, and the latter's appointment to Vancouver will cause quite a reunion. He will be here next week, and Deniverville will arrive in about ten days.

All eighteen training machines have been overhauled in preparation for coming of the first group of pilots, who will arrive from Camp Borden early in May.

FIRST FRUITS OF PROTECTION

A year ago Canada was importing tremendous quantities of butter and rapidly depleting her herds of cattle. Imagine the anomaly of such a situation as that, of a country like Canada, whose resources are chiefly agricultural still, although tremendous developments have taken place in many other industries, importing even a single pound of butter or of any other products of her dairies. If there is a single industry which is primarily and potentially a home industry, it is the agricultural industry of Canada. Obviously, like the state of Denmark, there was something rotten in the state of Canada, and it was time something were done about it. Something was done about it, and the production of butter in Canada has literally increased by leaps and bounds. Today Canada is not only producing sufficient butter for her own requirements, but presently will be in the position of a butter-exporting country. A home industry which was languishing has been restored to its former position in the matter of production. That would appear to be a matter for congratulation considering the conditions in some other departments of agriculture. But there are certain critics who say the restoration of the butter industry is not a matter for congratulation but a matter for lamentation. Adequate protection of the home market has wrought this marvelous resurrection, and we trust is an example of what may be accomplished in other industries by protecting and developing the home markets. And there are signs throughout Canada that that is the very thing which is being accomplished.

ALL SOUND AND FURY

No one can read reports of the proceedings in the Canadian House of Commons these mornings without thinking of what takes place at certain seasons of the year in the shadow of the Wailing Wall in Jerusalem. For close upon six weeks Parliament has been sitting and the unfortunate members have been compelled to listen to the woes and lamentations of an opposition embittered by the thought of the loss of an election. Elections have been lost before in Canada, but there was never a political party in the history of Canada except the party led by Mr. William Lyon Mackenzie King which did not accept defeat with a certain amount of grace and a certain quality of philosophy—not to mention a corresponding degree of sportamanship.

For close upon six weeks Parliament has been sitting and has accomplished practically nothing at all in the way of business. With the exception of one important speech and a few less important speeches by the Prime Minister, the leader of the opposition and his followers have done virtually all the talking. Mr. King spoke for about four hours, and his followers spoke as long as they were permitted to talk under the rules of the House. The leader of course did nothing in the course of his speech but denounce the Government and laud his government. The followers all followed the example of the leader and denounced the government.

The next opportunity for unlimited talk and bitter denunciation will come after the delivery of the Budget Speech of the Finance Minister. Then there will be another deluge of talk, notable chiefly for its dearth of constructive suggestion or modicum of reason. The Ottawa Journal, which is published almost within the shadow of the Federal Parliament Buildings, thus expresses its views of the proceedings:

"For this country is sick and weary, or ought to be, of mean, petty, opportunist politics; sick of chameleons in public life; sick of timid, grovelling politicians, afraid of their political shadows. Mr. Bennett may make mistakes, may sometimes invite criticism; his courage is a guarantee that he will never invite contempt. That courage, indeed, the patent fact that he is his own master, ought to cover a multitude of sins."

TOPSY-TURVY IDEALS

A medical practitioner who has abandoned his profession, at least temporarily, to practise in politics, has asked the Dominion Parliament to adopt an act for nationalization of the medical profession. The doctor, in making his modest request, was not acting in the interests of the gentlemen of his learned profession. Not at all. He was acting in the interests of the common people. He says the cost of sickness and the cost of dying have become so high that practically no people but the wealthy can carry the grievous load. So he wants the burden to be borne proportionately by all the people.

If there are any gentlemen of the undertaking profession (or perhaps we should say of the mortuary profession) in the House, we suppose there will be a demand for the nationalization of that profession. The professions of the medical men and of the morticians may not be in close association with one another, but at least in many cases the one follows the other, and if the morticians were to make such a demand it could not logically be resisted. Besides there is a current belief that the cost of sickness and the cost of death also have become too grievous for the living to bear, and that something should be done about them. Take the burden off the backs of the individuals and load it upon the back of the community.

If there are any gentlemen of the newspaper profession in the House of Commons, we trust they are making notes of the trend of all this class or Communistic legislation. If there should crop up a demand for nationalization of the newspaper business, we shall not utter a word of protest against the important and interesting proposition. We have often been asked why it is that the cost of newspapers is higher in this part of the world than it is in some other parts of it. There are obvious reasons for this unfortunate state of affairs, but when we have tried to explain them our explanation has been greeted with a laugh of scorn. If the newspapers were nationalized, the burden of buying them would be equally apportioned throughout the community, but if such a reform were adopted it should be coupled with a rider to the effect that everybody should be compelled to read the newspapers and to believe every word printed in them.

Of course such reforms as those proposed would necessitate further broadening of the basis of taxation, and that base is already almost as broad as the earth, according to the hypothesis of the noted fundamentalist, Wilbur Glen Voliva, who made a trip around the world and declared that he had proved this earthly sphere to be as flat as a pancake.

As our representatives in the Legislature have told us in really interesting and informative speeches, if the people demand things and insist upon having them, we must be prepared to pay the price. That is to say, if the people want to dance, they must pay the piper. There is an erroneous impression in the public mind that governments have unlimited funds of money at their disposition; that all Finance Ministers are conjurors like Mr. Philip Snowden, and can shake money out of their hats. But Finance Ministers know, and our representatives understand, that no custodian of public funds is a magician; that if there is any money in the hat of the conjuror it must have been put there by somebody and must have been collected from somebody before it was put there. The Government of Australia, a country which has been reduced to a state of bankruptcy because it could not say no to a general demand for social and other services, purposes making money out of paper, but the value of paper money depends upon the credit that is behind it. In this country we cannot resort to such extreme measures. Consequently, as we hope for the salvation of our country, leaders of public opinion must be prepared to follow the example of the Prime Minister of Canada, who has had the courage to say no to many important demands for so-called social services.

Not so very long ago labor was considered of more importance to the world than leisure. Today the position seems to be reversed. The value of a man is no longer estimated according to that man's capacity for labor and the sum of his production, but according to the manner in which he spends his leisure hours. Formerly workmen were instructed in the mysteries or the arts of their trade. Presently men will be listening to lectures by experts in the art of doing nothing. There are some men who never needed instruction in the art of doing as little as possible in the longest time possible. And still we wonder at the economic troubles of the times.

The Conservatives have won another by-election in England. The Socialists are losing seats with a monotony which must seem painful to Mr. MacDonald and ominous to the ambitions of Mr. George. The candidate of the new party, although strongly supported by the newspapers of My Lord Rothermere, was practically left at the post. The Liberal task of keeping a discredited government in power is steadily increasing in difficulty.

The wise man who exhorted the people to live and learn did not allow for the unwillingness of the people to learn or the incapacity of the people for learning. One of the peculiarities of modern times is an apparent belief that all the ills business is heir to can be cured by legislation, while the truth has been established that ill-conceived legislation too often merely increases the complications of business diseases.

PEACE

This is the peace I prayed for. Little days—
Little tasks crowding on each other's heels—
Calm little pleasures, topped with measured praise,
No more unrest—no agony that steals
Out of sheer joy and tears the heart in two.
This, then, is what I prayed for. I was wrong.
Peace was not meant for me. I never knew
That quiet nights could be so long—so long!

Have you forgotten the tang of salty spray,
Or do you love the breath of upturned turf?

FORESTS ARE GREAT ASSET

Hon. N. S. Lougheed Tells Rotarians Situation of Timber Resources

MINISTER FAVORS TRADE EXTENSION

Viewing the future, as far as the timber business is concerned, with a spirit of optimism, Hon. N. S. Lougheed feels that there must be business methods employed, however, if the Province of British Columbia is to reap the full benefit from its forest resources. Speaking before the Rotary Club, yesterday, at the Empress Hotel, the Minister of Lands advocated a policy of conservation with respect to the forests. This would include the substitution, wherever practical, of hemlock, cedar and spruce for Douglas fir, which was so popular; the reforestation of lands being cleared of its timber; and the extension of the markets of the world in the matter of British Columbia timber.

The latter is something of which Mr. Lougheed is very hopeful, and in his address he stated that the trade with Australia, as a result of the mission which went there, had doubled. The trade with Great Great Britain had also increased, and he expressed his determination as minister of the department to see that every facility was afforded for further increasing the trade.

MUST CONSERVE

Without conservation methods, Mr. Lougheed feared that within fifteen or twenty years the mature stands of Douglas fir in the province would be exhausted. The demand for this timber throughout the world was due to the fact that it could not be supplied from elsewhere than the Pacific Coast, and there was an insistent demand for it. This had grown up shortly after the voyages of Cook, Quadra and Vancouver to this coast.

The minister said that he had discovered that the first of the trade dated back to a time when a schooner manned by Orkney Islanders came to Nootka Sound to get a cargo of cod. They discovered that the Spaniards had "beaten them to it," and taken the supplies, so they loaded up with a cargo of Douglas fir spars, which they took to Great Britatin. Thus originated the demand for the timber.

COAST SITUATION

The minister took as an example of the situation in the province as far as timber was concerned, the Vancouver forest district, which included the Lower Mainland as far north as Seymour Inlet, the Gulf Islands and Vancouver Island. This contained the greater part of the Douglas fir area of the province. A survey had been completed of this, and he stated there were 5,663,000 acres of mature timber in the area. This contained an estmated 130,000,000M feet of sawlogs, and, in addition, 862,000 acres of restocking young growth, much of which is already twenty to forty feet high. There are 736,000 acres of recent burns or logged areas, where the new growth has not yet been established. There were planted last year year 69,000 seedlings, and it was proposed to plant some 1,000,000 seedlings next year. This would bring up the planted areas to 9,000,000 seedlings.

The nature of the mature timber stands was given by the minister for the Vancouver forest district and also for Vancouver Island itself as follows:

Vancouver F. Dist.		Vansouver Is.
41,000,000M	Douglas Fir	32,079,200M
35,000,000M	Hemlock	27,566,000M
35,000,000M	Cedar	20,760,400M
13,000,000M	White Fir	10,203,100M
3,000,000M	Spruce	2,198,800M
3,000,000M	Other species	1,669,100M

These figures, he said represented the total stand. In logging under present methods there would have to be reduction by about 25 or 30 per cent owing to inaccessibility of a part of the stand on the mountain sides.

DOUGLAS FIR FAVORED

Mr. Lougheed then gave the figures as to the annual cut according to the species, which was as follows: Douglas fir, 1,250,000 M.; cedar, 450,000 M.; hemlock, 290,000 M.; white fir, 60,000 M.; spruce, 40,000 M.

"These figures show very clearly the extent to which we are overcutting our Douglas fir as compared with hemlock; that the present mature stands of Douglas fir will be exhausted in about twenty years; that cedar will last for fifty to sixty years, and hemlock ninety to one hundred years," said Mr. Lougheed. "The cutting of second-growth stands will extend these periods considerably; but, here again, because of the short period before the exhaustion of Douglas fir, the second-growth will be a minor factor.

MINSCONCEPTION EXISTS

"In considering the question of the annual growth, I would like to take this opportunity of correcting a misconception. It has been stated that the growth in the province is 5,000,000 M. feet per year and, since we are cutting less than this amount, therefore there is no fear of the future. Any annual increase is to be found only on those areas of young stands that have come up after fire or logging, which in the Vancouver district are shown to be 862,000 acres. The yield on our Coast stands varies with soil and climate, exceeding 1,000 feet per year on the rich river lands, but probably less than 100 feet on the rocky mountain sides near timber line. If, for argument's sake, we adopt 500 board-feet per acre for the average of the 800,000 acres, we have an annual increase of 400,000 M. for the district, or only one-fifth of the amount cut. Moreover, as these young stands contain about the same percentage of species as the original stand, the annual increment of Douglas fir is only 133,000 M., or one-tenth of the annual cut. It is quite true that, when the whole forest area on the Coast, 7,300,000 acres, is brought under young growing forest, the cut could be increased to something like 3,000,000 M., or in excess of what we are now cutting.

MISLEADING INFORMATION

"The figure 5,000,000 M.B.M. of annual growth that has been cited by the Commission of Conservation, is attributed largely to the Interior, where they estimate approximately 60,000,000 acres of land containing young stands of timber. Much of this, however, is remote from transportation, and the forests are largely comprised of lodgepole pine, a small tree suitable for lumber and pulp, but at present almost unknown in the timber trade, except for railway ties and for local consumption, the total cut being only 30,000 to 50,000 M.B.M. per year.

"Now, let us look at the market situation, and I will take the British market as an example. Great Britain requires to import each year some 4,000,000 M.B.M. of timber. Most of this in the past has come from the Baltic countries and Russia. Two species, Scotch pine and spruce, have made up the major portion of the imports. These trees are small, more comparable with out mountain pine and spruce than with our Coast species. In fact, these countries, especially Finland, have been importing lodgepole pine seed to plant in the belief that it will produce a faster-growing, better lumber than the native species. The average size of the trees is twelve to thirteen inches in diameter, and the average log diameter at Swedish mills is about eight inches. The lumber produced is a small, tight-knotted deal, or dimension stock, comparable with our No. 1 and No. 2 common. Little or no large dimension stock or clears are available.

"In strength, weight, working and finishing qualities, our so-called inferior species and common grades of Douglas fir will compare favorably with these woods, and the normal price quoted c.i.f. is sufficient to allow freight and still leave a margin over operating cost.

RUSSIAN PROBLEM

"It is true that Russian lumber is now a serious competitor, which is being offered at reduced prices, and there is no doubt that for the time Russia is attempting to push her products in order to receive ready money without consideration of cost. At the same time, the whole basis of Russia's five-year plan is to raise the standard of the masses, and in doing so her own timber needs will be greatly increased. Should the per capita consumption of Russia approach that of her neighbors, she will require some 20,000,000 M.B.M. for local consumption by her 150,000,000 inhabitants.

"Finland and Sweden cannot increase their production. Forest economists in England are apprehensive of their future supplies. English sentiment is growing for trade within the Empire. It therefore seems that the present is an opportune time to place before the British consumer the merits of our various woods, through a trade extension campaign, which is aimed not only for education work, but to remove some of the difficulties of doing business at long range; to simplify the booking of orders, and to obtain satisfactory delivery and rectification of disputes. Results cannot be expected in a day, but I believe a foundation can be laid which will permit of a better distribution of our cut, closer utilization of the forest stand, and a greater stability of our forest industries, on which depend so many of our national activities."

BRITISH TRADE

The minister went on to say that the British trade was £50,000,000, or $250,000,000 a year. This was a field where there might well be expected an increase in the business done.

Mr. Lougheed ponted out that it was important to develop the industry, as there was now in British Columbia $250,000,000 invested in the lumber business. The value of the product was $90,000,000, and there were 40,000 persons employed in the industry. There was paid to the province $4,000,000 a year by the industry in royalties and stumpage. If this asset was to be preserved to the people there was necessary to be carried into effect a system of reforestation, coupled with a policy of trade extension in the commodity produced.

Mr. Lougheed was thanked by the new president of the club, J. Percy Watson, who presided.

RHODA PERPETUA

(In Memoriam)

There is such a tinge of sadness
At the closing of a day,
Though the sunlight hours spelt gladness,
That we idled all away;
For, the twilight marks the ending
Of some sweetly glad day-dreams,
As the sun's last rays, distending,
Tip the hills with rosy beams!

For a rose hath closed its petals,
And a bird sought out its nest,
As a tired Nature settles
Down to take a well-earned rest;
So, with life-work duly finished,
May all sleep and soundly, too,
With out hope no whit diminished,
Till, at last, we rise, anew!

Where the sadness hath departed
From the thoughts we did deplore;
Where true gladness, open-hearted,
Fills our spirits, evermore;
Where no sun sets at day's closing,
For it is Eternal Day;
Just one loving heart reposing,
That shall live and love—for aye!
—Kilbee Gordon.

LULL OBSERVED BY DOUKHOBORS

Isolated Acts of Disrobing and Passive Complaints Are Noted

Barring isolated instnces of members of the fanatical element of the sect appearing disrobed beside the railway tracks in the area, and some muttering over the eviction of the Sons of Freedom from Brilliant, Doukhobor troubles encountered a lull this week, according to reports placed in the hands of the provincial authorities. Despite threats to the contrary, the Sons of Freedom have so far refrained fro 1 any organized attempt to parade in protest.

In addition to schools in the Doukhobor areas, which have been guarded for some time, it has been thought advisable to place a guard on the Slocan Park School, outside the colony, and this has been done.

School Inspector Sheffield and Police Inspector Forbes Cruickshank reported conditions generally quiet at Brilliant and Porto Rico yesterday, with the Doukhobors firming in their intention to turn out the Sons of Freedom at Brilliant.

REQUEST REFUSED

Sir,—Several months ago I sent to Ottawa a petition signed by numerous residents in the vicinity of Blackwood and Marigold, Saanich municipality, asking for postal facilities.

The enclosed reply has come to hand. Would you kindly publish this letter and the answer, so that those who signed the petition will know the result?

HARRY FENSHAM.

Marigold, April 28.

"Ottawa, April 4, 1931.

"Harry L. Fensham, Esq.

Marigold, B.C.

"Dear Sir:

"I am requested by the Honorable the Postmaster-General to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 24th ultimo, in connection with the proposed establishment of rural mail delivery in your vicinity.

"In reply, I am to inform you that this matter was made the subject of inquiry and it was ascertained that a certain section of the road was not in fit condition for the performance of rural mail delivery and in consequence the department is not prepared to establish a route.

"Yours very truly,
"J. T. GOLICAN,

WORK OF S.P.C.A.

Sir,—The annual tag day of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will be held on Saturday, and it is to be hoped that the public will respond generously to the efforts of the society to provide funds for this very worthy object.

A full-time inspector is employed, and, in addition to his salary, the expenses of the office at Room A, Campbell Building, telephone, traveling, printing and secretarial work, brought the total expenditure for the year up to more than $2,000, of which $527.69 was provided by the Brooks Trust, leaving $1,500 to be collected by voluntary subscription, tag day, grants, etc.

Quoting but two matters accomplished by the society since the beginning of the year, the City of Victoria are installing a lethal chamber at their instigation, in which carbon monoxide will be used, this having been proved to be the most humane as well as the safest and surest method of dealing with this matter. The by-law respecting dogs provides that no dog shall be allowed to run at large in public parks unless accompanied by some person in charge and is led by a leash, through the solicitation of the S.P.C.A. a freedom area for dogs has been created, consisting of that portion of Beacon Hill Park, lying south of Dallas Road.

Any contribution, however small, will be gratefully received.

A. R. SHERWOOD,
Secretary-treasurer.

SALVATION ARMY BAND

Sir,—Owing to the serious fire which destroyed the bandroom of the Salvation Army Citadel Band, the band has lost a number of valuable instruments, music and music pouches with straps.

In order that the many friends of the Salvation Army Band may be acquainted with the real position, I am taking this opportunity of stating that we are arranging to borrow instruments and music for the present, but that we shall eventually have to raise $1,500 to replace the lost property of the band.

We thank our many friends for their words of sympathy and feel sure there are many who will respond to the assistance of the organization. As one merchant has said: "We cannot do without the Army Band."

It has been a serious loss to us, but we are looking hopefully forward to a continuation of the service for which our band has been valued so highly by the citizens of Victoria.

The Salvation Army.

Heirlooms of Tomorrow

LOVELY china is one of the few things that will give a lifetime of pleasure and service without losing its original charm. That is why so many women choose a particularly appealing decoration and add to their set over a period of several years. They know that a dinner set of genuine Minton, Wedgwood, Royal Worcester or any of the other famous varieties shown at Weiler's are really destined to become the Heirlooms of Tomorrow. May we show you this vastly interesting display?

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

EXTINCT VOLCANO!

The great hills, rising, form a circle here,
Green-clad and gently sloping from each crest;
Alike the farthest hill and that most near
In April's vivid loveliness are dressed.
Yet once these slopes were one tall mountain's base,
Far, far above uprose its lofty height,
And deep within, a strange and awful place,
Wild fires raged through timeless, starless night.
No man knows when the great eruption came
That tore the breast of Earth asunder wide,
No history records the rocks, smoke, flame,
The lava flow, the gas by which men died.
So well have busy Time and Nature wrought
These hillside farms hold not one tragic thought.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of May 1, 1881)

About 150 railway hands have broken away from their bosses and are walking down the river banks towards New Westminster. They are hungry, fazzed and desperate, and unless means are taken to prevent them, outrages will occur. We would suggest that the Provincial Superintendent of Police might be usefully employed looking after these tramps.

Mr. McInnes, M.P. for New Westminster, left in great haste for Ottawa yesterday. It is rumored that he was telegraphed for to consult with the Government as to the proper selection for Lieutenant-Governor. Mr. McInnes' advice would no doubt be invaluable on any subject.

The cold piercing wind of Friday brought about a severe frost during the night. Yesterday morning, as soon as the sun rose, plants of all kinds susceptible to frost began to droop. Early potatoes turned black at once. Among flowers, the dahlias that are above ground present a pitiable appearance.

Yale with sixty children of school age, is still without a school. And yet the organs declare this to be a Government of the people for the people. But what sort of people.

SUNSHINE IS OVER NORMAL

Sun Cast Its Rays Over Victoria for 235 Hours During Month of April

As the sun buried itself in the western seas last night and the month of April drew to a close, Victoria's total sunshine for the thirty days reached 235 hours 12 minutes, a mark thirty-four hours above the average, according to F. Napier Denison, director of the Dominion Government Meteorological Observatory, Gonzales Heights.

This amount of sunshine is somewhat short of the record for April established in 1918, when Victoria enjoyed 274 hours, and the more recent mark of 250 hours set in 1926. While the early days of April were showery, Victoria enjoyed an average sunshine of twelve hours a day during the last thirteen days.

In keeping with the three previous months of 1931, the temperature was above the average, with the mean figure estimated at 51 degrees.

PRECIPITATION LOW

Total precipitation for April was 1.11 inches, or .12 of an inch below the average. However, in face of this shortage for last month the rainfall for the first four months of 1931 is .68 above normal figures. Heavy rains in January, February and March are responsible for these figures.

The warmest day was last Tuesday, April 28, when the mercury in the standard screen at the top of Gonzales climbed to 75 degrees. The lowest temperature was recorded on April 18, when the thermometer registered 37 degrees. On the grass the following day the mercury read 27 degrees.

Monday was the warmest day at the foot of the hill, with the mercury registering the same as it did on the hilltop on the Tuesday, namely, 75 degrees. In the screen at the lower level the coldest day was April 19, when the thermometer registered 30 degrees, and went down seven degrees lower on the grass.

FROST REGISTERED

While but four days of frost were recorded at the hilltop, the lower station registered twelve.

Speaking of the present dry spell, Mr. Denison stated last night that there is no immediate sign of a definite change, but there is a possibility of showers in the very near future.

WORK PROVIDED FOR MANY MEN

National Railways Helped Unemployment Situation During Past Winter

In carrying out their plan for the relief of unemployment on the Prairies during the Winter months, the Canadian National Railways provided hundreds of inexperienced but needy local residents with work on branch line construction, according to figures released by A. R. Warren, vice-president, western region. In the months from November 1, 1930, to April 15, 1931, a total of 2,062 men from nearby farms and villages were given an aggregate of 271,463 hours of work, and 181 teams of horses were brought from the fields to do 15,995 hours of work at mutual profit to the railroad and their farmer owners.

In the month of January, usually one of the most trying months of the Winter, the Canadian National Railways reached the peak of its unemployment programme, and 580 local men, including teamsters, were given a total of 87,199 hours of work, or an average slightly more than 150 hours for each man during the month. In February, 509 men were employed for an aggregate of 69,852 hours, while December was almost as profitable.

The Lulu Island branch provided employment for the most men during the five months, 627 men were employed on track laying and bridge building for a total of 105,950 hours. On the Neidpath-Swift Current branch, 482 men were employed for an aggregate of 50,413 hours, and a large number were also provided with track-laying work on the Ridgedale northeasterly, Scapa-Hemaruka and Unity southeasterly branches. The bridge over the Beaver River, on the St. Walburg-Bonnyville branch, was also the means of giving employment to many local men throughout the Winter.

Other branches on which local men and teams were employed were the Mawer southwesterly, Aberdeen-Malfort, and Hanlin-Glenbush branches, and the terminal yards at Tisdale, Saskatchewan. The Canadian National is now commencing ballasting work on western branch lines, and the same policy of hiring local men will be followed wherever possible.

VETERAN MEMBER OF N.W.M.P. PASSES ON

Another veteran member of the Northwest Mounted Police has passed on by the death at the St. Joseph's Hospital, on Wednesday night, of Mark Williams, 3830 Quadra Street, aged seventy-six years, following a prolonged illness.

Mr. Williams joined the force in 1874, a year after its organization, and had considerable service before retiring to civilian life. He came to this city about two years ago from Saskatchewan.

Born in Northamptonshire, England, he was for fourteen years principal of Gordon's Indian Residential School, of Punnichy, Sask., a member of the Touchwood, No. 51, A.F. & A.M., and past patron of the Order of Eastern Star Lodge.

Mr. Williams is survived by his widow, three daughters, Mrs. George Grant, of Cupar, Sask.; Mrs. James Swan, of Punnichy, Sask., and Mrs. Mable Lemon, of Victoria; one son, Oscar Williams, of Victoria; also fourteen grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. The remains are reposing at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, from where the funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Canon Chadwick will officiate. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Obituary

HOLMAN — Funeral services for Thomas Walter Holman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Holman, Gordon Head, who passed away in this city on Tuesday, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Many friends were present, and an unusually large number of floral tributes were received. Rev. S. Ryall officiated, and during the service the hymns, "There Is a Friend for Little Children" and "Jesus Loves Me, This I Know," were sung. The following acted as pallbearers: John Braine, Harry Anderson, Joseph Law and Robert Abbott. Interment was made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

POTTS—There passed away yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital William Potts, aged seventy years, of 878 Swan Street, Saanich. Mr. Potts was born in New Brunswick and had resided in the province for twenty years. He is mourned by Mrs. Potts and two sons, Walter, in Portland, Ore., and Alfred, at home. The remains are resting at McCall Bros.' Funeral Home pending funeral arrangements.

MATTHEWS — The funeral of Captain James Robert Matthews will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from McCall Bros.' Funeral Chapel, Rev. George Pringle conducting the service, after which interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park

TWO VICTORIA FIRMS LISTED

New Incorporation Taken Out by W. A. Jameson Coffee Co., Ltd.

Two Victoria concerns were incorporated to do business in British Columbia this week, including the W. A. Jameson Coffee Co., Ltd., already well known here, and the Electric Golf Pro Co., Ltd., with office at 715 Fort Street. The former is capitalized at $50,000 and the latter concern at $30,000. Many new firms were licensed for business in other parts of the province, as follows:

Barker Holding Co., Ltd., $10,000, Vancouver.

Blanchard Securities Corporation, Ltd., $10,000, Vancouver.

Cedar Creek Placer Gold, Ltd. (N.P.L.), 500,000 shares of no par value, Vancouver.

Electric Golf Pro Co., Ltd., $30,000, Victoria.

F. M. Yorke & Son, Ltd., $50,000, Vancouver.

Germansen Placers, Ltd., $100,000, Vancouver.

The Home Supply Co., Ltd., $15,000, Chilliwack.

Howe Investments, Ltd., 1,000 shares of no par value, Vancouver.

Independent Farm Dairy, Ltd., $150,000, Vancouver.

Kelowna Holding Society, under Societies Act, Kelowna.

Penticton Pipe & Flume, Ltd., $50,000, Penticton.

Union Transfer & Storage Co., Ltd., $20,000, Vancouver.

Vancouver Coal Sales, Ltd., 20,000 shares of no par value, Vancouver.

Vancouver District Branch, King's Daughters and Sons, under Societies Act, Vancouver.

W. A. Jameson Coffee Co., Ltd., $50,000, Victoria.

West End Taxi, Ltd., $10,000, Vancouver.

Gainers, Ltd., was registered as an extra-provincial concern, with head offices at Edmonton, Alta., and British Columbia headquarters at Vancouver. The paid up capital of the company is given as $363,400.

Nothing in the plan will stop merchants from selling textbooks for less than the set figure, as is on occasion done for advertising or other purposes. All that the Government sets out to do is to make sure that parents will not be asked more than a fair and reasonable price. This price, as shown, will be one materially less than heretofore made necessary by competitive selling and heavy wastages.

NOTICEABLE CUTS

Quoting sample savings in this regard, Mr. Hinchliffe stated that one particular book, now selling at 50 cents, will sell for 35 cents under the new plan; another will be cut from 55 cents to 35 cents; a third from 60 cents to 40 cents; and others again from 75 cents to 45 cents. Similar reductions will affect every book, in about the same proportions.

From the booksellers' viewpoint, the new plan will guarantee a profit, not certain under the former method, and often dwindling to microscopical proportions or turning into a pronounced deficit due to unsold stock. The reduction to the parents, therefore, will not be at the expense of the retailers, but from genuine savings believed possible under the united system.

Alberta went a step further and prevented the importation of text books, but this is regarded here as unnecessary, and of no additional protection to the public. Final details are now being put to the plan, after consultation with stationers in the province.

The Government bureau will print its seal on the books, to prevent deception, and rebates will be allowed on books not sold, if acquired through the bureau.

BOOKS AUTHORIZED

Publishing the authorized list of textbooks to be used in the schools in September, the Government yesterday made early announcement of what works will be required for the new school year. The complaint that books were changed from year to year will probably not be raised this year, as there are only five changes in a list of high school books, and one new book is added.

In Grade IX, general science, a work by Macmillan, Toronto, is introduced in place of a foreign book. In Grade XI, poetry and composition books by Copp, Clark and Dent respectively are placed in the literature curriculum; in Grade XII these two books will also be used. Grammar is reinstated in the curriculum for normal, entrance and junior matriculation, with a Copp, Clark grammar to be used. In senior matriculation an historical geography of Canada (Oxford), and "Cicero: De Senectute" are introduced. The foregoing have reference to high school books.

A list is also published of textbooks, supplementary readers, and pupils' reference books in history and geography, authorized for use. Many books on this list are supplied free to public schools by the Department of Education.

The Canadian pledge of determination to support Canadian products and institutions will be inserted on the flyleaf of each volume. The pledge was composed by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Federal Minister of Trade and Commerce, but so that no political inference may be drawn from that fact, all reference to the author of the pledge will be omitted.

BUILDINGS MAY BE DESTROYED

Oak Bay Has Fifteen Old Shacks Under Consideration for Demolition

The council of Oak Bay contemplates the improving of the situation as far as old, unsightly buildings are concerned and may demolish a number. Some of these buildings were reported to the council as constituting nuisances and such as would be better removed. The chief of police was asked to investigate and report, which he did, and at the meeting of the council, yesterday, there were fifteen such buildings which it was recommended should be razed.

The council decided to take the list up in committee of the whole and decide upon what action would be taken with each one of these.

W. B. Lanigan entered objection to the road and poll tax imposition, but was informed by the officials of the municipality that the matter was a statutory one and the municipality had no power in the matter.

Some applications to the council asked that modifications from the zoning by-law might be made with regard to building permits in certain places. The applicants will be informed that the zoning by-law will be adhered to and that no modifications from it will be considered.

Before the sitting of the council, the members of that body sat as a court of revision with regard to boulevard tax amendments.

PRESIDENT OF AIRWAYS QUITS

H. B. Olson Severs Connection With Local Air Service

H. B. Olson, who was the organizer of the Alaska-Washington Airways of British Columbia, Limited, and a pioneer in the promotion of Northwest air services, was a visitor in Victoria yesterday from Seattle, and while here announced through the local manager, C. C. Johnson, who is also retiring, that he had resigned from the presidency of the Alaska-Washington Airways of British Columbia, and was severing his connection with the company.

A great believer in the advantages of motor transportation, Mr. Olson organized the Gray Line Tours in Victoria, which he disposed of some time since to local interests. He is still actively identified with several tour lines, being president of the Gray Line Tours, Seattle, president of the Yelloway Coach Lines of Western Canada, and president of the Kootenay Valley Stage Company.

For Greater Safety on Every Highway

THE FORD CAR IS EQUIPPED WITH SHATTERLESS PLATE GLASS WINDSHIELD

FOR greater safety in driving, every Ford car is equipped with a shatterless plate glass windshield. By reducing the dangers of flying glass it has saved many lives and prevented countless injuries in automobile accidents.

The value of this important safety factor has been known for many years, but its use has been limited by expense. It is brought to you on the Ford as standard equipment only because of the efficiency and economy of Ford methods. Much pioneering work has been done in finding ways to manufacture in large volume at low cost.

It is interesting to know how the shatterless glass windshield of the Ford is made and why it gives so much extra protection. The process of manufacture requires many separate operations, yet it can be explained in a few simple words.

Two pieces of plate glass, carefully ground and polished, are covered on one side with a thin coating of gelatine. This coating is baked hard, sprayed with liquid celluloid, and treated with a solvent.

Then, between the two pieces of glass, like the middle of a sandwich, is inserted a layer of special celluloid. This also has been treated with a solvent.

When heat and pressure are applied to the glass sandwich, this solvent helps to dissolve the surfaces in contact and they are actually fused together. It is almost like a welding process. The result is a single sheet of beautiful, clear laminated glass. The final operation is sealing the edges as protection against air and moisture.

This laminated windshield will withstand a 50% harder impact before breaking than plate glass of equal thickness, and is more flexible under impact. When struck an unusually hard blow, it will crack, but the danger from flying glass is minimized because of the inside layer of celluloid.

The greatest care is taken to insure uniform high quality. Plate glass is used for clear vision. One sheet in every 150 is taken for test. For the impact test, a steel ball is dropped six feet to the center of a large sheet.

Other samples are subjected to ultra-violet rays and infra-red rays which give, in a few hours, an exposure equal to several years of normal driving. This is done to check the effect of the sun's rays and heat on the crystal clearness of the glass.

Many improvements have been made in the past three years. Today, the shatterless glass used on the Ford is recognized as one of the greatest contributions to safety since four-wheel brakes. High speed and crowded traffic emphasize the need of the protection it affords. It is just another instance of the extra value in the Ford.

All Ford cars come to you equipped with a shatterless plate glass windshield as standard equipment. If you desire, you may have your new Ford delivered to you with shatterless glass in the side windows as well. The charge is reasonable. $15 for the Cabriolet and Sport Coupe and $25 for other body types.

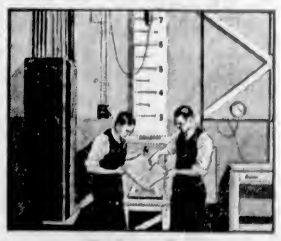
THE FORD VICTORIA

No Flying Glass Here

A woman and three children were in this Ford when a passing car upturned a horseshoe in the road and sent it crashing into the windshield. No one was hurt because there was no flying glass.

Used in World War

During the World War, shatterless glass was used in goggles for aviators, eye blanks for gas masks, and for windows on tanks and submarines. It is now used on battleships and destroyers to prevent injuries when glass windows are broken by heavy guns or the shock of severe gunfire.



The Impact Test

A steel ball is dropped six feet on the glass used for the windshield of the Ford to check-up on its non-shattering qualities.

GUEST TEA IS GREAT SUCCESS

Directors of Y.W.C.A. Hostesses at Function—Many Organizations Represented

Approximately 250 women attended the annual "guest tea" at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon, when the board of directors was "at home" to the Y.W. members and presidents of representative women's organizations of the city, the function being held for the first time in the association building.

Mrs. Arthur Walsh, the president, welcomed the guests in a gracefully-worded message of greeting and bespoke the interest and support of those present in the extensive building programme now under consideration. In this connection she referred to the fact that the proposed expansion was designed to provide inexpensive accommodation for young women of modest income.

For the function, the drawing rooms, dining rooms and lounge were pressed into service, the tables being arranged most charmingly with lovely Spring flowers in handsome silver baskets and vases.

Guests seated at the head table, at which Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. Norris (first vice-president), and Mrs. H. D. Brumpton, convener of the social committee, acted as hostesses, were: Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, Mrs. H. Anscomb, Mrs. Schofield, Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mrs. J. H. Fletcher, Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Mrs. J. S. Plaskett, Mrs. P. B. Scurrah, Mrs. L. A. Genge, Mrs. Alan Morkill, Mrs. L. H. Hardie, Mrs. E. G. Maynard and Mrs. Justin Gilbert. Miss Norma Macdonald represented her mother, Mrs. J. A. Macdonald, wife of the Administrator of the province.

Hostesses at other tables included Mrs. A. Parfitt and Mrs. E. A. Lewis, Mrs. F. C. Nivin and Mrs. E. E. Wootton, Mrs. T. Hammond and Mrs. G. A. A. Hebden, Mrs. T. R. Bowden and Miss Jean Menzies, Mrs. W. M. Allan and Mrs. R. S. Anderson, Mrs. W. Hartley and Miss G. Checkley, Mrs. U. M. Cullum and Mrs. C. L. Armstrong, Mrs. C. G. Fraser and Miss Margaret Clay, Mrs. J. Kingham and Mrs. W. A. Guy, Mrs. W. H. Whiteley and Miss A. Spencer, Mrs. J. A. Pearce, Miss F. Braik, Miss F. Jasper, Mrs. T. Kirby, Mrs. A. H. Bissell and Mrs. C. Drummond-Hay, Mrs. B. McKillop and Mrs. Wallace Wilson.

During the afternoon vocal numbers were charmingly rendered by Mrs. Madge Shrimpton, Mrs. T. R. Bowden and Miss Eileen Bennett.

SIDELIGHTS ON HISTORY GIVEN

Dr. Leo E. Pariseau, of Montreal, Recalls Cannibal Period

MONTREAL, April 30 (CP).—Delving into neglected books of Canadian history by means of his rare collection of literary treasures, Dr. Leo E. Pariseau, of the University of Montreal and the Hotel Dieu Hospital, served a delectable and stimulating "cocktail de curiosite" to members of the St. James Literary Society at a recent meeting. Dr. Pariseau referred to many authors and cited many tests in his address, "Some Table Crumbs of Canadian History," which included sidelights on the customs and lives of both Indian and French settlers in Canada centuries ago.

Among the men who lived through Canadian history, Dr. Pariseau mentioned Pierre Boucher, of Three Rivers, truly the first booster of Canada. When writers of the early eighteenth were writing colorful and astounding tales of the barbaric and cannibalistic Indians to their confreres across the ocean, Boucher was the one to depict Canada as the land of opportunity.

"ROAST IROQUOIS"

The preliminary dissertation on Dr. Pariseau's sources of information was followed by an appetizing meal of "roast Iroquois." It was in connection with this royal and ancient custom of the aborigines that the speaker showed the discrepancies that grew in the stories of various authors in the early days of settlement in the Canadian colonies. Dr. Guy Patin, in his "Letres" (1718) refers to the man-eating aborigines; M. de Gouvest, too, discusses cannibalism in his "Letres Iroquoises" (1752), while Voltaire refers to the custom repeatedly in his "Oeuvres Completes," even though his accounts vary, while Champlain's reports are nearest to the truth.

Whatever the rights and wrongs of this practice, Dr. Pariseau favored the methods used by the Brazilian cannibals, for they at least pampered their prospective victims before eating them, whereas the Indian custom involved torture before sacrifice. Cannibalism, once prevalent in Canada, was not similar to that practiced in other parts of the world, he maintained, for here it was not a manifestation of gluttony, but rather a ritual performance on public enemies.

ONE OF BASIC WORKS

La Hontan's "Nouveaux Voyages" (1707) was another of the basic works of Canadian history quoted in relation to important voyages of the vast territories that were gradually being opened up to civilization. The speaker referred to and disclaimed the calumnies spread by this author to the effect that the French-Canadians were descendants of courtesans sent from France to populate the country. In discussing Charlevoix' "Histoire de la Nouvelle France" (1744), Dr. Pariseau called the author one of the most learned of French historians in Canada. Peter Kahm, the Swedish scientist, wrote an important book, "Voyages en Amerique" (1753), which was subsequently translated into many different languages.

Such a Munchausen tale as a moose in an epileptic fit scratching its left ear with its left hoof and curing itself are told in "De Animalibus" (1519) by Albertus Magnus. This historian, moreover, tells of Indians procuring this particular member of the animal's body to effect cures on human beings. From the wealth of knowledge handed down from the various authors, Dr. Pariseau made known the fact that goat's and asses' milk were acknowledged tissue builders even in the bygone centuries.

CULINARY DELICACIES

Even the lowly pig comes in for discussion in these literary masterpieces, while the merits of moose, beaver and fish as culinary delicacies are reviewed, taking into consideration the habits of these animals.

"LEAGUE OF NATIONS" TEA THIS AFTERNOON

All organizations, which will be represented at the League of Nations tea to be held this afternoon at the New Thought Hall, 720 1-2 Fort Street, have been reminded that the function will open promptly at 3 o'clock. Mrs. S. F. Tolmie has expressed her intention of being present, and the following local women's organizations will be represented: Local Council of Women, City Temple Ladies' Auxiliary, Daughters of England, Daughters of St. George, Rebeccas, Moose, Christ Church Cathedral Ladies' Guild, Quadra Parent-Teacher Association, and others.

Colonel Colman, treasurer of the local branch of the League, will be in attendance. Dr. A. O. McRae will address the gathering.

Wife (at breakfast): "I want to do some shopping today, dear, if the weather is favorable. What does the paper say?"

Husband: "Rain, hail, thunder and lightning."

Little John—Mummy, do people who try hard get on?

Mother—Of course they do, dear, but why?

Little John—Well, nurse says I'm the most trying child she's ever come across.

"And you have the cheek to open the letters?"

"Well, do you expect me to go up six stories if there's only nonsense in the letters?"—Buen Humor, Madrid.

Miss Coney, who has been spending several days in Victoria, has returned to her home at Saltair.

Mrs. J. Cook was a visitor in Victoria during the convention of the Women's Benefit Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Winter Cook and their family, of Youbou, were recent visitors in Chemainus, guests of their parents, the Rev. E. M. and Mrs. Cook.

Mrs. Grace Read has returned to Chemainus after a vacation spent in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Wyllie have had as their guest Miss Louise Burteau, of Ladysmith.

Miss Johnstone, of Victoria, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Pulling.

Mrs. O. K. Dwyer, accompanied by Miss Hazel Dwyer, is visiting in Vancouver.

Miss A. Gallant, accompanied by her niece, Miss Katharine Collyer, were recent visitors in Chemainus, guests at the Horseshoe Bay Inn. While here, Miss Gallant, who is a former resident of Chemainus, visited several old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross were recent visitors to Shawnigan Lake School.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Howe, of Great Central Lake, spent the week-end here.

MISSIONARY MEETING

A special missionary meeting will be held at the Emmanuel Baptist Church this evening at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Women's Mission Circle and the Canadian Girls in Training. The speaker for the evening will be Miss Edith Mann, of New Westminster, who is on furlough from India. Besides lecturing on the phase of work in which she is interested, Miss Mann will speak on missionary work in general and also show some interesting curios.

City and District

A.Y.P.A. Meeting Postponed—The concert arranged by the St. John's Branch of the A.Y.P.A. for this evening has been postponed until Wednesday evening, May 20.

To Build Shed—A building permit was issued yesterday to W. D. Todd, coal merchant, for the construction of a fuel shed at Turner and David Streets. The building is to cost about $3,000.

Fairfield Choral Recitals — The Fairfield Choral Society has arranged for a voluntary rehearsal to be held at the Fairfield Church this evening at 9 o'clock, and a final rehearsal to be held on Sunday evening, also at 9 o'clock.

Purchases Apartment — Purchase has been made by F. B. Pemberton of the apartment house containing four suites, located on Linden Avenue and Fairfield Road. The building is a new one, just completed by John Moxam, and cost in the neighborhood of $20,000.

S.P.C.A. Tag Day—The annual tag day of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will be held tomorrow. Workers are requested to call at the society's office, Room A, Campbell Building, on Friday afternoon between 2 and 4 o'clock, when the convener, Mrs. Harper, will give final instructions.

Not Coming Here—Colonel Sir James Lithgow, Sir Arthur Buckham and Moir Mackenzie, British industrialists who are touring Eastern Canada, will not come to Victoria, the Canadian Club has been advised. Efforts were made to have them address a meeting of the club here.

Contributed Music—At the luncheon of the Rotary Club yesterday, Miss Crawford, who was the winner of a gold medal at the Vancouver Music Festival last year, contributed two solos. She was accompanied by Miss Allen. Bouquets were presented to the artists, following the rendition of the numbers.

On Business Trip—Charles Robin, of Paris, representing one of the large wine exporters of France, is now in the city, a guest at the Empress Hotel. He has come to Canada for the purpose of looking after the interests of his house in the various parts of the Dominion. He is accompanied by his father and mother on this trip.

Suspended Sentence—Charged in the Saanich police court yesterday afternoon with stealing a quantity of wine from the Growers' Winery, Quadra Street, William Baker was given a year's suspended sentence. Chief Allan Rankin informed the court that he would make every effort to place the accused in employment and give him a chance to go straight.

Makes Appeal—The claims of the athletic grounds which are to be prepared on the Macdonald Estate, near the Outer Wharf, were put before the Rotary Club at the luncheon yesterday by H. J. Ketchen, who represents the committee in charge of the frolic, which is to be given in the Crystal Garden on the evening of May 25 in aid of the fund to supplement the vote of the city, and which has for its object making of Rugby and cricket grounds on the estate.

Poon in Custody—Harold Poon, employee of a Victoria Chinese newspaper, charged with appropriating more than $4,000 from the company with which he was employed, was taken into custody again yesterday when Judge McIntosh signed an order for the release of his two bondsmen, Herbert Lee and Matthew Bond. Poon will again be admitted to bail in the sum of $4,000 if he can secure new bondsmen.

Department Ceases — Consequent on the decision of the Government, announced by Hon. J. W. Jones on Sunday last, the Department of Industries, as a separate branch of the Ministry of Finance, will cease officially today. The process of winding up the business of the department, which administered industrial loans under a postwar scheme, will be carried out by the Government, with Victor Rollins, purchasing agent, as acting deputy minister of industries.

Cariboo Road Work—Work will start immediately on a bad stretch on the Cariboo Highway between Spence's Bridge and Ashcroft, it was stated yesterday by Hon. R. W. Bruhn, who returned from a visit to the Interior, on which he had been accompanied by officials of his department. The road will be widened at dangerous places, and made safe from overhanging bluffs above the Thompson River. Seasonal work on all provincial highways is being carried out at this time, putting roads in shape for the coming tourist season.

Change in Regulations—Provision for the payment of fees on application by bond and brokerage firms for registration under the Security Frauds Prevention Act, was made by the Government yesterday, slightly altering the present regulations in that respect. A new general scale of fees is authorized, with provision for an examination fee for firms seeking to register under the act. The general fees that will be paid by a firm total $25, with additional charges for branch managers and salesmen employed. Considered as a whole, the scale is generally lower. It is explained.

To Address Women—Provincial institutions will be discussed by Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary, in an address before the Women's Conservative Association at the Campbell Building on Monday evening. Mr. Howe will touch on health and charitable work coming under his jurisdiction. Today he will open the Richmond United Church, Vancouver, at a formal ceremony, to be held at 7:30 p.m., when the founding of the original edifice on that site forty-three years ago will be commemorated.

For Ships' Stores—Revision of the price at which liquor for medicinal purposes will be sold for ships' stores was effected by order-in-council yesterday, extending the benefit of lower prices announced by the Liquor Control Board at the first of the year. The board is empowered to sell liquor for use on vessels in this way, in bond, and quotes a price that is practically at cost, after deduction of the excise and federal tax. Many vessels fill up their medicine chests at Victoria, touching here from Pacific steamship lanes. Liquor samples, unfit for public consumption, will be destroyed throughout the province this week.

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

When you read these few remarks this morning, at breakfast time, written to remind you that it is May 1, Rover and I will be away out in the country, where we are going to celebrate the coming of the month named after the Roman goddess of Spring.

Her name was Maia, and she was the daughter of Atlas whom the ancients supposed to be a giant who supported the world on his shoulders. There have been times when we thought we were carrying the entire sorrows of this old world on our shoulders, but not today! It's May 1, and, as Rover said to me, first thing this morning (and we got up at 5:30), "Master, even if I am not destined to be Queen o' the May, I can, at least, Atlas(t), throw off everything that weighs on my mind and be as merciful as Mercury, who was the messenger boy of the gods and a worthy, though errant son of his mother, Maia."

We are going to have some "florella," or floral games, of our own, today. We are going to a daisy chain, and pink and white May ourselves to a fare-thee-well. Along with a lot of other festival lovers, we shall dance around every May-pole we run across, or into.

It's the First of May! Cheer up, all you downhearted! Victoria is going to have a really banner year, banners galore, and glorious banners, too! Real estate is already picking up! Building has got away to a good start. The glamorous, true, descriptive letters we Victorians have, or should have, written to all our friends in other less favored parts of the world, this year will find special favor, for, in those other places they are beginning to wake up and realize what they are missing by not being here, and we are going to see a record crowd of tourists come here, in spite of recent periods of depression and in spite of what our kickers may say or may not say.

It's the First of May! What are we doing this year to commemorate the coming of May? As usual, New Westminster is having its great annual celebration this year on May 15. Do you know that over there, in New Westminster, they have held these yearly festivals of joy at the advent of the fifth month of our year (formerly the third month of the Roman year), for a period of sixty years?

There has been a royal crowning of juvenile Queens of May, in the old capital of British Columbia, New Westminster, ever since 1870, with one exception, and that was the year 1878. Can we show, in this still older city, such a record?

Down south, in Portland, Oregon, this year they are having an extra grand and wonderful May Day celebration, fashioned on the historic May Day celebrations of old England, when that dear old land had a right to be designated "Merrie." There are to be Morris dances, miracle plays, pageants, and finally the crowning of the Queen of the May. Robin Hood and his merrie men will be there, and all the jolly old quarter-staff and archery contests. What are we going to do here?

Here's congratulations to New Westminster on the diamond jubilee of the pleasant custom of crowning the Queen of the May, first inaugurated by the Royal Engineers and the Hyack (Chinook "Hurry Up") fire brigade of 1870.

Mrs. W. Allison (Gertrude McBride), a sister of our late Sir Richard, was Queen of the May in 1877.

'Tis gay today, the May is out!
Oh! How my heart rejoices!
"Away to play!" I say and shout—
Love echoes all young voices!
For, we shall see, with glee, the May,
Both pink and white, and fragrant;
Sweet tree! we be all free, today,
From school and ruling, vagrant!
Some day, we may not say, nor shout
With young and happy voices:
"Hurrah! let's play! The May is out!"
Nor own heart that rejoices;
But, though we go and grow, each day,
A little older—vagrant,
And show hair snow-white, Oh, the May!
'Twill, still, be sweet and fragrant!

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, April 30. — With 700 tons of Indian products for this port, the Silver-Java Pacific Ms. Bintang, Captain A. Turfboer, arrived Wednesday afternoon to Dingwall, Cotta & Company. The captain said the promises of increase in this new route are good. The cargo consisted of rice, tea, paraffin wax, sisal, rubber and cashew nuts. The ship is loading a fair assortment of general here and will sail tonight via Pacific Coast ports.

N.Y.K. liner Ms. Hiye Maru sailed at noon today for the Orient with mails, passengers and a full cargo from British Columbia and Puget Sound.

The harbor board's new car ferry will commence operations on Burrard Inlet on Saturday. The Government tugboat Point Grey has been commissioned and is ready, the ferry slip on the north shore is completed, and arrangements for landing on this side are being negotiated.

Six watchmen, replacing the harbor police force which was disbanded today, have been appointed by the Harbor Board. Five former harbor policemen, including Chief Constable J. Robinson, have been dismissed, and three of the old force are retained as watchmen. The latter are F. Waters, James Davidson and W. B. Cook. Three new men were appointed also, making six watchmen in all. They will be on duty on docks and in sheds. This force may be increased as necessity arises, it is said.

Sam: "Do you think horseshoes are lucky?"

He: "Of course."

Sam: "Then the horse I bet on last time was running barefoot."

Society Notes From Ottawa

By JEAN THOMPSON
(Special to The Colonist. Copyright, 1931)

OTTAWA, April 30 (SNS).—Springtonn, hepaticas, and April brides . . . so "the old order changeth, giving place to new," and with dying hours fairly crammed with brilliant functions, the social season of the second session of the Seventeenth Parliament of Canada is drawing to a close.

Their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Countess of Bessborough entertained at dinner recently at Government House, when many parliamentary and diplomatic dignitaries were among those invited.

MANY LUNCHEONS

Luncheons of a small and intimate nature seem to be the popular version of "what's what" in the official circles just now.

Mrs. George Black, wife of the Speaker of the House of Commons, entertained at two smart affairs, when the table decorations were attractively carried out with masses of Spring flowers in all their lovely hues. The guests were sessional visitors and a few Ottawa friends of the hostess.

Mrs. Hugh Guthrie, wife of the Minister of Justice, was another hostess at a charmingly arranged luncheon in honor of the wives of parliamentarians. Covers were laid for twelve, at a table adorned with lilies, snapdragon and tulips.

The aftermath of the Herridge-Bennett wedding reception was a veritable epidemic of delightful little dinner parties.

The Consul-General for Japan was the host at one of these affairs, when covers were laid for sixteen.

Another was the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gray at the Country Club.

Mrs. George Galt was also a dinner hostess at the Country Club that evening.

Major and Mrs. Herridge are in England at present and will return in the near future to take up residence at the Canadian Legation in Washington.

SWIMMING PARTY

A slight deviation from the usual round of luncheons, teas and dinners, was the swimming party given by Miss Diana Kingsmill at the Chateau Laurier recently, with supper afterwards, at her home, "Ballybeg," in Rockcliffe Park.

Miss Kingsmill will sail shortly for Europe with her parents, Admiral Sir Charles and Lady Kingsmill.

Chalmers United Church was recently the scene of a charming wedding ceremony, when the marriage was solemnized of Martha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Currier, to Dr. Leland W. C. Sturgeon, of Meaford, Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. D. Sturgeon, of Gilford, Ontario. Rev. Dr. John W. Woodside officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely bride was gracefully gowned in the palest of yellow chiffon and lace. She wore a large model hat of the same exquisite shade and carried yellow roses and blue sweet peas.

Following the ceremony, a small reception was held at the home of her parents in Daly Avenue, when the rooms were prettily decorated with gay Spring flowers.

Mrs. Currier, mother of the bride, was handsomely gowned in black lace with a black straw hat and carried a dainty nosegay of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Sturgeon, mother of the groom, wore a becoming frock of soft black lace and a black hat and a shoulder knot of crimson rosebuds.

Later, Dr. and Mrs. Sturgeon left on a motor trip, the bride traveling in a very smart costume of green tweed with hat to match and snakeskin shoes.

Mr. and Mrs. Sturgeon will take up residence in Meaford, Ontario.

Mrs. W. E. C. Eliot and her two small sons, William and Lorn, who have been visiting Mrs. Eliot's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorn McDougall, will leave in the near future for England to join Lieutenant Eliot, who will be stationed there.

Mrs. Alex. Haultain entertained at the tea hour recently in honor of Mrs. John Law, who leaves shortly for England. She will be accompanied by her young daughter, Miss Peggy Law, who will remain at school in England.

Dishwater whitens daughter's hands when applied to mother's.

Fashions Follow Conservative Trend in Spring Season

SMART Toronto wends its way to church in costumes of many types. As throngs walked out on last Sunday morning, making their way churchward, photographers caught the above smart costumes. A few suits made their appearance and as many long Spring coats. (1) One of the smart suits of guardsman blue, minus a collar and distinguished by the new and dashing plaid silk scarf ties in Ascot style. A small matching blue hat is worn, exposing the forehead, according to the season's dictates. (2) a youthful churchgoer in a banana beige cloth coat with light fur and matching hat. (3) Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Bruce, the latter wearing a modish coat of black broadcloth with triple ruffles on the peplum and enriched by an upstanding collar of black galyak. She is also wearing a chic little black hat. (4) Another of the very smart little suits of dark blue which was worn over an Algerian striped blouse, fox fur and off-the-face hat.

Clubs and Societies

Pythian Sisters Meet

The Pythian Sisters of Island Temple No. 8 held a very successful meeting on Thursday evening, with Miss Lucy Bennallack occupying the chair. Miss Vera Mesher, M. of R. & C., read the minutes of the last meeting, after which the regular business was discussed. At the close of the meeting the sisters and their friends were entertained by the Knights at the last of their series of whist drives, a most enjoyable evening being spent. The winners of the evening were: Ladies, first, Mrs. D. Elliott; second, Miss M. Woodburn; consolation, Mrs. Vera Barry; men, first, Mr. G. Wragg; second, Mr. B. Abbott; consolation, Mr. G. T. Season prizes were won by: Lad 4, first, Miss Winnie Dodd; consolation, Mrs. L. Hockley; men, first, Mr. M. Barry; consolation, Mr. Reg Underwood.

Far West Assembly

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Far West Assembly No. 30, Canadian Daughters' League, was recently held in the New Thought Hall. An invitation from Assembly No. 1, Sons of Canada, to attend the entertainment to be given by them in the New Thought Hall on May 7 was received. Many resolutions sponsored by assemblies throughout the Dominion were discussed. Arrangements are being made for the installation of officers, which will take place on May 14. A bridge party will be held at the home of Mrs. P. Fitzsimmons in the near future, with the younger members of the assembly in charge.

Erskine Ladies' Aid

The Ladies' Aid of Erskine Presbyterian Church will hold a sale of fancywork and home-cooking in the church hall, corner of Harriett and Lurline Roads, next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. As the sale is for the benefit of the church funds, it is hoped there will be a large turnout of members and friends.

Langford Church Guild

The regular meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Matthew's Church will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Knight on the Goldstream Road.

LAKE HILL CENTRE

Lake Hill Community Centre members will hold their usual monthly meeting in the Institute room by permission of the Lake Hill Women's Institute, as the large hall will be taken up by the pupils of Cloverdale School, who will give a rehearsal for their parents and friends as a preliminary to the Musical festival.

Langford

Miss Dalby, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. Cowie, of "Lakeholm," Langford Lake, has returned home to Victoria.

Mrs. W. J. Morrow, "Connemara," Island Highway, was "at home" to a number of friends on Monday afternoon. Vocal solos were sung by Mrs. A. F. Bayles and Mrs. Morrow, and a delicious tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Harriet Morrow. The guests included Mrs. J. C. Holly, Mrs. Howard Lilley, Mrs. E. F. Bayles, Mrs. H. C. C. Bennett, Mrs. Waugh, Mrs. Savage, Mrs. E. F. Le Quesne, Mrs. W. Lang, Mrs. H. O. Kirkham, Mrs. H. A. Hincks and Miss H. Morrow.

Sooke

Mrs. F. Brownsey has returned home after having spent the week in Cumberland as the guest of Mrs. Mountse.

Mrs. J. R. Elliott was a recent visitor at the home of Mrs. McBride, and has returned to Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Porteous and daughter, Patsy, have arrived and are at present guests at the Hotel Belvedere.

Mrs. Demeres was the guest of her niece, Mrs. W. Welsh, for several days and has now returned to her home in Victoria.

Island Social Notes

Campbell River

Mrs. R. Nunns and daughter Peggy left for Vancouver this week.

Mrs. H. Reambeault left for Vancouver on Tuesday morning.

Mr. Robert McNeil, of Cumberland, was a visitor here during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerpan and son returned from a visit to Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Endersby, of Heriot Bay, are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a daughter on April 25.

Mrs. A. McNeil, Sr., has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles McDonald, of Cumberland, for a few days.

Mrs. R. J. Walker and daughter Joy, of Gowlland Harbor, left on Tuesday for England for a few months.

Mr. Arnold Wickstrom, of Seattle, is visiting his sister, Miss Evelyn Wickstrom.

Mr. Albert McAdams has returned from his holidays.

Lake Cowichan

Recently the charming houseboat of Mrs. Nilsen made a pretty setting for a very enjoyable bridge party when the hostess entertained with four tables of cards. Those winning prizes were: First, Mrs. W. F. Grosskleg; second, Mrs. S. Alexander; third, Mrs. Baylis; and the consolation was presented to Mrs. Fred Swanson.

After spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lomas, Mrs. H. M. Prevost has returned to her home in Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jenner, of San Domingo, were the week-end guests of Miss J. E. Maynard and Mr. T. H. Maynard at their home, "The Ark." Mr. Jenner gave a most interesting address on San Domingo and showed some excellent slides on Friday evening, when the meeting-room was crowded.

Miss Robinson, deaconess of the Anglican Churches in British Columbia, and Miss Goldsmith, of Victoria, have been spending the past few days visiting all the families resident here and also the surrounding districts with the view to commencing religious instruction for children of the Church of England. Miss Robinson and Miss Goldsmith are staying at "Greendale."

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Woodward, of Victoria, visited the Lake during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Reid had as their guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Baker and their son. Mr. and Mrs. Baker were former residents of the Lake, but they are now making their home at Cumberland.

After spending the Winter months in Fredericton and other Eastern cities, visiting his parents and other friends and relations, Mr. J. R. Palmer has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rundquist and their baby son have taken up their residence on School Drive.

Ucluelet—Long Beach

Captain W. L. Thompson and son, who have been visiting in Tofino for some time, will return here shortly.

Mr. Fred Whipp, Jr., has returned after spending a few weeks' vacation. While away he visited at Nanaimo and Port Alberni.

Dr. Guy Palmer left on Friday to spend the week-end in Victoria.

Mr. L. Tate left last week for Victoria after spending a few weeks in Ucluelet.

Mr. A. Monks was in Ucluelet recently, en route to Port Alberni.

Mr. and Mrs. George Saggers have returned after a short visit to Victoria and Vancouver.

Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Pineo, of Port Alberni, are guests at the Bayview Lodge.

Mr. J. McDonald and son, of Nanaimo River Falls, arrived on Friday and will spend several months at Long Beach.

Keating

Mrs. Jack Crossley and her two children are spending a few days' holiday with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Butler, Keating Crossroad.

Miss Olive Anderson, who has been spending the past two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Anderson, Keating Cross-road, left on Sunday for San Francisco.

The Junior Institute Club will hold a bridge and five hundred card party on May 9, at the Temperance Hall, East Saanich Road, when good prizes will be given.

Cowichan Station

Doctor and Mrs. H. P. Swan entertained Mrs. Stevens, of London, England; Mrs. Travers, of Chicago; Mrs. Evelyn McConnell and Colonel H. T. Goodland, C.B., D.S.O., at a delightful tea given in their honor before Colonel Goodland's lecture in Duncan on Thursday evening.

Qualicum Beach

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Qualicum Beach Branch of the Canadian Legion, Noel Coward's comedy, "The Young Idea," was played in the Community Hall on Wednesday. The hall was well filled, there being many from Parksville and surrounding districts. Mr. F. G. C. Wood, associate professor of English, in introducing the Players' Club of the University of British Columbia, expressed his satisfaction in the wonderful improvements made to the hall since their last visit. Mr. E. Saunders, president of the local Legion, in a few well-chosen words, thanked the Players' Club for giving such a treat to the public of Qualicum Beach and district. The performance was very amusing, and considering the small space, was beautifully staged.

THERE are few foods you can buy that give you as much satisfaction for your money as Kellogg's Corn Flakes.

Out of a single package you get many delicious servings — at a cost of only a few cents.

Kellogg's are delightful for breakfast or lunch, with milk or cream, fruits or honey added.

Great for the children's evening meal — or for a tasty snack before going to bed. So healthful and easy to digest.

No other ready-to-eat cereal in the world is so popular. No other corn flakes have ever been able to duplicate Kellogg's own matchless crispness and flavor.

That is why wise buyers will accept no substitute for genuine Kellogg's. They know that imitations are never "just like" the original of all corn flakes. Look for the red-and-green package at your grocer's. With the exclusive inner-seal waxtite wrapper that keeps the flakes oven-fresh even after opening. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

You'll enjoy Kellogg's Slumber Music, broadcast over WJZ and associated stations of the N.B.C. every Sunday evening at 10.30 E. D. S. T. Also KFI Los Angeles, KOMO Seattle at 10.00, and KOA Denver at 10.30.

Miscellaneous Shower

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McDonald, Tennyson Street, entertained last evening at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Dorothy Richards and Mr. Thomas A. Watson, whose marriage takes place on May 2. The many lovely gifts were drawn into the room in a gaily decorated carriage by little five-year-old Betty McDonald and placed before the bride-elect. After the gifts had been opened, Rev. Daniel Walker made a speech, which Mr. Watson responded to. The evening was spent in music and games, Mr. E. C. Wilderstin being in charge of a very enjoyable musical programme. The guests included Rev. Daniel Walker, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wilderstin, Mr. and Mrs. Lough, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Phillpott, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, Mr. Waind, Mr. J. C. Burton, Mr. John McDonald, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Shirt, Mrs. Mickle, Mrs. George Hudson, Mrs. Brethour, Mrs. Bremner, Mrs. Marshall, Miss Marguerite Lough, Miss Muriel Waind, Miss Liola Richardson, Miss Marguerite Alexander, Miss Rhoda Harrison, Miss Whitford, Miss Ormiston and Miss Mickle.

Bridge Club Meets

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mrs. R. Sinclair, Hampshire Road, on Wednesday last, the occasion being the concluding meeting of a bridge club, which has met every fortnight during the Winter season. Three tables were in play, the players being Mesdames Boucher, T. Coventry, C. H. Hinkins, Muirhead, Sinclair, W. E. Tapley, L. H. Tapley and C. H. Unwin; Misses G. Tapley, M. and D. E. Unwin, and Winters. The prize for the highest aggregate score was won by Mrs. L. H. Tapley; Miss D. E. Unwin gaining second place; lowest aggregate, Mrs. Coventry, while Mrs. C. H. Unwin was highest in the evening's play. There were also prizes for two lucky chairs. Sincere regret was voiced at the absence, through ill health, of Mrs. Chipper, and a small gift was forwarded to her, in recognition of her many kindnesses.

Honor Bride-Elect

Mrs. A. H. Tyrrell and Miss M. Tyrrell were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower on Thursday evening, April 23, at the former's home, 124 Robertson Street, for Miss Dorothy Ladell, whose marriage takes place this month. The gifts were concealed in a chest, prettily decorated in pink and white. The invited guests were Mrs. A. H. Ladell, Mrs. A. Tyrrell, Mrs. G. Stephens, Mrs. A. Delahay, Mrs. G. Gibbons, Mrs. O. Corbett, Mrs. E. Hansley, Mrs. G. D. Stephens, Mrs. J. Baines, Mrs. H. Houghton, Mrs. F. Forrester, Mrs. E. Humpherles, Miss I. Corgell, Miss E. Birks and Miss A. Warburton.

Here From Ireland

Mrs. R. J. Handcock, from Kingstown, Ireland, is visiting Victoria, and while here is the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. H. Staveley, Ferndale Road, Gordon Head. She gives a very interesting account of her delightful five weeks' trip from London on the Holland-American Ms. Drechtdyk via Bermuda and the Panama.

Visits Parents Here

Returning to Victoria after two years' absence, Don Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Adams, 1790 Beach Drive, arrived last night aboard the Ruth Alexander from Berkeley, Cal. Mr. Adams will stay at the home of his parents for about a month, when he will return to his work in the South.

Will Leave for Vancouver

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Salmond (nee Leeming) have returned from their honeymoon Up-Island and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Leeming, Dallas Road. Mr. and Mrs. Salmond will leave on tonight's boat for Vancouver, where they will spend a day prior to leaving for their home in Toronto.

Woman Editor Here

Mrs. O. M. Larbalastier, home editor of The Farm and Ranch Review, Calgary, and president of the Women's Press Club of that city, is a visitor in the city for a few days, having come here with her husband to enjoy a holiday.

Returns to Vancouver

After spending several days in the city as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Trenchard Clark, Yates Street, Miss Winnifred Lemon, of Vancouver, has returned to her home on the Mainland.

Leaves for England

Colonel P. E. Harrison left last week-end for Portland and San Francisco, from where he will sail via the Panama Canal for England. He expects to return to Victoria in October.

En Route to Toronto

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Salmond, of Toronto, who were in the city for the Salmond-Leeming wedding, have left for Vancouver to spend a short time before entraining for their home in the East.

Holiday in South

Mrs. Alice Creeth, accompanied by her son Edmund, left the city Wednesday night for Oakland, California, where they will spend a two weeks' holiday.

Home for Vacation

Mr. Derry Tye has concluded his studies for the year at the University of British Columbia and has returned to his home on Douglas Street for the Summer vacation.

Visited at Harrison Lake

Mrs. E. T. W. Pearse and Mrs. S. Young have returned to Victoria from a ten days' stay at Harrison Hot Springs.

Goes to Chemainus

Mrs. Hickman Tye, Douglas Street, has left the city for Cremainus, where she will spend a holiday as the guest of friends.

RELIEF FROM ROYAL COURT FORMALITY: DANCING at a FETE.

"UNEASY lies the head that wears a crown." This fact has again been brought home to Queen Victoria of Spain, as she bade farewell to the land over which she had ruled with Alfonso XIII. From the simple life of a British princess, she had a quarter of a century ago become a part of the court of Spain. The road from carefree Kensington Palace to Madrid was not a path of roses. Perhaps fate will deal more kindly with the dethroned Queen who may return to the land of her youth, far from the strife that was hers as Queen of Spain.

PARISH GUILD NETS LARGE SUM

Cathedral Women's Guild Holds Most Successful Bazaar

The gratifying sum of $700 was realized from the most successful "home-outfitting" bazaar held under the auspices of the Women's Parish Guild of Christ Church Cathedral in the Memorial Hall on Wednesday. Each stall was designed to represent the needs of one particular room in the home and the hall presented a most attractive appearance.

Mrs. George Miles acted as general convener and Mrs. J. W. Robinson and a bevy of helpers served a delicious tea. At the drawing-room stall, convened by Mrs. A. E. Greenwood, dainty cushions, lampshades, bags and bridge accessories were among the many wares offered for sale; Mrs. B. Chrow and her assistants sold silverware, luncheon cloths and similar things at the dining-room stall, while in the kitchen, in charge of Miss Lettice, utilitarian articles, such as tea towels, aprons, kitchen curtains and pot holders found ready purchasers. Delicious home cooking was appropriately sold at the pantry stall in charge of Mrs. E. E. Grant.

Mrs. G. T. Spikesley found ready sale for the pillow slips, bedspreads, runners and nighties at the bedroom stall. At the conservatory stall, Mrs. Wrigleworth sold flowers and growing plants. Fascinating babies' wear of all kinds, including hand-knitted shawls, dainty bootees and tiny garments were sold by Mrs. Walter Scott at her charming nursery stall; art treasures comprised the studio stall in charge of the girls' branch of the W.A., while smoking sets and other masculine accessories were in charge of the Men's Parish Guild at the den stall. Mrs. W. Finmore, costumed as a "granny," sold superfluities at her attic stall. Delicious home-made candy was a popular feature in charge of Mrs. Freyde.

The bazaar was open both afternoon and evening, patrons in the evening being entertained with a delightful musical programme by the A.Y.P.A. orchestra. The conveners are very grateful to merchants of the city for generous donations to the various stalls.

Junior Catholic Ladies' League Hold Card Party

A most successful bridge and five hundred party was held last evening in the Amphion Hall, under the auspices of the Junior Catholic Women's League, the proceeds from which will substantially augment the funds in aid of the Social Service League's Sunshine Camp at Saseenos, Sooke. About thirty tables were engaged in play. The prizes were awarded as follows: For bridge, Mr. C. Collins and Mrs. Tusey; five hundred, Rev. Father Scheelan and Miss Hagen; tombolas, Mrs. O'Neill, Mr. A. Thompson and Miss Margaret O'Neill.

A committee, under the convenership of Misses Eileen McPherson, Margaret O'Neill, Eulalia O'Neill, assisted by Misses Evelyn Cox and Marjorie Spencer, directed the arrangements for the event.

Announce Engagement Of Sir W. C. Anstruther

LONDON, April 30. — Today's papers carried the announcement of the engagement of Sir Windham Carmichael Anstruther and Fay Sibyl Rechnitzer, only child of Ernest Rechnitzer, of Berkeley Square and Hayward's Heat, Sussex.

Sir Windham arrived in England two years ago from Vancouver, after learning of his succession to the baronetcy on the death of a distant cousin. He had been working as a civil engineer in the interior of British Columbia, and when he reached England he became known as "the baronet from the backwoods."

The Anstruther family history goes back seven centuries, when Anstruthers were Scottish barons. One of the historic family titles is that of "Hereditary Carver to the Royal Household." By virtue of the title, the present baron, who is thirty-one years of age, is also "Hereditary Master of the Royal Household for Scotland."

FINALS REACHED IN WOMEN'S GOLF AT COLWOOD

Fivepin Averages at Olympic Alleys Are Captured by Al Falk

Elks' Trundler Gains Top Place With 221.3 for 62 Games During Season—Bob Laughton Second With 219.8 for 62 Games.

With an average of 221.3 for 62 games, Al Falk, Elks' fivepin trundler, heads the average list of the Olympic Senior Fivepin League for 1930-31, according to averages released yesterday by Secretary Art Porter. Bob Laughton, with 219.8 for 62 games, was second, and Jim Huxtable, with 219 for 45 games, third.

Falk has performed consistently all year, and well deserves the honors he has won. The number of bowlers has greatly increased during the past season, and it has been no easy matter for a league-leading bowler to uphold his average. Falk also won honors for high three-game aggregate during the year along with Les Fox, Times trundler. Both these men rolled 846 for three games. J. Hodgins captured the high single game title with 377.

Next Tuesday, at the Olympic Alleys, a fivepin handicap doubles tournament is to be held. Only members of the Olympic Senior Fivepin League will be eligible for the event. Entries for the contest must be handed in at the Olympic Alleys before 9 o'clock Saturday night. At this time the draws will be made.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Runner Who Received More Than the Bank President—In the year 1844, the president of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank of Baltimore received a salary of $600 per year, while the runner received $500. In 1858, due to an increase in business, new positions in the bank were created and a general increase in salaries was made possible, but the president received only $500, the runner being increased to $600.

School Children To Be Guests at Baseball Opener

THE Yuletide season is long past, but the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League is going to play Santa Claus to every boy and girl in the city under fifteen years of age on Saturday, by having them as their guests at the baseball opener between the Sons of Canada, last year's champions, and the Eagles. The ball game will get under way at 3 o'clock, but officials of the league have asked that the children be seated before that time.

ASSOCIATION DOING GOOD WORK IN CITY

Victoria Better Playing Fields Association Pressing for New Grounds

TO MAKE DRIVE TO SECURE NEW PARK

Since its organization, a year ago, the Victoria Better Playing Fields Association has made great progress in achieving its purpose of improving the existing playing grounds of the city and securing new grounds in those areas which are not adequately served. The association is interested in all kinds of sport and is prepared to act with all sporting organizations for the bettering of the playing fields. To help them in this end, members of the association desire that public spirit be enlisted and that the different sporting organizations of the city be encouraged to assist them in a drive for funds.

The executive of the Playing Fields Association is composed of members who represent each district of the city, and two aldermen appointed by the City Council. The annual membership fee is $1, and it is hoped to secure a permanent membership of 1,000.

McDONALD PROPERTY

The main objective of the association at present is the McDonald property, situated between Montreal, Oswego and Simcoe Streets, which the City Council has set aside for park purposes. The central portion of this park will give a playing area of 640 feet. The field has been approved by the Cricket Association and Victoria Rugby Union as an ideal site, and all lines of sport can be actively accommodated by it. Softball backstops in each corner would provide for four games being played at one time. The Softball League is urgently in need of playing grounds now, and this field will be of great assistance.

The making of the McDonald property into a first class playing field would relieve the pressure on the Royal Athletic Park, which is, during the playing season, being used practically every day for soccer, Rugby and baseball.

PUBLIC APPEAL

In order that these improvements may be made it is necessary to send out a public appeal as the City Council can not be expected to stand the brunt of the expenses. In view of this the Playing Fields Association has undertaken to raise $3,000 to be expended on the McDonald property. Up to the present time the association wishes to acknowledge the following donations: Junior Chamber of Commerce, $118; Native Sons of Canada, Assembly No. 1, $300; Baseball Association, $50; Rugby Union, $50. Further donations to the fund will be received at The Colonist office.

TO STAGE FROLIC

As another means of raising funds the association has secured the Crystal Garden for May 25, when it will stage a grand frolic and dance. Prizes, tombolas and games will be included in the programme for the entertainment of everyone. Tickets will go on sale immediately. Every dollar raised at this frolic will go to the conditioning of the McDonald property, and it is hoped that the public will respond generously. The executive of the association is considering a contest to secure a suitable name for the new field, the names sent in to go to the City Council for ratification.

The executive committee of the Playing Fields Association is composed of: Charles Banfield, president; Alderman John Worthington, Alderman James Adam, D. Mowat, C. V. Milton and V. L. Denton, secretary-treasurer.

New Champion to Be Named Today At Sporty Links

Mrs. Sayward-Wilson and Mrs. Parry Will Meet for Women's Championship This Afternoon—Former Dethrones Mrs. Philbrick, 2 and 1, and Latter Defeats Mrs. Bennett at 19th

Big Gallery Expected to Watch Final

A new champion will occupy the women's golf throne at the Royal Colwood Golf Club for the next twelve months. Yesterday Mrs. Philbrick, the defending champion, lost her crown when she went down before Mrs. Sayward-Wilson, 2 and 1, in their semi-final match, and the latter will meet Mrs. Parry, who eliminated Mrs. Bennett at the nineteenth hole, for the laurels this afternoon.

A rather remarkable coincidence occurred yesterday in the semi-final matches, when both losers enjoyed a three-hole lead at the turn. Both looked safe, but neither could withstand the strong challenges of the winners and lost.

Mrs. Sayward-Wilson played strong golf in dethroning Mrs. Philbrick, especially on the last nine. Rounding the turn three holes in the lead, Mrs. Philbrick looked like a cinch to enter the final eighteen, but her opponent won the tenth and eleventh to cut Mrs. Philbrick's lead to one hole. The next two holes were halved.

SQUARES MATCH

Then Mrs. Sayward-Wilson began to unloose a flock of pars, and she won the fourteenth to square the match, the fifteenth to take a one-hole lead and the sixteenth to go dormie two.

Mrs. Philbrick looked like she would take the match to the last green on the seventeenth green, when she looked like sinking a par four, but her putt rested half over the lip of the cup and would not drop, and the match was over.

Mrs. Philbrick, in the last nine, found considerable trouble with her woods and irons.

Mrs. Parry had to go an extra hole to win her match for the second successive day. On Wednesday Mrs. Parry staged an uphill battle before she could dispose of Mrs. Alan Morkill, and yesterday again demonstrated her come-back powers when she eliminated Mrs. Bennett.

WINS THREE IN ROW

Like Mrs. Philbrick, Mrs. Bennett looked like a winner when she entered the last nine, three holes in the lead, but her southpaw opponent soon shaved this lead and squared the match. Mrs. Parry won the tenth, eleventh and caught Mrs. Bennett by winning the twelfth. Mrs. Bennett went one up again by capturing the thirteenth.

The next four holes were halved in par figures, and Mrs. Bennett went to the last tee dormie one. A par five, while her opponent needed an extra stroke, gave Mrs. Parry the eighteenth, and once again the match was square and the pair proceeded to the nineteenth.

Mrs. Parry scored a par five on the extra hole, and the best Mrs. Bennett could do was a six, and the match was over.

Today's final between Mrs. Sayward-Wilson and Mrs. Parry will start at 1:30 o'clock, and a large gallery is expected to follow the match.

Yesterday's results follow:

Championship Flight

Mrs. Sayward-Wilson defeated Mrs. Philbrick, 2 and 1.

Mrs. Parry defeated Mrs. Bennett at the nineteenth.

First Flight

Miss P. Hogan defeated Mrs. Macfarlane, 2 and 1.

LARRY GAINS TO MEET VAN GOOLE

LONDON, April 30 (CP).—Before meeting Phil Scott at Leicester on June 13, Larry Gains, Toronto negro, who is Canadian heavyweight boxing champion, will fight Van Goole, official heavyweight champion of Belgium, at Leicester on May 12. Goole gained a decision over the Toronto man some years ago, but he will find Gains a different proposition this time. Goole also gained a decision some time ago over Harry Persson, the Norwegian, who had beaten Phil Scott.

First Carloads of Horses Arrive for Summer Meets Here

Many Old Favorites Are Among Shipment Which Arrived Yesterday Morning From Tanforan to Begin Training for Colwood and Willows

Several carloads of racehorses for the coming Summer meets, to be staged at Colwood and the Willows, arrived in Victoria yesterday morning from Tanforan. Among the horses are many of the old favorites that have performed on local tracks in past years along with quite a number of new ones. This first group will be housed at the Willows for the time being until the stables are full, after which Colwood will be used.

Those that arrived yesterday and horses already here, with their owners, are: General Sutton — Jim Rogan, Tuscador, Regal Chance, Golden Butterfly, Fairy Gold, Star Crescent, Bee Cee, Tetrol and Tuscalotta. Nineteen Expected to Start in 1,000 Guineas

Fine Field of Fillies Will Face Starter in Second Classic of English Racing Season at Newmarket—Atbara to Be Among Starters

NEWMARKET, Eng., April 30 (CP)—Nineteen fillies are ready to race in the One Thousand Guineas here tomorrow afternoon. The One Thousand is the season's second classic; it is also one of the only two classics for fillies only, the other being the Oaks at Epsom Downs.

The One Thousand will be run over the mile course, and all the winners of last year's great races for two-year-old fillies are among the probable starters, promising a fine renewal in the historic classic, first run in 1814.

Among the field is Atbara, by Tetratema, out of Aarriba, winner of the Queen Mary Stakes at Ascot and three other races as a two-year-old. She was the leading money-winner among the juvenile fillies last season. Lindao Ojos, by Buen Ojo, out of Fourfold, another probable starter, won six out of her eight starts last season. Four Course, by Tetratelma, out of Dinner, is another prominent contender, winner of the Newmarket July Stakes, Goodwood Richmond Stakes, and York Gimcrack Stakes in a brilliant two-year-old career.

When the racegoer turns to the One Thousand Guineas and the Oaks, he cannot help remembering those epic seasons when there were fillies of the super-excellent quality able to defeat colts and fillies alike in the three "open" classics—the Two Thousand, the Derby and the St. Leger, but the last filly to win the One Thousand and then capture the Derby was Tagalie, in 1912. Many other fillies have, of course, won one or more of the open classics in the long history or organized racing in England. Apparently this year will not be one of those outstanding seasons in which a filly has trounced her own class and then shown flying heels to the pick of the colts in the Epsom Blue Riband or the great old St. Leger, unless some of tomorrow's racers show a startling improvement in form and loom as real contenders at Epsom or Doncaster.

Meanwhile, the One Thousand is in its own right one of the greatest events of the flat racing season, and the fillies ready to start tomorrow are as follows:

T. Phil Perkins Loses Marathon Match to Youth

HOT SPRINGS, Va., April 30 (AP).—In one of the most spectacular matches ever played over the Cascades course, Billy Howell, eighteen-year-old Richmond golfer, today defeated T. Phil Perkins, former British amateur champion, one up in twenty-one holes in the semi-finals of the old Dominion golf tournament.

E. H. Bobbitt, of Hot Springs, defeated Winfield Donham, of Montclair, N.J., 5 and 4, and will meet Howell tomorrow in the finals at 36 holes.

Howell, who is middle Atlantic champion, fought a great battle against his more experienced opponent, winning on the twenty-first green when Perkins missed a short put.

GOLF TOURNAMENT AT HIGH SCHOOL

Teachers and Students of Victoria Institution to Tee Off at Macauley This Afternoon

Fourteen teachers and students of the Victoria High School will tee off this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Macauley Point Golf Club in the annual golf tournament of the school. Because of their experience the teachers are favorites to win the match. The students, however, promise to put up a strong fight, since there are many budding young players in the institution. The draw, with the students named first, follows:

Lynn Patrick vs. H. Smith.
Gordon Moore vs. Mr. Stewart.
Ronnie Elliott vs. L. Hardy.
Ken Lawson vs. Capt. A. Boyd.
Leo Derman vs. C. Campbell.
Norman Florence vs. John Gough.
B. Francis vs. Mr. Hibberson.

WEST BROMWICH IMPROVES PLACE

English Cup Winners Take Big Step Towards Promotion to First Division

LONDON, April 29 (CP).—West Bromwich Albion, who already have won the English Football Association Cup, took a definite step toward promotion from the Second Division to the First Division of the English League today when they beat Stoke in a midweek fixture. They won by one goal to nil and passed Tottenham Hotspurs, who have been holdings second place in the championship table, which carries promotion with it. West Bromwich now lead by one point, but the final decision on the divisional locale of the two clubs next season must be left till the last games of the season next Saturday.

DERN FOULS EVKO AND LOSES BOUT

PORTLAND, April 30 (AP).—John Evko, Chicago heavyweight wrestler, won on a foul over Ira Dern, Salt Lake City, in a bout here last night.

The wrestlers had split the first two falls, Evko winning the first in sixteen minutes with a wriglock, and Dern taking the second in nine minutes with an airplane spin.

Back for the third fall, Evko tossed Dern out of the ring, and when Dern climbed back he placed a stiff right to Evko's jaw and knocked him down. The referee promptly awarded the bout to Evko.

Twenty Grand Gaining Favor For Big Races

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP).—More and more is Mrs. Payne Whitney's star three-year-old, Twenty Grand, gaining the favor of race followers as a candidate for the Preakness and Kentucky Derby. Co-favorite now with Equipoise, after the latter's dismal failure in the Chesapeake Stakes on Saturday, Twenty Grand needs little more than one good race to assume the favorite's position.

The Whitney star has not raced as a three-year-old, but after a fine time trial yesterday is slated to face the barrier in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica on Saturday. Running with Anchors Aweigh, conqueror of Equipoise and another eligible for the two $50,000 stakes, Twenty Grand did a mile and a furlong in 1:56 3-5 at Belmont Park yesterday. The fractional times, with the two colts matching stride for stride, were :24 for the quarter, :48 3-5 at the half, 1:14 for six furlongs and 1:41 3-5 for the mile.

DECLARED INELIGIBLE

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP).—Joseph Genewich, New York Giant pitcher, and Johnny Gooch, veteran catcher for the Cincinnati Reds, today were placed on the ineligible list by Baseball Commissioner Landis for failing to report for duty ten days after the opening of the season. Alfred Weston, of the Boston Braves, also was ruled ineligible.

METROPOLITAN COURTS OPENED

Ceremonies Held on Saturday and Wednesday to Officially Open 1931 Season

With Dr. C. T. Scott officiating, the Metropolitan tennis courts were opened last Saturday afternoon. A second formal opening was held on Wednesday for the benefit of the players who do not work on Wednesday afternoons. W. E. Harper, who gave the opening address, commended the young people for the success of their hard labors under Charlie Walker.

The group formed two teams for a tournament, which was won by No. 1 team. The results were: Miss Lewis and Robins lost to Miss Hudson and Harper, 5-8; Miss Cliff and Townsend won from Miss Butler and Bewell, 7-1; Miss Lorimer and Walker won from Miss Elliott and Dennsted, 6-2; Miss Lorimer and Robins lost to Miss Elliott and Bewell, 4-6; Miss Elliott and Robins won from Miss Gates and Bewell, 6-2; Miss Lorimer and Arnall lost to Miss Hudson and Harper, 5-7; Miss Gates and Walker won from Miss Beecher and Bewell, 6-3.

Men's Doubles—Townsend and Arnall lost to Lyons and Harper, 4-6; Townsend and Harper won from Walker and Arnall, 6-1.

Women's Doubles—Miss Cliff and Lewis won from Misses Butler and Hudson, 6-0.

The Metropolitan club is hoping to revive the Church Tennis League in Victoria, and a meeting will be called in the near future. There are several cups belonging to the former league, and the club would appreciate the returning of these to the Y.M.C.A.

EVERETT MARSHALL THROWS SARPOLIS

LOS ANGELES, April 30 (AP).—Everett Marshall, blonde grappler giant from La Junta, Colo., defeated Dr. Karl Sarpolis, Greek heavyweight, in a wild wrestling exhibition here last night, two falls out three.

Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame football star, vanquished Dick Raines in two straight falls, the first in 8 minutes 23 seconds with a double leg hold and body slam, and the second in 9 minutes 47 seconds with an overhead body slam. Savoldi weighed 202; Haines, 204.

WHALEY CAPTURES ROTARY TOURNEY

PORTLAND, April 30 (AP).—Ralph Whaley, Seattle, turned in a low score of 73 for all classes in the annual golf tournament held in connection with the Rotary International district convention.

George Butterfield, Portland, led the class "A" division with a 74. Second place went to Ralph Rogers, Vancouver, B.C., who counted 75. Alex Grey, Seattle, and H. B. Shofner, Portland, tied for third place with cards of 76.

Down but Not Counted Out

BILLIARD LEAGUE WINDS UP SEASON

Close to Four Hundred Attend Smoking Concert and Presentation of Prizes

The most successful season in the history of the Interservice Billiard League was brought to a close last night at a largely attended smoking concert at the Veterans of France clubrooms. Close to four hundred members and friends attended the presentation of prizes and enjoyed the splendid concert which followed. President G. E. Green, of the Veterans of France, occupied the chair, and President Albert Downs, of the Army and Navy Veterans, presented the prizes to the various winners.

The following took part in the programme: Comrades Jackman, Mathieson, Lea, King, Grey, Durham, McDonough and McGill.

President J. Food, of the Pro Patria Branch, spoke briefly.

ALEXANDER TAKES LEAD IN BIG SIX

Slugging Detroit Tiger Raises His Mark to .509—Davis Drops to Second Place

The major leagues had a new batting leader today. Dale Alexander, slugging Detroit Tiger, went to the top when he hit safely in three out of four tries against Cleveland yesterday. His .509 average put him ahead of Virgil Davis, Phillie catcher, who went hitless in three attempts and dropped to .500. The Tiger star was well ahead of the field in total hits, with 27 in fourteen games played.

The leaders:

First of Summer Tennis Dances at J.B.A.A. Saturday

On Saturday night another of the J.B.A.A.'s popular dances will be held in the Gorge clubrooms, when the Tennis Club will hold the first of its Summer dances. This is to be the first in a series that will be held throughout the Summer season. Flannels for the event will be optional. The four-piece orchestra of the club will be in attendance to guide the dancers, and dancing will continue until a late hour.

Kid Berg Will Meet Herrera At N.Y., May 8

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP).—Tony Herrera, Mexican lightweight, accepted terms today for a ten-round bout with Jack (Kid) Berg at Madison Square Garden, New York, May 8. The bout substitutes for the Jimmy McLarnin-Billy Petrolle bout, which was postponed because of Petrolle's illness.

CRICKET PRACTICE

Members of the Five C's cricket team will hold a practice tomorrow at Beacon Hill Park, commencing at 2.30 o'clock. All members are asked to turn out, and anyone wishing to play with the team is invited to attend the practice.

Believe It or Not

DUNCAN, April 30.—Believe it or not, an honest man has been found at last. Had Diogenes been living in 1931 instead of in the fourth century B.C., he would have brought his quest to a successful conclusion in Duncan.

In a softball game, played here last night, the prodigy was revealed in the person of Kelly Lawless, of the 16th Scottish, who refused to accept Umpire Macdonald's decision that he was safe at third, following a close decision at the hot corner of the diamond. Lawless insisted that he was out and left the base. He was the third out in the inning, and the incident occurred at a critical point in the game.

The base runner's decision created amazement amongst the spectators and was a popular one with the opposing team. His teammates, however, were highly indignant and claimed that this was one occasion on which the umpire's decision was undoubtedly right.

It is claimed that this is the first time in the long history of baseball that such an incident has occurred.

THISTLES' LINE-UP

The Saanich Thistles' line-up against the Jokers in the Milton Cup final tomorrow, will be as follows: Bridges, Price, Armitage, H. Williams, Viggers, Jim Crowe, Minnis, McMillan, Burns, Easler and R. Williams.

ESQUIMALT TO PRACTISE

The Esquimalt senior football eleven will hold a practice game with the Esquimalt juniors tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Canteen Grounds.

APRIL ETCHINGS

Most emperors have had their fling,
Most rulers now are on the wing,
But Hornsby's still the Cubville King.

Now dogwood blossoms sweep the land,
But with a niblick in his hand
The duffer sees but rough and sand.

Now April blooms are white like snow,
But what is this to Rooters' Row
With Statville's Sultan limping so?

The birds still sing of woodland joys,
But where is that once roaring noise,
"Come on—come on—you equipoise?"

THE GUESSING GROWS

Quite apparently this young season will soon be replete with a lot of baffled guessing. First there was the quick knockout scored by Canzoneri in the Berg affair. After this an even rougher jolt arrived when Equipoise, favorite for the Preakness and the Kentucky Derby, a 1-7 shot, finished last in the Chesapeake Stakes, trailing five rivals in a six-horse race. Even though afflicted for the time with some ailment, it is seldom that a 1-7 shot winds up this far from the money—12 1-2 lengths behind.

Also, it might be noted that Cliff Sutter's victory over George Lott in the Mason and Dixon feature at White Sulphur won't make the work of the Davis Cup committee any easier with Shields, Wood, Sutter, Lott and Van Ryn to pick from. Another guess is involved as to what the final nominations will be, with most of those named so evenly matched. And there is considerable guessing going on in regard to the Tilden-Richards meeting. Expert opinion seems to be pretty well split. At any rate, in view of what has happened so far, there is a growing chill in the matter of backing odds on favorites.

THE BATTLE OF CARNOUSTIE

Joe Kirkwood, recent winner of the Southeastern Open, is now on his way to Scotland where he will join the American colony in the coming battle of Carnoustie for the British Open.

Although Bobby Jones will be missing, British golfers will get plenty of outside competition Mac Smith has been across for more than a month tuning up at the old course that gave him his start. Horton Smith is also over the water, working desperately to get his game going again. There will be several others, and if Kirkwood can hold the pace he was setting at Augusta, he will be one of the most dangerous. The Australian trick shot star has never won a national title, although he has threatened more than once. He is still full of hope, and this may be his year.

THE TENSION OF DEFEAT

A ragged start can lead to worse trouble through the tension of defeat. This is the unsettling blow that has struck the Dodgers. They got away badly, tried too hard to recover, and so became worse. This can happen easily enough to an individual or to a team. A few defeats soon lead to overtrying and to the type of brooding off the field that leads to high tension in action.

I've seen fine hitters go two or three games without a hit and promptly bump into enough mental and physical knots to suppress an elephant.

The Dodgers expected to get away at top speed. They hit greater strength in Bill McKechnie's Braves than they looked for, started staggering, and then the overtrying aftermath arrived. This club has too much good pitching and hitting to be throttled much longer, but in the meantime more than one strong rival is getting harder to catch.

LAST OF THE TRIUMVIRATE

The first triumvirate to rule baseball consisted of Ban Johnson, Garry Herrmann and Harry Pullman. Herrmann was the last to go. From being one of the wealthiest men connected with the game, he sank to poverty and a long period of illness followed. It has been a strange turn that Ban Johnson, Ernest Barnard and Garry Herrmann should die in the same Spring, since they are three of the five men who have helped to rule the destinies of the game in the last twenty years. Mr. Herrmann was one of the greatest of all hosts in an older order of the game, when the big party was part of the schedule. He was a big factor in building up the sport.

ROY BAKER TO REFEREE BOUTS

Popular Official Will Be Third Man in Ring at Tillicum Gym Card Tomorrow

Roy Baker, local official, has been named referee for the boxing card to be presented at the Tillicum gymnasium tomorrow night. Baker was selected from a list of eight, and his choice will, no doubt, be well received by local fight fans. Tomorrow's card will see the return of boxing after an absence of several months, and judging by the way the pasteboards are going, there will be a big turnout of fans.

A substitution in one of the preliminary events was made yesterday by Promoter Bob Vipond. In place of the Best-Jacobson mix, the local promoter has signed Spider Kelly, Vancouver, and Frankie Neal, local battler. This change was made necessary through Best leaving town to take a position Up-Island. The boys will go four rounds at 135 pounds.

Rocky Brooks Loses To Jack Fosgren at Vancouver Mat Show

VANCOUVER, April 30 (CP).—Ted Thye, Portland, awarded the odd fall on a foul, defeated Stanley Pinto, New York, in the main event of a wrestling card here tonight. Thye weighed 192 pounds, Pinto 206.

In a four-rounder Jack McLaughlin, Vancouver, and Ernie Arthur, Trail, both claimants of the Canadian middleweight championship, wrestled to a draw.

Jack Fosgren, Vancouver, took the only fall of the match in a three-round preliminary, to defeat "Rocky" Brooks, Victoria. Fosgren used an airplane spin and body slam for the fall.

Jumbo Davies Earns Draw in Bout at Tacoma

TACOMA, April 30 (AP).—Charlie Miller, San Francisco, weighing 127½ pounds, won a clear decision over Harry Ketchel, Tacoma, 122¾, in the six-round main event of the ring programme here tonight.

Jumbo Davies, Victoria, 130-pounder, and Les Bain, Tacoma, drew in six rounds.

Nels Ferguson, Calgary welter, and Jimmy Beck, Tacoma, drew in the other six-rounder. The decision was loudly protested by the fans, who figured that Ferguson won five of the six rounds.

In the opening four-rounders Norman Jones, Tacoma welter, won over Sidney Brent, Seattle, and Russell McCoy, Seattle bantam, won from Pinky Ketcham, Tacoma.

JOKERS' LIN-UP

The Jokers' line-up against Saanich Thistles tomorrow will be: Chalmers, Carmichael, Leggett, Heal, Campbell, Stofer, Roger, Bunyan, Anderson, Watson, McBey. Reserves, Pedgett and Collie.

Injunction Started To Attempt to Stop Sharkey-Carnera Go

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP).—An application for an injunction to restrain Primo Carnera from going through with a contract to fight Jack Sharkey at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, June 10, for a rival promoter, was filed today in Federal Court by the Madison Square Garden Corporation of Illinois.

Panama Al Brown Wins From Belgian

PARIS, April 30 (AP).—Panama Al Brown, generally recognized bantamweight champion of the world, knocked out Verbist, Belgian featherweight champion, in the eighth round of their ten-round bout here tonight.

Nimble toes that never tire!

IN tennis you must be "on your toes" all the time . . . to deliver an ace service or a smashing drive . . . to cover all parts of the court with flashing speed.

Tennis leaders all over the Dominion choose Fleet-Foot shoes. They know that feet can be kept lithe, nimble and untiring only by wearing the right kind of shoes.

Fleet-Foot Shoes are designed, by athletes for athletes. They are strong and firm where support is needed . . . at ankle, instep and the all-important arch. They cushion the ball and heel of the foot against shocks. They keep the foot straight and true to natural shape. And they grip with bulldog hold on any surface, hard or soft.

A new feature in Fleet-Foot Shoes for children is the "Kumfort Insole", which absorbs perspiration and prevents discoloration of light stockings.

CAPITOL THEATRE Modern youth is once again defended, this time with a tenderness and understanding new to the screen, in the romantic Fox Movietone drama, "The Dancers," directed by Chandler Sprague and featuring Lois Moran—it opened to delighted audiences at the Capitol Theatre yesterday afternoon. "The Dancers" is the screen version of the noted play of the same name by Sir Gerald Du Maurier and Viola Tree.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE John Ford, whose "Four Sons" won the Photoplay gold medal as the best picture of 1928, enters the comedy field with his direction of "Up the River," the Fox Movietone mirthquake now drawing crowds to the Playhouse Theatre. Spencer Tracy and Warren Hymer have the leading roles.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Fay Wray portrays a daughter of the dons in "Captain Thunder," the Warner Brothers and Vitaphone picture of romance of Old Mexico, now showing at the Columbia Theatre. Victor Varconi enacts the title role as a hard-riding two-gun heart-smasher. Alan Crosland directed.

DOMINION THEATRE If you like love stories you will like "Ten Cents a Dance," the picture which closes a three-day run tonight at the Dominion Theatre. And even if you don't like love stories, you will enjoy the film, because this photoplay has an unusual story angle. If you like girls you will like this production, because the cast boasts a number of beauties.

COLISEUM THEATRE The Busch Gardens at Pasadena, California, one of the most famous formal gardens in the world, were used as a "double" for the Champs Elysee of Paris during the filming of Maurice Chevalier's new romantic comedy, "Playboy of Paris," which is now showing at the Coliseum Theatre.

CONSERVATIVE SCORES STRATEGIC VICTORY IN BY-ELECTION CAMPAIGN

SCARBOROUGH, Yorkshire, April 30 (CP).—The limit of good temper among party politicians was reached at the first encounter of the rival candidates in the Scarborough and Witby by-election campaign today.

J. Ramsay Muir, Liberal, arrived at the cattle market to find Paul Latham, Conservative, already there with his supporters. After the candidates had shaken hands and beamed at each other with the utmost good nature, Mr. Muir suggested they should toss to see who would speak first. Mr. Latham would not hear of it.

"Your arrangements were made first—go ahead. I'll stay and listen," he told Mr. Muir.

Mr. Muir argued, but finally spoke first and then moved to his next engagement, leaving the market to Mr. Latham, who scored a strategic victory because he had the last word and the advantage of being able to reply to the points in Mr. Muir's speech.

The by-election is necessitated by the retirement of Captain Sidney Herbert, Conservative member since 1922.

Freebooter's Descendent Relies on the Rolling Pin

Descendent of Old Dutch Sea Rover Tours World as Cook and Enjoys Unique Experiences—Had Job in Lumber Camp

MONTREAL, April 30 (CP).—Buck Vliet, famed freebooter of the Spanish Main, carried a broom at the masthead to show that he swept the seas. Dorothea Vliet, his lineal descendant, interviewed a short time ago when she stopped over for a transient visit to Montreal, has conquered the New World with rolling pin.

Thirty years of age, chestnut-haired, vivacious, Dutch by birth, an enviable linguist, speaking English with a full command of English and American expressions and a rich nautical tang, Dorothea, who had just returned from Northern Ontario, Cochrane way, walked into reportorial ken in the Place Viger station when she reported to authorities the loss of her valise containing, besides the usual feminine flummeries and perquisites, a rolling pin.

OF SCOTTISH FIR

"It's a rolling pin with memories attached to it," Dorothea told the inquiring reporter. It's made of Scotch fir and twice I've had it relathed—once in Vancouver and once in Buenos Aires."

With easy confidence and the production of a much-vised passport and various ships' papers and other testimonials, she told a story that Richard Halliburton might covet as his own.

On arrival at the station she wore a chamois-leather skirt, slashed at the bottom like a farrier's apron, and a man's blue denim shirt retailored to make a blouse, and looked very smart in a strictly businesslike fashion. Later she changed into a frock that made her as chic as a Parisienne.

NOT PROUD OF HIM

"Buck Vliet, one of my great-great-grandfathers," she smiled, interviewed over post-prandial teacups, "was an outsider and a bounder and everybody knows it. He sailed from Holland under letters of marque, turned later to privateering on the Spanish Main, and forgetting his wife and children in Rotterdam is said to have had in South America as many wives as Landru.

"But there, everybody loves a scoundrel provided he's a thoroughgoing blackguard and does things a la mode! People are proud of villainous ancestry. They say, 'my grandfather was a voyou—he strung his wife up with spunyarn.' But you never hear them say, 'my grandfather was a filthy pig—he smoked castaway cigars.'

"But—pouf!—I don't care what people say—do you?

"When I was twenty I went to London and worked in one hotel after another. I wanted to be a chef, but I found that while a woman can be a transatlantic flier, a lawyer, a male impersonator on the stage or even an ocean-going captain, she never can hope to become a chef in London.

WANDERLUST URGE

"That's why I traveled. In Holland I had learned to make the most delicious patisseries francaises a la hollandaise—if you know what I meant. I worked as a pastry cook in Bournemouth, on the south coast of England, at Brussels, and then in Buenos Aires.

"You know, I suppose some of Buck Vliet's blood still courses in my veins. When I crossed the ocean, I got a tremendous yearning to go places and see things. It took me a long time, but at last I went to sea on a Dutch trading vessel as cook, and after that I traveled almost everywhere on the old Spanish Main."

Pausing to shuck the paper off a lump of sugar, Dorothea produced certificates in English and Dutch, showing that she had embarked at Buenos Aires, New York, Shanghai and elsewhere, in such widely-assorted capacities as cook, scullion, glory-hole stewardess, storekeeper's helper. In Hongkong, she said, she had to wait two months for a ship when she deserted another due to bad living conditions, and only succeeded in placing herself by waiting for vessels to clear until one of them, shy a cook at the last moment, accepted the first applicant.

"That's what we call doing a pier-head jump," she explained. "It's the nearest I've come to being shanghaied. But once I impersonated a boy and got away with it."

The call of the land got her at last.

PLEASED LOGGERS

"Every sailor," she said, "has weak moments when he talks about retiring to the country, thousands of miles from Old Devil Sea, and keeping chickens. I landed in Montreal and decided to stay. That's how I came to angle—successfully—for a job as cook in a lumber camp. At first I had to go as cookee to a grand-jobber's cache near Cochrane, and then I had to do chore-boy's work into the bargain. Cookee? That's what they call a cook's mate, or a matey, at sea.

"When they extended operations I got a cook's job. They liked the cut of my jib, I guess. Jove! I made those lumberjacks think it was their birthday, and still cut costs to the bone!

"What a life, though! They usen't to be allowed to speak at table, under the unwritten rule of the camps. They sent up their plates for second helpings, though—what we call 'afterwards' on the briny. And never a man of them didn't respect me just as much as he respected his curate. Oh, they're gentlemen, those lumberjacks!"

PLANS SEA TRIP

Dorothea had $300 saved up and intended to take life easy for a while. She left here to visit friends in Halifax but planned to embark again for an ocean trip that she hoped would touch Holland.

Nova Scotia she knews very well. Buck Vliet visited the Maritimes, she said, and there are Dutch settlements in Nova Scotia, recognizable by their names—perhaps a trifle transmuted by time.

One of Dorothea's souvenirs was a cowbell with the cast inscription "De Nobei Me Fecit—MDCCXLVII."

"I got it off a cow, and bought it from the farmer for a song," she said. "I used to use it to kl-yi the boys—tell them to 'come and get it,' you know, at the camp. But I value it. I'm pretty sure it was brought over by the old Dutch settlers of the Maritimes. Yes. It's one of the things I prize most. That and my rolling pin."

It must be added that Dorothea found her mislaid valise.

Craft and Patience Are Rewarded

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

When craft and patience are combined,
They're hard to beat you'll surely find.
—Old Mother Nature.

Reddy Fox said nothing to Mrs. Reddy about what he had discovered in regard to the nesting place of Mr. and Mrs. Whitetail. He first wanted to find that nest. He was sure that it was in the Old Pasture. He was just as sure that it was near the lower side. Knowing the Old Pasture as he did, he felt that with this much to do on he ought to be able to find that nest.

He didn't go down there at once and openly begin hunting for it. He was too crafty for that. He didn't want Whitetail and Mrs. Whitetail to suspect that he was in the least interested in their affairs. No, sir, he didn't want that. He wanted to find that nest without himself being seen in that neighborhood. He wanted to be sure that there were young in the nest before he took any chances of being seen.

For awhile he was content to keep watch from that big flat rock where he liked to take a sun bath. He hoped that Whitetail would again drop food to Mrs. Whitetail. Then he would watch more closely, so as to see just where Mrs. Whitetail appeared from and disappeared. It did happen again. As before, Mrs. Whitetail came up from back of some small trees marking the boundary of the Old Pasture. As before, Whitetail circled until he was directly over her and then dropped what he was carrying. It was a small Rat this time. As before, Mrs. Whitetail turned half over and caught the Rat in her great claws. Then she glided down just where she had appeared.

Reddy grinned. He was satisfied now. "This is going to be easy," thought he. "There will be no trouble in finding that nest now."

But Reddy was mistaken. Smart as he is, he sometimes forgets that others may be and are quite as smart. Neither time had Whitetail flown directly toward that nest. He had begun to call long before he reached the Old Pasture. Mrs. Whitetail had at once quietly slipped from the nest, hurried along on the ground under the bushes for a few feet, then taken to her wings and flying low had almost brushed the tops of the low bushes for some distance before mounting above the tree-tops. She knew that when flying low that way she couldn't be seen from any distance. When she returned to the nest it was in the same manner.

So it was that Reddy Fox spent a lot of time hunting in the wrong place. He went over every foot of ground just back of those young trees along the edge of the Old Pasture, but not a sign of a nest did he see. By and by he began to suspect that he had been fooled. He didn't like to admit it. Most people don't like to admit being fooled. But when he did admit it he stopped wasting time there looking for that nest and being crafty, tried another plan. He hid right there. He crept under some thick bushes where he could see, but was not likely to be seen, and there he remained for the greater part of a day.

He didn't even see the Whitetails that day, for he couldn't see the Green Meadows from there. For a long time nothing happened. Then he heard the scream of Whitetail and instantly he was alert. He heard Whitetail call again and then he saw Mrs. Whitetail appear above the bushes some distance to his right. She came, skimming the tops of the bushes where he lay, and then began to mount into the air. He saw her catch a Mouse that Whitetail dropped to her and then she returned the way she had come, dropping down into the bushes at the point where he had seen her appear.

Reddy grinned. He waited for a few minutes. Silently and with the greatest care he stole forward. He reached the place where Mrs. Whitetail had disappeared. He was more cautious than ever. He came to a little opening. The ground was wet and swampy. Peeping out from the bushes he saw beyond a little bush-covered mound of dry ground. With eager eyes he looked that mound over. He saw no nest and at first no sign of Mrs. Whitetail. Then he saw caught in a bush a long feather. Reddy grinned again. He knew now where that nest was.

The next story: "Reddy Knows When He Has Enough."

Reddy grinned. He was satisfied now

Tests show economy of Hupmobile Free Wheeling

WHEN your Free-Wheeling Hupmobile travels at 50 miles per hour, the engine idles at only 8!

In a scientific test, the engine of a New Free-Wheeling Hupmobile used 44% less engine revolutions on a 120 mile trip than the conventional car; in another test, Free-Wheeling showed a 40% saving over the usual type of car.

Naturally, a saving in engine revolutions means a saving in fuel, oil, engine wear. Hupmobile Free-Wheeling cuts your oil and fuel bills 12% to 20%! A not-to-be-ignored economy! And because you can shift gears in second or high without touching the clutch, Hupmobile Free-Wheeling introduces a new driving luxury—undisturbed physical comfort and mental relaxation.

See these unparalleled advantages in action. Ask for a trial drive. Nothing wins you quite so fast. Notice that all New Hupmobile Sixes and Eights have Free-Wheeling.

News and Notes of the Interior

FROST DAMAGES FRUIT

PENTICTON.—Recent hard frosts hit Southern Okanagan orchards in many sections with devastating effect. Cherries suffered the greatest damage with a particularly heavy loss in the Oliver district. The loss in cherries in the Oliver area will probably run to 75 per cent. Peaches were also badly damaged there, perhaps as much as 60 per cent. Apples were hurt and pears received some damage, but apricots came through somewhat better. Some of the Oliver orchards in the lower levels were wiped out entirely, in so far as this year's crop is concerned, but in the higher pumping areas less damage was done. It is predicted that Oliver will not have more than a third of the fruit crop expected there this year.

BRIDGING NECHACO RIVER

PRINCE GEORGE. — A noteworthy undertaking at Nichol, twenty-eight miles west of here, is the construction of a bridge across the Nechaco River by Allan Boyd and Thomas Wren, to facilitate the movement of ties from the north side of the river to the C.N.R. tracks. The bridge is now more than half built.

IMPORT VEGETABLES

QUESNEL.—Cariboo turnips are among the best grown in the province; but not enough of them are raised to supply the local demand. Quesnel merchants are at present shipping in turnips and cabbage from Vancouver. Cabbage retails here at $1.80 a ton; turnips at $70, and carrots at $75.

BUY BLUEBELL MINE

TRAIL.—Acquisition of the Bluebell mine and adjoining properties, Kootenay Lake, is reported by W. M. Archibald, vice-president in charge of mines for the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, in his annual report to Vice-President and General Manager S. G. Blaylock. The report will be presented to the shareholders at their annual meeting at Montreal, May 6.

PROGRESS WITH BRIDGE

NEW HAZELTON.—Good progress is being made on the new Hagwilget high-level bridge by the contractors, Baynes & Horie. The cables have been slung and the men are now engaged in clamping the cables and placing the drop cables. The next step will be to commence to span the canyon with steel. At present, the men are using a catwalk, a skeleton bridge swung on light cables, to travel back and forth on in the course of their work.

TRAIL BY-LAWS CARRY

TRAIL. — Trail property owners endorsed the $10,000 Street Repairing By-Law and the $5,500 Waterworks Extension By-Law at the polls recently, but failed by four affirmative votes to give the $30,000 Trail Creek Channel By-Law sufficient majority. There were fifty-two more affirmative than negative, but not enough to pass the by-law. Two fewer negative would have passed it.

MILL TO RESUME

MERRITT.—It is expected that the Nicola Pine Mills will resume lumbering operations here when their mill will reopen early in June. Logging will start in May in the Coquihalla district, and a road is being built into the Bear Creek area near here. Lumber orders are expected from Eastern Canada and England.

PARK COMMISSIONERS OPPOSE PROPOSALS FOR PIER AND BUS ROUTE

VANCOUVER, April 30.—On the votes of Commissioners E. G. Baynes, C. E. Tisdall and Mrs. C. R. Townley, the Park Board today decided against the proposed pleasure pier on English Bay and a bus route through Stanley Park for a First Narrows ferry service.

Representing W. L. Mackenzie and principals, H. M. Drost intimated that the board will be asked to meet between $4,000 and $5,000 expenses incurred in preparing plans for the pier projected for the foot of Bidwell Street on the ninety-day option granted by the commissioners recently.

The vote against the proposition at today's meeting was not because of objections to plans but was in opposition to the general principle of "desecrating" the beach.

The bus route planned by Henry Bell-Irving for the First Narrows ferry service would interfere with development plans of Greater Vancouver District Water Board, E. A. Cleveland informed the Park Commissioners.

Bothered With Pimples Four Years. Healed by Cuticura.

"My face was covered with pimples and red blotches. The pimples itched and burned and when I scratched them they started to bleed. Sometimes they would partly heal and then break out again. I was bothered with them for four years.

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they helped to keep the trouble from spreading. I purchased more and in three weeks' time the trouble began to disappear. I used four cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and was completely healed." (Signed) Joe Macheska, 57 Dovercourt Road, Toronto, Ont.

The Secret of MARGARET YORKE

By Kathleen Norris

CHAPTER XIX

When Margaret met Stan before breakfast the next day, it was strangely hard to meet his eyes with all the frank pleasure that such a friendship should insure. Margaret, brushing masses of matted wet leaves from the porch, her black gown half covered by her heavy silk Japanese jacket, raised her blue eyes with a conscious effort, tried to speak, tried to smile, and failed in both.

Stanley, wearing his becoming old tweeds, bent over her brown hand. They were both a little flushed and incoherent as they greeted each other.

The morning had broken gloriously, in a flood of brilliant sunshine.

Margaret and Stanley and Jim walked about the place, and to all three of them there was heaven in the Winter morning that bore so sweet a resemblance to the Spring. Margaret picked great double white violets, and pale blue violets on their frail, long, jointed stems, and ever afterward the scent of them carried her back to this delicious hour, when all the world seemed made for herself and Stanley.

Presently they went back to a hearty breakfast, and then Margaret disappeared to superintend household affairs, and Stanley went down to the farrowing-sheds with Battersby.

That was the end of the happy time. For just before luncheon, Shirley and the Willis Hyde-Browns arrived.

Instantly pandemonium awakened. Shirley looked stunning in the big brown furs she wore upon her arrival, and almost more attractive in the white woolly sweater, white skirt, thick white stockings and white boots she immediately put on. She was in glorious spirits, witty, vivacious, uncritical and enthusiastic.

"Stan and I will be here a good deal of the time—at least, I believe those are my orders!" Shirley said, with a humorous look. "He's mad about the place, and I must say I think I'm going to be as cracked as he is! Isn't it a nice old dive?"

She introduced Margaret prettily. "This is Miss Yorke, Constance. You know Miss Yorke, Billy," she said. "Did Mr. Crittenden get drowned coming down?" she asked.

"No, he got down in the clear weather," Margaret answered, feeling her manner wooden, and her heart lead. "But the storm came back, around the mountain, at about four and kept him."

"Fancy!" Shirley said, unsuspiciously and indifferently. This was before Stanley had returned from the lower farm and before he knew of her arrival. The women went indoors and Shirley, briskly changing her clothing, chattered away happily, holding Margaret by an occasional question.

Mrs. Hyde-Brown was an Englishwoman, with an Englishwoman's delightful sureness of herself and her class. Margaret had not been in her presence five minutes before she felt herself pleasantly relegated to the rank of the nursery governess.

"I wonder if you'd be so very kind as to get me a glarce of water, Miss Yorke?" Constance said.

"Certainly!" But Margaret's face flushed, and when she had returned with the water Constance and Shirley were talking of the wedding. Constance begged that it might be before Christmas, when she and Billy were going to New York, and Shirley assured her that it would surely be long before that.

Margaret's heart turned to stone. From this moment everything went at cross-purposes.

Stanley found an enthusiastic admirer of his acres, his cattle, his establishment generally, in Constance Hyde-Brown. She asked Stanley casual impressive questions as to the English dairy farms he had seen; had he ever seen Lord Exmoor's herd? Tommy Exmoor was quite too absurd about them.

Shirley took her cue from her friend. She was interested and intelligent, too. Oh, Stan had built the new pews, hadn't he? She pouted when they all laughed at the term; stanchions, then, she amended, prettily flushed.

Willis Hyde-Brown, with the age-old pleasure of the male in his young wife's success, also absorbed Stan with an undertone conversation about some college friend. Margaret, who had left the house with them at Stan's request, found herself ignored and superfluous, walking with Willis and Shirley, and seized the first possible opportunity for slipping away and returning to the house.

Stanley, man-fashion, saw nothing. Shirley had suddenly returned to her nicest mood, the only mood in which he and she had anything in common; she was speaking his language.

Contentedly they settled down to bridge, after lunch, on the porch. The afternoon flew; it was four o'clock, and the sunshine was suddenly gone, and they had moved in beside the fire, before Stanley, thrilling over the last hand, thought to wonder what had become of Margaret.

"I wonder whether Miss Yorke wouldn't like to play a rubber? We could cut in," he said.

Constance raised surprised but good-natured eyebrows.

"Does she play? How very odd!" she smiled. "I thought she was the little boy's governess?"

"She was a sort of companion, daughter, everything, to my aunt," Stanley explained in an undertone, with a glance towards the door of her room.

"I don't think I would, Stan," Shirley said mildly, with a faint negative motion of her head. "It means that we have to pivot, it upsets the gambling, and everything. We've just taken three hundred points from Billy, who doesn't seem to grasp the game at all," she added, with a triumphant smile for Willis, "and he's laying for us!"

The hands had meanwhile been dexterously dealt by Constance, who disliked losing large sums at bridge, and was thirsting for revenge. Stanley succumbed to the subtle temptation of the thirteen concealed cards and sank into his chair.

"Why can't you two be married in my house—my big room would be ideal for it?" Constance Hyde-Brown asked presently. "Do think of it! It'll have to be a small wedding, I suppose, and we could handle it so beautifully."

"That sounds nice to me," Shirley said, serenely.

"When's it to be?" Willis asked, picking up his cards.

"Any time now," Shirley supplied, quietly.

"You're quite delicious, you know," Constance said amusedly, looking from one to the other. "Haven't you made up your minds yet?"

"We've had such a deuce of a time," Stanley explained, "everything's been so mixed up."

"Well, will it be in a week or two, or in a month or two?" Constance pursued, with British calm.

"Oh, in a week or two!" Shirley said, comfortably. "Won't it, Stan?" she asked, innocently.

"Well, I suppose so!" Stanley did not know what else to answer. He could hardly deny it, here before these interested friends of hers. Yet, even here, in the absorption of a card game, he tried to picture Shirley as his wife, and reached a blank wall; there was nothing there to imagine. And when his thoughts, on the other hand, strayed to the memory of that other woman, to the dream of Margaret, nervous, definite, mysterious, he felt a constantly recurrent thrill.

She had pleaded fatigue and had gone to bed after dinner. Now her voice suddenly struck across his half-vague thoughts of her, and he looked up from the card-table to see that she had come in from the direction of the kitchen and had letters in her hands.

Battersby had gotten the late mail, she explained, and there was a telegram for Mrs. Theobald.

Stanley tossed over the letters indifferently—just receipted bills for the most part. Shirley, with the conventional apology, tore open her telegram.

"Oh, my God!" she said, after reading it with one glance. And giving the company a comprehensive look that showed her face not totally devoid of a certain complacent willingness to accept this surprise and shock, she said: "It's from Mildred Bremhall, my best friend in New York. It's about Cuyler, Stan. Listen!"

And she read the telegram aloud: "'Cuyler Theobald given few weeks to live; apoplexy. Asking for you; would advise your coming at once. Seems anxious to be friends again. Mildred.'"

Stanley, in the second of dead silence that followed, looked merely angry and disturbed. The others were shocked and concerned, and Shirley wore, in addition, an air instantly dramatic and self-conscious. It was gratifying to take the centre of the stage, under any conditions.

Naturally all eyes were upon her. Stanley never knew whether it was a sound or a movement that drew his attention suddenly from Shirley to Margaret.

Margaret had been standing at the centre-table, after the delivery of the letters and telegram. Now the man's glance went to her with concern, and almost as quickly as his look his arms reached her, and he caught her strongly. Her face was ashen, under its rich, even color, and she looked ill.

"Margaret!" he said sharply, "what is it!" And he called loudly, "Nora!"

Constance Hyde-Brown, on Margaret's other side, half supported her. Margaret made an effort, painful even to see, to recover her self-control, the color ebbed from her lips, and she collapsed, shutting her eyes.

"Sorry——" she whispered, with a ghastly attempt at a smile.

"For heaven's sake——!" Shirley said, half-impatiently at being jarred so rudely from her role of leading lady. Stanley, now carrying Margaret bodily, with Constance, all concern, and the horrified Nora following him, brushed her briefly aside.

"Open that door please, Willis," he said to young Hyde-Brown. "Just a minute, Shirley, please. She's fainted. . . ."

Governor Brings Car From England

What Today Means

"TAURUS"

If May 1 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:50 a.m. to 11 a.m., from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. The danger hours are from noon to 1:50 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The planetary aspects of May 1 seem to affect the phychic and mental rather than the material. Expansion and enlightenment are promised, and it will prove to be an exceptionally auspicious time for all those engaged in literary or artistic work. Not favorable for travel.

A child born on this May 1 will be blithe and happy-go-lucky, and any trouble that may come to it will be suppressed and never displayed. It will despise all ostentation, abhor hypocrisy, and love only frankness, truthfulness and naturalness. A useful career is its destiny.

Born on May 1, you possess native genius, which only needs cultivation in order to produce good results. You evince a keen interest in all matters touching on public welfare, and if you desire, it should be easy for you to secure prominence in any such field of endeavor. You are a person of strong convictions, and, so long as you believe you are right, the gibes and criticism of opponents do not disturb your equanimity.

You are inventive and original, and have little use for hide-bound convention and not much respect for tradition. In a small community your talents could only be exploited with great difficulty. You need a big area in which to work to the best advantage. Without being reserved, you are quiet, but persistent. A great deal of thought prompts your words, and careful consideration prefaces your actions.

Your character is a masterful one, and when you go "bald headed" after a certain object, you invariably get it. In the home circle you are affectionate, and your love nature needs expansion and an opportunity to express itself. You never wait for opportunities to come to you. You create them for yourself. Your horoscope denotes a successful and a fairly eventful life.

MERRITT BUTCHER IS CHARGED WITH STEALING CATTLE

MERRITT, April 30.—W. G. White, local butcher, has been arrested by Provincial Constable Percy Carron on a charge of cattle stealing. The arrest followed complaints by Indians that some of their cattle were missing. The police salvaged a cow's hide and the horns and hoofs of an animal from the bottom of an abandoned coal shaft near the Middlesboro Collieries. They also discovered that cattle had been butchered in the woods on the Joeyaska Reserve, and they found evidence of the carcasses having been hung on the limbs of pine trees.

White came to Merritt a couple of years ago from Alberta and conducted a meat business here. He is out on $2,000 bail and is to appear before Magistrate Stephenson for preliminary hearing.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

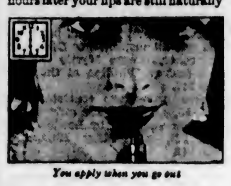
Here's That New 8-Hour Lipstick

New lip coloring lasts all day or evening. Ends constant "making-up."

Here's that indelible lip color that banishes all the smearing and fleeting life of present ways in make-up. A totally NEW type, different from any other you have ever tried.

You put it on before you go out. Then forget about it. Six hours, eight hours later your lips are still naturally lovely. Do you wonder that women are flocking to its use?

Eight hours later—lovely lips!



You apply when you go out

What To Ask For

It is called the NEW Kissproof Indelible Lipstick and is on sale at all toilet counters in 2 forms. Lipstick—Black and Gold Case, 50c—Swivel, 75c. Lip and Cheek Rouge, 80c.

SOUND AUCTION and CONTRACT

Auction Bidding

	1st Rd.	2nd Rd.
South	1 ♠	3 ♥
West	Pass	Pass
North	1 N. T.	Pass
East	Pass	Pass

In the above deal North and South naturally play the hand with Hearts the trump either at Auction or at Contract. In either case South's natural desire is to make a slam, but at Contract it is particularly important that he do so for the reason that the slam has been bid.

The play of the hand consists of the handling of the Spade suit wherein it is possible to take the finesse, which, if successful, would prevent the loss of any trick in the suit, but yet it would not build up the hand should the outstanding Hearts be unevenly divided between East and West.

When we come to the detailed description of the play we will see that there is an alternative method by which nothing would be lost should East have the King of Spades, and much would be gained should East happen to have it.

SALIENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Contract—South opens the bidding with one Spade, which West passes. North with three and a half quick tricks in hand and a doubleton in Spades bids two No Trumps. East passes. South bids three Hearts and West passes. North bids five Hearts and East passing, South bids six Hearts, concluding the bidding.

Auction—South opens the bidding with one Spade. West passes and North bids one No Trump. East passes and South bids two Hearts, concluding the bidding.

THE PLAY

West opens the Queen of Clubs and the Dummy going down, South can see that if the outstanding trumps break evenly he should lose but one trick, for if the Spade finesse is successful he will lose no trick in that suit. If it were not successful, he would lose no Diamond, for he could discard Dummy's small Diamond on one of his own Spades.

However, if the outstanding trumps are unevenly divided, he would not, after three rounds of trumps, have two trumps left in Dummy with which to run both the Spade and the Diamond. His Spade suit is not long enough to establish a small card therein, so early in the play he should endeavor to see whether or not he can establish the Jack of Spades in Dummy so that he may not only discard the five of Diamonds, but will be under no obligation of trumping a Spade.

Accordingly he takes the first trick with the Ace of Clubs in Dummy, and leads a small trump, which he takes in his own hand. A small Spade should be led toward Dummy's Jack. If West takes this trick with the King, then South's purpose is accomplished, for he can then take three rounds of trumps since the Dummy needs but one trump for ruffing purposes.

If West should fail to play the King of Spades, then he never would make it, as Dummy could trump two Spades high and lose a Diamond trick in the end.

"I am an old man and have had many troubles, but most of them never happened." This sentence was found carved over a dilapidated mantel. It contains the wisdom which comes from years of experience—most of our troubles are imagined ones. They have no existence without our permission. They come as tolerated guests; then proceed to make themselves the masters of the home. They rob us of sleep, upset our digestion, drive contentment out of us, plough untimely furrows in our faces, and plant uncalled for anguish in our hearts. They even shorten life itself. "Worry kills more people," said a wise doctor, "than all other diseases put together."

Upper Island Festival of Music Opens in Nanaimo; Many Awards Are Decided

NANAIMO, April 30.—Yesterday morning the Upper Island Musical Festival opened its doors for beginning of its three-day programme. Entrants from the various parts of the Island were many. The adjudicators were Ronald Gibson, of Winnipeg, for vocal and instrumental classes, and Miss Jean Campbell, of Winnipeg, for elocution.

Mrs. Katie Brankston's junior choir won the Dr. Lindsay Challenge Shield, which her choir has held for the past three years.

The winning of silver medals by Jack Clements and Mrs. Frank Reynolds in the tenor and contralto classes, entitles them to compete for the premier honor of the festival vocal class, the Spencer rose bowl. Mr. Clements is in the lead with 84, while Mrs. Reynolds has 82 marks. Other results of the morning and afternoon session were as follows.

YOUTHFUL WINNERS

Class 40, violin, under 13 years—Audry Dunsmore, winner of silver medal with 82; Edward Hamilton, 79; Dorothy Hill, 71; all from Nanaimo.

Class 13, vocal solos, under 11 years—Elsie Forrester, Qualicum, 167; Jackie Brankston, 165.

Class 8, duet, under 15, no medal—Edmund and Robert McLennan, 70.

Class 23, tenor solo, open—J. J. Clements, winner, 84; Maurice Thomas, Courtenay, with 81; Thomas Pickup, 77.

Contralto, open—Mrs. Frank Reynolds winner, 82.

COURTENAY CHOIR WINS

The festival had among its competitors three of the finest male voice choirs. Adjudicator Ronald Gibson told a large crowd at the Wednesday evening session. He said Winnipeg had a male voice choir that was referred to as "the choir," but the three that had come before him last evening measured up to it in a fine way. When the award was made to the Courtenay Male Voice Choir, of the Courtenay Musical Society, the house rocked with applause. The markings were: Courtenay Choir, 178, which gave to it the Nanaimo Rotary Cup for another year; St. Andrew's Male Voice Choir, 172; Phillips' Male Voice Choir, 168.

John Dick, of Duncan, by virtue of winning the silver medal in the baritone open, with 85 marks, leads in the competition for the rose bowl. The other contestants in that class were: A. T. Searle, of Courtenay, 83; W. Kelly, Cumberland, 82; Fred Donnely, Courtenay, 81; F. Avery, Nanaimo, 77, and J. J. Scales, 77.

Little June Richards, aged 8, of Wellington, with 341 in the pianoforte solo under 16. Her talent and performance was an inspiration. Others in the contest were Myrtle Odgers, 339; Audrey Phillips, of Cumberland, 337.

There were two contestants in Class 50, elocution, for girls under 19, which was won by Lottie Angel with 176, and Mary Humphrey with 147.

Jack Clements and Tom Lewis won the tenor and baritone duet with 86. A Courtenay couple, Thomas and Searle, was a close second with 80.

The Misses Harriet and Lily Brankston received the highest marks in the duet classes to date, receiving 88 in the under 19 competition.

In the male quartette class, the adjudicator said that, as in most cases, they, too, failed to grasp the spirit of the song, "Sigh No More, Ladies," and after offering suggestions for improvements, pronounced the St. Andrew's United Choir's rendition the better of the two good presentations with 86. The Courtenay's Male Musical Club received 80.

EMPIRE DAY PLANS MADE

Splendid Programme Drawn Up by Cumberland Committee—Many Events

MAYPOLE TO FOLLOW CROWNING OF QUEEN

CUMBERLAND, April 30. — A well-attended meeting of the sports committee of the Empire Day celebration was held last night in the council chambers, with J. L. Brown in the chair.

The meeting was in session for over two hours, going over the list of events, to be staged and every phase of the celebration thoroughly discussed, with the result that a most excellent programme was drawn up, the field and track events being given first consideration, which are mostly confined to the younger element. After these events are run off, baseball and football games will be held, and on the Sunday preceding the Empire Day games, a cricket match with Cumberland against a team yet to be named will be staged.

Valuable prizes will be given in the track events, and competition is sure to be keen.

The May Queen and Maypole dancing will occupy the first part of the programme, which starts immediately after the parade reaches the Recreation Ground.

Farm Products Market Letter

The market news letter issued by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, under date of April 29, says:

Creston and Wynndel reports ten acres of strawberries planted this season, half of which is British Sovereign. The total acreage in bearing will be slightly less than last year. Plants have come through the Winter in good shape. A heavy yield is not expected owing to the dry Summer and Fall, following last year's fruiting period. The rainfall has been light this Spring. Raspberry canes are short where irrigation is not practiced. The acreage is about the same as last year. Cherries will be short, due to, frost injury on April 19. Early apples are light and Winter varieties heavier.

Edmonton: Business is slightly better. A few express shipments of strawberries are arriving in twenty-four-pint crates at $6 to $6.50, with demand fair. The first California cherries arrived on the 24th, in twelve-pound boxes, which are quoted at $6. The tomato market is unchanged; Mexican repacked lugs, $5.50 to $6. Supplies of British Columbia cucumbers are light and market firm. Potato and vegetable market unchanged. Onion market strong. First car of Oregon onions arrived today. British Columbia Oregon Yellow onions are selling at $3.75 to $4 per cwt. Texas and California new cabbage, $4.50 to $5 per cwt. The market is over stocked with British Columbia rhubarb, price $2 to $2.15 per box. Celery is $7 to $7.50 per cwt.

Winnipeg: Business is quiet but steady. A part car of Washington only rhubarb received during past week, and market about cleaned up. A car of British Columbia rhubarb is expected tomorrow. Three cars of Louisiana strawberries on the market. The price has stiffened up to $5 per crate. Express shipments of British Columbia hothouse cucumbers are selling at $2 per dozen. Ample supplies of Mexican tomatoes on market. No hothouse tomatoes offered.

Jokers Defeat Tar Flats Team

NANAIMO, April 30.—In the first girls' softball game of the season, last evening, the Jokers defeated the Tar Flats by 21 runs to 10. The rally of the Jokers in the fifth, when eleven runners crossed the home plate, was too much for the Flats, who were weak in their pitching staff, and the whole team's lack of practice was more visible than was the case with the winners. Rhoda Shepherd pitched eight innings for the Jokers, being replaced in the ninth by Dagg, while C. Stannard was behind the bat. Main and Cawthorne alternated on the mound for the Flats, while P. Main did the receiving.

Cumberland Board of Trade Told by Delegates of Interview With Premier

CUMBERLAND, April 30.—The Board of Trade were hosts this week to T. Graham and R. Hindmarch, two of the members of the delegation which visited Ottawa to interview Premier Bennett and present to him the brief and petition signed by 7,000 residents of the mining communities of the Island, praying for assistance for the declining coal industry.

Mr. Hindmarch told of the many places of interest visited, laying special stress on the beauty of the Parliament Buildings and the magnificent Peace Tower. He paid tribute to the kindness of the two Island members, Messrs. Neill and Dickie, for the great help extended. He was proud to have been the board's representative, and hoped their mission would bring forth some measure of relief for the industry in which one and all were interested.

Mr. Graham, in his speech, dwelt chiefly upon the difficulties that had to be surmounted before the Premier could be reached. The delegation arrived at Ottawa just on the eve of the opening of Parliament, a time when Premier Bennett was a most busy man. However, the Premier was reached and extended to the delegation a very cordial reception. He showed, said Mr. Graham, a great knowledge of the plight of the coal industry and was most sympathetic. Judging from the attitude of the Premier, Mr. Graham said he was very hopeful of some measure of assistance, and whilst it was not expected that all that had been asked for would be granted, he felt sure that brighter and more prosperous times were in store for the coal mining industry and the communities dependent upon the industry.

Mr. John Sutherland moved a hearty vote of thanks to both speakers on the conclusion of Mr. Graham's remarks.

The meeting was held at the Union Hotel, and was preceded by a banquet.

"You ask for my daughter's hand. What are your future prospects?"
"If I get her, excellent."

SHEEP SHOW DATE, JUNE 3

Annual Metchosin Event Is Open to Whole South End of Vancouver Island

GRAND CHALLENGE CUP FOR BEST LAMB SHOWN

METCHOSIN, April 30.—The fifth annual lamb show and shearing contests under the auspices of the Metchosin Sheep Breeders' Association will be held Wednesday afternoon, June 3, at Metchosin Hall and grounds. Various committees are at work arranging for this show, which promises to be the most outstanding of the series. This year there will be two classes for lambs, ewes and wether lambs. All lamps are to be properly docked, directly off the range and sired by a purebred ram.

The challenge cup donated by the Vancouver Island Flockmasters' Association, of Duncan, will be awarded to the best lamb, either sex, exhibited. In the ewe class a notable prize is offered: a purebred two-shear Shropshire ram donated by Whitney-Griffith Bros. In the wether class there will be a cash prize, the donor to be named later. Second and third prizes are sacks of flour donated by local feed companies.

There will be classes for professional and novice shearers in both hand and machine clipping, with the usual prizes.

Demonstration of cutting up a carcass will be given, all cuts to be sold by auction at the conclusion of the programme.

All sheep breeders residing on the southern end of the Island are invited to enter lambs as well as compete in the shearing contests. All persons, including the ladies interested in the sheep industry, are invited to attend and get acquainted.

DAIRYMEN JOIN ISLAND LEAGUE

Cobble Hill and Cowichan Producers and Distributors Organize Branch

DUNCAN, April 30.—At a meeting of dairymen and milk dealers held last night at the Agricultural Hall, a branch of the Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association, to be known as the Cobble Hill and Cowichan Dairymen's Association, was formed. F. C. Blake occupied the chair and H. G. Grainger acted as secretary of the meeting.

The election of officers resulted as follows: F. C. Blake, president; R. D. Young, Duncan, and N. P. Dougan, Cobble Hill, vice-presidents; and W. Bell and T. Wilkinson, Cobble Hill; G. Owen, Cowichan Station; and C., Buckmaster and W. Spence, Duncan, directors.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Dougan that the district should not be a tuberculosis-free area. He urged that the provincial test was all that was required. W. Waldon pointed out the advantages that would result from the district's inclusion in such an area, but after considerable discussion Mr. Dougan's motion was carried.

A resolution asking that the Department of Agriculture make a special effort to see that all herds on Vancouver Island, whether owned by commercial dairies or not, be T.B. tested at least once a year, was adopted.

All-Home-Cooked Products Sale to Be Held May 23

LANGFORD, April 30.—A general meeting of the Prince Edward Branch, Canadian Legion, No. 91, was held in the clubhouse at Langford on Wednesday evening. With pleasing ceremony Past President A. G. Mackie was presented with his badge.

It was agreed to have a social evening for all ex-service men in the clubhouse on May 16.

The Women's Auxiliary held their regular meeting at the same time in the annex. It was decided to hold a sale of "all-home-cooked" products in Spencer's basement, Victoria, by courtesy of that firm on May 23, commencing at 9 o'clock.

DUNCAN C.G.I.T.

The girls of the senior C.G.I.T. group, who are passing into the Young People's League, were guests of honor at a social evening arranged by the pastor, Rev. W. F. Burns; the Sunday school superintendent, A. M. Dirom, and the president of the Y.P.L., W. Flett, following the meeting of the C.G.I.T. at the United Church on Friday evening.

Members of the Y.P.L. and teachers of the Sunday school assisted in entertaining the girls. Group games were played. Mrs. P. Flett supervised the serving of refreshments.

Mr. Burns spoke to the guests, who were Violet Williams, Margaret Kerrone, Inez Woodward, Marjorie Bone, Jennie Westall, Maxine Weston and Betty Talbot, expressing best wishes for their future and outlining the work of the Y.P.L. Violet Williams responded, expressing thanks on behalf of the group for the interest shown and the entertainment provided.

COLQUITZ PRESENTATION

A congregational meeting of the Wilkinson Road United Church was held in the church last Friday evening. Rev. J. C. Switzer presided, and after the opening hymn, a short programme was given, in which Miss Margaret Pringle, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jones and the male quartette took part. The most interesting feature of the evening was the presentation to Mr. Kinnaird of a purse of gold, accompanied by an address of appreciation for the fifteen years of faithful service which he has given as choir leader.

D. Lehman, for the congregation; Mr. Pimlott, for the choir, and A. E. Campion, for the session, spoke in terms of highest praise of the faithful and efficient manner in which Mr. Kinnaird has so willingly given his services. Mr. and Mrs. Kinnaird were then asked to come to the platform, where Mr. Campion read the address and presented Mr. Kinnaird with a purse, and little Jessie Swales presented Mrs. Kinnaird with a beautiful flowering plant.

In replying, Mr. Kinnaird spoke of the harmonious spirit existing in the choir and gave a brief outline of what had been accomplished during his long term of office.

By request, Mr. Kinnaird conducted the closing hymn, "Fight the Good Fight."

NANAIMO LOSES PASTOR

NANAIMO, April 28.—It was announced in St. Andrew's United Church, Sunday, that at the end of June an exchange of pulpits would take place, the Rev. F. W. Anderson, of Nanaimo, to go to Mission City, while Rev. W. P. Bunt, who is at present preacher of St. Andrew's Church, at Mission City, B.C., will come to Nanaimo.

Mr. Anderson has evidently been considering a change this year for a little lighter charge, after three years of strenuous services in Nanaimo, but it was only recently that he advised the church officials of his desire. The congregation are greatly disturbed at the thought of losing Mr. Anderson, who has done very effective work in helping the United Church to carry on a forceful and fruitful service in the community, having been here about three years. It is felt that Nanaimo's loss will be Mission City's gain.

Mrs. Anderson has also made a very fine contribution to both church and community life, and her charming personality will be greatly missed by a wide circle of devoted friends.

LANGFORD—COLWOOD

Service on Sunday in St. Matthew's Church, Langford, will be held at 7 p.m., and in St. John's, Colwood, at 11 a.m.

VISITS SUNDAY SCHOOL

Sunday school was held in "The Ark," Lake Cowichan, on Sunday morning, when Miss Robinson, Anglican deaconess, addressed the Sunday school class. Miss Goldsmith, accompanied by Mrs. G. Kenneth Gillespie, sang for the children. Again at the evening service Miss Goldsmith delighted the meeting with her singing.

Nanaimo, May 25, Sport Programme Given in Outline

NANAIMO, April 30.—At a meeting of the May 24 Jubilee Celebration Committee held Tuesday night, it was decided to not sign up with Conklin & Garrett Shows this year. Different committees reported and a tentative programme for Monday, May 25, was outlined.

There will be children's sports and water sports in the morning, and crowning of the May Queen and folk dances. The parade will take place at noon.

In the afternoon, adult sports and acrobatic acts will be followed by two football matches, the first between the losers, and the second between the winners of the games played on Saturday and Sunday.

In the evening there will be wrestling by rounds, with a dance later.

Grain Congestion At Vancouver Now Thought Possible

Storage Limit Practically Reached With Large Stocks Available—Ships Unable to Take Wheat as Fast as It Is Offered

VANCOUVER, April 30.—There is a possibility of grain congestion at Vancouver, according to trade interests of this port. With a storage limit of 16,000,000 bushels, the port on Wednesday had 15,896,825 bushels in elevators and en route.

There is still available for Vancouver large stocks in Alberta and Western Saskatchewan if Eastern outlets are congested. This totals, under rough estimate, about 25,000,000 bushels.

Grain interests, it is said, have been foreseeing this rush to a certain extent, and a great deal of activity has been quietly proceeding. Every day sees business being done. Last week, in one day, 4,000,000 bushels of space was taken and acknowledged, but this is small, it is said, in comparison with the space taken and not yet disclosed.

New business is being done every day. But the actual movement of the wheat from the port depends upon the position of the ships that will carry it. This factor may cause some congestion here, as it is not believed ships will be in position to take the grain as fast as it is offered.

LOCAL COMPANY GETS CONTRACT

Victoria Pile Driving Company Will Construct Pier at Echo Bay

It was announced yesterday that the Victoria Pile Driving Company, Limited, had been awarded the contract for the construction of a pier and certain buildings at Echo Bay, at the southern end of Newcastle Island, which the Canadian Pacific Railway recently purchased and intend developing as a picnic and bathing resort. The pier, when completed, will be 410 feet long. The vessel dock will be 110 feet long and forty feet wide, connected with the land by a pier 300 feet in length and twelve feet wide. The contract calls for the completion of the work before June 5.

Initial buildings to be constructed by the contractors include a dance hall and restaurant, which will be 1730 feet in length and forty feet in width. It will be floored with maple and surrounded with a wide veranda.

The work will be done under the supervision of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway officials, and when completed yill be operated by the B.C. Coast Service.

MEETING WITH GREAT SUCCESS

So widespread has the demand been for accommodation on the week-end cruise liners that the Cunard Line has notified all its offices in Canada and the United States to the effect that the first three sailings are already booked to capacity.

This "week-end cruise to nowhere" idea has caught the fancy of the public in the United States and Canada to such an extent that similar cruises have been announced by other lines.

The idea behind the whole movement of the Cunard Line in using the three largest liners of the company for cruises of this type without interfering with the regular schedule, was to cultivate a field of potential travelers, which heretofore had always been considered more or less barren ground for travel organizations.

This field is composed of thousands and thousands of men and women who far various reasons felt that they were unable to take an ocean voyage. The Cunard Line was of the opinion that were it possible to get these potential travelers away for a short period of about three or four days on an ocean liner of the size of the Berengaria, Aquitania or Mauretania it would stimulate transatlantic travel to a great extent.

There seems to be little doubt but that this is exactly what will take place, as a large majority of the bookings are from passengers who have never sailed on a liner across the Atlantic.

Away on Dangerous Trip

Dr. Herbert Dickey, explorer, and Mrs. Dickey, who, with four others, sailed recently from New York on an expedition, headed by Dr. Dickey, which will attempt to reach the headwaters of the Orinoco River, a feat yet unaccomplished by white men, are shown above.

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP). —Miss Ruth Nichols, who is planning a solo flight to Paris, received official recognition today as holder of the world's altitude record for women. She was informed that her ascent of 28,743 feet over New York and New Jersey, March 6, was recognized by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale as the official record for women. It was formerly held by Miss Elinor Smith.

FREIGHT SHIP FROM BRITAIN

Donaldson Steamer Cortona Makes First Call at Local Docks

From the United Kingdom via Panama and California ports, the Donaldson Line freighter Ss. Cortona, Captain G. K. Baillie, arrived at William Head early yesterday morning, but did not come alongside Rithet Piers until 7:45 o'clock, when cargo was discharged. The ship left for Vancouver shortly after 11 o'clock. It was the first call of the Cortona to Victoria, but not the first for the skipper. He was here thirty years ago. While the ship was discharging freight, local representatives of the line, took Captain Baillie for a drive around the city, of which he is never tired of singing the praises, saying it is the loveliest seaport he has ever been in.

Here to meet the Cortona on Wednesday afternoon were Captain Clark, harbormaster for the Donaldson Line, and George Cameron, representing Balfour, Guthrie & Company, Pacific Coast agents for the ship company. They were entertained by A. E. Shanks, of Rithet Consolidated, in company with Captain McGillivray, pilot of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Line, who came in to meet the Shidzuoka Maru, which docked at Ogden Point Piers at 8 o'clock Wednesday night from the Orient.

RUTH ALEXANDER HAD FAST TRIP UP-COAST

From ports in California, the Pacific Steamship Company's liner Ss. Ruth Alexander, Captain Fred Nystrom, arrived alongside Rithet Piers shortly after 10 o'clock and, after disembarking Victoria passengers and discharging local freight, proceeded to Vancouver at midnight. The Ruth Alexander had a large number of travelers aboard, sixty of whom left the ship here, the majority taking the night boat for Mainland points. Cargo for Victoria consisted of 120 tons of general merchandise.

In London in a recent week were 821 births and 1,183 deaths.

Patrol Boat Racing Towards Greenland To Seek Scientist

Has Food and Equipment Aboard—Swedish Pilot Is Waiting for Fog to Break—Anxious Watchers Awaiting Results of Searching

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, April 30 (AP).—The patrol boat Odin, with an aeroplane, fuel, food and equipment, aboard, ploughed forward through icy waters tonight on a mission to rescue Augustine Courtauld, young explorer, who is marooned on the Greenland ice cap.

In the Odin's wake, Albin Ahrenberg, Swedish pilot, waited at Bergen, Norway, for a break in the fog to permit him to resume his flight here and then to Angmagslik. He planned to join in the search for Courtauld, dropping food, if successful. The little patrol boat carried Pilot Sigurd Johnason, a mechanic, and a wireless operator.

CARRIES WIRELESS

The plane's flying range is seven hours—roughly 900 kilometres in distance—and it carries a wireless capable of transmitting and receiving in case it should have a forced landing.

A wireless message from the Odin late today, said the weather was clear and there were prospects of making a good landing at Angmagslik ice barrier early tomorrow.

Among those most anxious for the young explorer, Augustine Courtauld, the son of a millionaire British artificial silk manufacturer, is the beautiful Molly Montgomery, who became engaged to Courtauld before he joined the British Arctic Air Route Expedition in July.

PEOPLE ABSORBED

Courtauld's parents returned from America yesterday, having kept in touch by wireless with relief plans during their crossing of the Atlantic. Another anxious one is Courtauld's sister, who is going to Capt. Ralph Rayner, organizer of a relief expedition which is going to Courtauld's aid. These are watching the rescue efforts most closely, but all Great Britain is absorbed.

FLYER'S PARENTS ARE MAINLAND RESIDENTS

VANCOUVER, April 30.—J. R. Chaplin, who will accompany Capt. T. Neville Stack, English airman, as co-pilot on an attempted round-trip flight from England to Australia in twenty-one days, is the son of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Reggie Chaplin, Vancouver. Mr. Chaplin is well-known in Vancouver and Ottawa, having served as aide-de-camp to Lord Byng of Vimy while Governor-General of Canada.

Visas Are Required For Entry Into China Now

SHANGHAI, April 30 (AP).—Shanghai Chinese port authorities announced today that, beginning tomorrow, in accordance with long-announced Government regulations, all foreigners entering China will be required to display passports bearing Chinese visas. Authorities were planning to inaugurate the passport inspection upon all incoming steamers tomorrow.

Passport inspection by Chinese of foreigners entering China constitutes a new departure in China's relations with foreign nations. The procedure was expected to result in considerable confusion until the inspection is fully established.

Market Stages Biggest Rally In Six Months

NEW YORK, April 30.—Stocks came back with a rush today when bears, discouraged by the absence of volume selling at the opening, swung first gradually and then rapidly to the buying side.

The rally, amounting to 5.7 points in the ninety share composite price index, was the best the market had seen since early last October, eclipsing by a small margin the automatic rebound that corrected the heavily oversold position in mid-December.

United States Steel touched Wednesday's low during the first hour, but refused to break it. Shorts switched to American Can for a time, but with indifferent success, and then began a cautious covering movement which grew in breadth until the last hour, when the retreat became a scramble. In general, pivotal shares went up much faster than they had gone down. Net gains of 3 and 4 points were common. Many prominent issues closed 5 or 6 higher. Thinly traded stocks shot up spectacularly. Sales amounted to 3,300,000 shares.

In some instances closing prices were slightly under the highs, for there was a little selling at the finish. United States Steel, for example, which had risen 5 1-2, closed 4 3-4 up.

Auburn yielded 4 points on an extreme advance of 28 1-2, and Ingersoll-Rand shaded a 16-point jump.

General Motors, General Electric, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Anaconda, Sears-Roebuck, Loew's and Union Pacific returned net gains of 3 to 4. Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak, Allied Chemical, Atchison and Worthington Pump ranged between 5 and 6 higher.

Foreign exchanges firmed. Sterling cables and the French franc recovered Wednesday's losses, and other European rates showed nominal gains.

A general recovery in prices in the latter half of the trading session was the outstanding feature of the bond market.

An increase in activity accompanied the upturn, which provided gains in the average prices of rail, public utility and industrial issues.

WHEAT MARKET STAGES RALLY

Fractional Gain Due Chiefly to Seaboard Buying—Fair Export Trade

WINNIPEG, April 30 (CP).—Opening lower through commission house liquidation, the wheat market staged a rally, and final prices were 3-4 to 5-8 above yesterday's close. Scattered seaboard buying on the decline was the main support of the market, but trade was not large.

Export sales were estimated at 500,000 bushels. Broomhall stated that France was likely to again modify its milling regulations.

Cash and coarse grains were inactive.

W. K. Pearce Retires From Dominion Bank; Promotions Are Made

TORONTO, April 30 (CP).—W. K. Pearce, assistant general manager of the Dominion Bank, retires tomorrow after forty-six years' service in various important posts, it was announced today by Clarence A. Bogert, general manager.

Dudley Dawson, superintendent of branches, and Robert Rae, manager of the Toronto branch, have been appointed assistant general managers. Mr. Dawson has been with the bank thirty-one years, serving as accountant or manager at Winnipeg; Grenfell, Sask.; Vancouver, and other places, before coming to Toronto.

Most Calgary Oil Leaders And Mine Stocks Advance; Due to Specialized Buying

VANCOUVER, April 30 (CP).—Selective buying lifted the more important oils and mines shares to higher levels on the Vancouver exchange Thursday. Due to the specialized trading the market closed irregular. Gains and losses were evenly divided. Sales dropped approximately 3,000 shares below the volume for the previous session.

Heavy realizing in Mercury was the feaure of the trading, but the liquidation failed to retard the modest forward movement in the Calgary oil group. Strong spots in the oils division were Mayland and Eastcrest, both of which ended the day with broad advances. Under the leadership of Big Missouri, the mines, with the exception of Pioneer Gold, which broke 8 points on the closing bid of 1.60, registered small increases.

After rallying from an opening at 20c to 20 1-2c, Mercury eased off under a weight of selling to a closing selling price at 19c, a net loss of 1c. Mayland at 48c and Eastcrest at 52c, recorded gains of 3c and 6c respectively. C. & E. rose 2c to 44c, and Lowery Pete firmed up 1c to 25c.

Big Missouri sold up to 38c during the forenoon and ended the day at 37c bid, up 1c above Wednesday's close. Premier Gold advanced 1c to 76c, as did Oregon Copper at 9 1-2c. Pend Oreille hardened 2c to 1.02, on a turnover of 200 shares.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE REPORT

MONTREAL, April 30 (CP).—Stocks rebounded quickly with a buying wave which entered the market in the last hour of today's session on the Montreal Stock Exchange, wiping out the morning losses and leaving many of the leading stocks with net advances which ranged up to nearly 2 points.

Canadian Pacific came back strong, as it sold up to 34 1-4, where it was unchanged.

Montreal Power continued its firmer movement, reaching a high for the day at 57 7-8. International Nickel at 15 was unchanged.

Dominion Bridge sold back to 40, down 1-2.

Canadian Cement Canadian Car, National Breweries, Steel of Canada, National Steel Car, Viau Biscuit Cement preferred, and a number of others were showing major fractional gains at the close, which in many cases were extended to a point or more.

Consolidated Smelters sold up 11, a net advance of 51-2.

Soviet Factories Disappoint Hopes

By JUNIUS B. WOOD

(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

MOSCOW, April 30. — Severe criticism of the production failure of the new agricultural machine factories is made today by the Council of People's Commissars, joined with condemnation of the tractor and automobile plants.

The report covers the five plants' production for the six months ending March, 1931. Instead of the 1,800 combines expected to be produced, there were only 382; instead of 800 winnowers, only fifty-eight; instead of 4,850 mowers, only 1,057; instead of 11,500 binders, only 3,478; instead of 14,000 rakes, only 10,091.

The report says that $50,000 worth of new American machinery in one plant has not even been touched.

Canadian Car and Foundry Dividend Safer Than Ever

MONTREAL, April 30 (CP).—In an official communication to shareholders of Canadian Car & Foundry Company, President W. W. Butler of Montreal, reiterates statements already made to the effect that dividends on the company's securities are in no danger of being disturbed.

The circular says, in part: "The present stock market hysteria no doubt causes anxiety in the minds of some of our shareholders, who perhaps do not realize or appreciate the fact that the prevailing market prices do not reflect the true value of your company's shares.

"After twenty-one years of continuous operation, the company is in a stronger financial position today than it has ever been."

$21,000,000 Gold Recently Shipped To United States

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP).—The steamship Europa arrived today with $17,500,000 in gold in its hold.

The shipment, previously reported at $15,000,000, was one of the largest received in recent years, and was consigned to Lazard Freres, Guaranty Trust Company and the Chase National Bank.

The arrival of the gold brought to $21,000,000 the total received since the movement from France to the United States began.

TORONTO GENERAL STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, April 30 (CP).—Toronto, Stock [illegible] closed stronger today than at any time this week.

NET PROFITS MUCH HIGHER

Hollinger Mine's Revenue Increases by $735,000 Over That of Last Year

LARGE SURPLUS LEFT AFTER ALL DIVIDENDS

MONTREAL, April 30 (CP).—Increased production, higher total revenues, operating profit and net profit are shown in the annual report of Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines, Limited, for the year ended December 31, 1930. Working capital is higher at $12,721,101, compared with $12,217,882.

Production for the year totaled $10,263,504. Addition of other revenues at $639,427 brought total revenues to $10,902,931, against $10,167,207 in the preceding year. Operating expenses were $6,529,900, leaving the year's operating profits at $4,373,031, against $4,041,479. Provision for depreciation absorbed $120,143; taxes, $283,149, leaving a net profit on the year available for dividends of $3,963,729. Dividends on the common, including a bonus of five cents per share, absorbed $3,444,000, leaving a surplus on the year of $519,729, which, with previous surplus, makes a net profit and loss balance of $11,629,888 to be carried forward.

EASTERN MINE NEWS

(Mason & Diespecker)

TORONTO, April 30.—From interests in close touch with mine development, it was learned yesterday that Kirkland Lake Gold has again located high-grade ore. The latest find is said to be on the 3,700-foot level, where workmen have just entered a zone from which samples are said to have returned values of around $120 gold to the ton. Work in the section is being continued with the object of determining more fully the values and possibilities.

Reports from the North continue to indicate that Wright-Hargreaves is meeting with success in the programme of deep development. In common with many of the smaller Kirkland Lake properties, Wright-Hargreaves is finding a most satisfactory condition on the lower levels and the grade seems to be increasing as work gets farther down.

According to the latest report, the company has encountered very high-grade mineralization in its shaft and also between the 2,700 horizon. An official source indicates that the ore at the new levels runs from $75 to as high as $100 to the ton, but so far there is nothing official as to the actual values.

An unusual form of financing has been effected by Tashota to carry on development work. The company has about 2,000,000 shares in its treasury and has given an option to a Montreal firm on 1,000,000 shares. In return, Tashota receives $15,000 a month for development purposes. The deal has not yet been completed, however, but a carload of equipment and supplies and a quantity of fuel oil have already been delivered at the property, preparatory to a resumption.

Despite the declining production and the more or less unprofitable operations of Nipissing, together with the probability of dividend elimination, friends of the company still extract much hope from the situation. It is pointed out that Nipissing had no less than $2.33 per share in cash assets as at December 31, 1930. The net surplus behind the 1,200,000 shares outstanding amounts to $2,795,486. The company's plant and buildings have been completely written off. With this reserve behind them, it is presumed that the company will not be idle. It already has some important holdings in the Matachewan district, some gold properties in Quebec and holdings in the Northwest, in the Jame Bay area. According to reports from New York, where Granada has recently found financial backing, the new deal may involve the Nipissing Company in some way. The deal is being concluded in New York, where President Earle, of Nipissing, resides.

Investors Given Rare Opportunity

(Greenshield's Weekly Review)

On the average, Canadian stocks are again selling at prices approximately level with the low prices of December, 1930, an opportunity which we did not believe would recur. In the interval adjustments have been going on which have materially strengthened the foundation for the next period of business prosperity and improving security prices. Recent pessimism appears to have been overdone and a sizeable recovery in probably in the offing. That, however, is less important than our conviction that the investor who is to secure the maximum advantage out of the unusual conditions now prevailing is the one who is prepared to disregard day-to-day and week-to-week fluctuations. All indications point to 1931 being one of the four or five exceptional periods in each generation when investment in sound stock equities holds out greatest promise of profit.

BUSH FIRES RAGE IN QUESNEL AREA

QUESNEL, April 30.—Numerous bush fires, some of fairly large proportions, are raging throughout this section. Mostly the fires are confined to burnt-over lands, and no large stands of green timber are menaced. There has been no rain to speak of for several weeks, and this, combined with exceptionally warm weather, has created a fire hazard which might easily become serious.

Britain Is Chief Buyer of Russian Output of Timber

By JUNIUS B. WOOD
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

MOSCOW, April 30.—The Soviet Union now occupies first place among the timber exporting countries of the world, according to Konstantine Danishevsky, president of the Export Timber Trust, who has just returned from a selling campaign abroad.

"An economic crisis exists in the countries purchasing our timber," Mr. Danishevsky said. "The hardest hit is Germany.

"Great Britain is our largest purchaser. The Italian market is also developing.

"The campaign of calumny which Sweden, Norway and Finland are waging around the world has not succeeded. Finland is dropping from first to third place among timber exporting countries, with Poland second."

Norge Corporation New Plant Largest Of Kind in Empire

TORONTO, April 30.—"To meet the demands of our rapidly-expanding business we will remove our factory and offices to the Dodge plant on Dufferin Street on or before May 1," states D. H. Pollitt, president and general manager of Norge Corporation of Canada, Limited. "In the first three weeks of field operation we have achieved a distribution of 3,000 Norge refrigerators. This in itself bears ample testimony to our pressing need for larger quarters."

It is estimated that the new Norge plant is the largest in the British Empire devoted exclusively to the manufacture of electric refrigerators. "The plant was chosen because it offered the advantages of modern mass production," continued Mr. Pollitt. "We feel that the project undertaken at the present time represents an important step toward the alleviation of the unemployment problem in Canada." It is further estimated that Canadian industry will be enriched to the extent of $1,000,000 in 1931 by Norge Corporation.

Lapsed Policies Are Notably Few

MONTREAL, April 30.—W. S. Penny, superintendent of Canadian Agencies, Sun Life of Canada, has just returned from an extended trip throughout the Dominion, and firmly believes there are definite signs of an upturn in business in Canada. The Canadian department of the Sun Life of Canada, he states, has just secured the greatest volume of business ever written in any one week in its history.

A feature in connection with the Canadian business is the fine persistency record. During times such as we are passing through it would be expected that people would have trouble in meeting their life insurance premium obligations, but the number of lapsed policies is extremely low, both in the East and in the West.

Bethlehem Steel Dividend Is Cut

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP).—Directors of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation today reduced the quarterly dividend on the common stock from $1.50 to $1 a share.

The corporation reported net income of $1,941,942 in the first quarter against $2,291,000 in the final three months of 1930.

Profit for the first quarter, after deducting all charges for dividends and preferred stock was equal to six cents a share, against $2.60 in the corresponding period a year ago.

BROKERS' LOANS

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP).—Loans to brokers and dealers held by the New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending April 29 were announced by the Federal Reserve Board today as $1,730,000,000, representing a decrease of $174,000,000 compared with the preceding week.

The loans for the week ending April 30, 1930, were $4,274,000,000.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, April 30 (CP).—Eggs and cheese unchanged.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

FATS AND COLDS

Although colds are not as frequent in warm weather as in cold, nevertheless colds seem to be always about, and physicians have always been trying to discover some means of preventing them.

A number of years ago it was cutomary to give cod liver oil to prevent colds, but latterly the fact that Vitamin D is in cod liver oil has turned many minds to thinking that it was the vitamin rather than the oil that was the important part of the cod liver oil. There is no denying the fact that vitamin D acts just as sunshine on children, and so cod liver oil has been called "bottled sunshine."

However, there is no question but the oil itself—fat—is of benefit in colds and all ailments of the nose, throat and chest. In fact, your doctor will tell you that the way to keep clear of colds is to eat butter, cream and fat meats as fats are a "protective" food.

Now the trouble with this is that eating more fat means cutting down on starches—sugar, bread, vegetables—foods which the body needs to enable you to work. The usual amount of proteins—meat and eggs—must be eaten by everybody, Winter or Summer, as they are needed to repair the tissues of the body.

You can thus see that anyone with a tendency to colds and who is naturally anxious to prevent them is going to have a hard job knowing just what to eat, seeing that the three classes of foods, meat and eggs, sugars, bread and vegetables, and fats and oils, are all absolutely necessary for the proper maintenance and working of all parts of the body.

However, there are certain points to consider. The fat diet doesn't agree with everybody, although for that matter a diet rich in starch likewise gives trouble—gas and indigestion—in many cases.

There are a couple of facts, however, that are not familiar to everybody. First, lean meat, even very lean meat, has a great deal of fat in it, so meat might easily be increased to get some fat. Second, fat has twice the heat value of starches, so that the starches may be cut down slightly, and the fats increased slightly without any great interference with the diet.

The idea then where there is a tendency to colds is to continue eating the usual amount of meat and eggs, to cut down slightly in starches, and increase the fats.

One Sale of Copper Is Made at 9 Cents; Ruling Price Is 9½

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP).—A sale of copper has been made in the domestic market at 9 3-8c a pound, delivered, 1-8c below the bottom of last year's decline in the Fall. The price is he lowest in more than twenty-seven years.

Trade circles reported there was virtually no demand in the domestic market and that custom smelters are holding their price at 9 1-2c delivered. Foreign sales of the metal dropped off sharply today.

Winnipeg Mayor Is Fighting an Active War on Communism

Chief Magistrate of Manitoba Capital Determined to Combat Activities of Agents of Soviet Doctrines in Canada

By FRANK CHAMBERLAIN
(Special to The Colonist. Copyright, 1931)

WINNIPEG, Tpril 30 (SNS).—The menacing hand of Russia, grasping out for control of world markets, is a problem which should be handled by the League of Nations, thinks Mayor Ralph Webb, the man who perhaps more than anyone else in Western Canada is fighting energetically to stem Communism in Canada.

The six-foot starwart chief magistrate of Winnipeg is serious about the threat of Communism. To fight it has been his chief plank at election times. He is fully persuaded, he declared, that unless the countries of the world get together and boycott Russia, Canada, Great Britain and the United States will be ruined.

BLAMES WHEAT POOL

Mayor Webb was thoroughly in accord with Premier Bennett's decision to have no truck with Russia, until Sir George Paish made the suggestion that perhaps it would oe a good thing if Canada helped Russia make a success of her five-year plan on the grounds that Communism could not grow in good times.

"Perhaps Sir George is right," he said. "It is certainly a fact that Communism only raises its ugly head in the Western Provinces when times are bad. They are making the most of the present depression."

He blamed the wheat pool for Russia's capturing part of the world wheat markets. "The wheat pool blames Russia for the present price of wheat simply because they now realize that in holding up the marketing of Canada's wheat they forced Europe and Russia, too, to grow wheat."

CENTRE OF COMMUNISM

Mayor Webb contends that there are only twenty-seven genuine Communists in the Western Provinces. "The rest of them are sheep who blindly follow their leaders," he said. "And don't make the mistake of thinking all our foreigners out here are Communists. They aren't. Many of our best Ukranian citizens are deeply grieved that they have been associated with the activities of a few of their countrymen."

It is his belief that the headquarters of the Communists in Canada are situated in two buildings eight miles out of Winnipeg. "Some day soon I am going to have a detachment of Mounted Police go out there and raid the place," he said.

The writer later visited the houses he mentioned and found them labelled "Labor - Ukrainian Old Folks' Home." He was refused admission on the grounds that visitors were not allowed. Mayor Webb insists that there are no old people in the home, and that a constant trek of Communists is seen walking to and from the building.

ALLOWS NO PARADES

Mayor Webb does not agree with Detroit's Mayor in allowing Communists to parade the city streets. He was recently successful in having a by-law passed which prohibits parades unless the Union Jack is carried. Flags of foreign countries are prohibited.

"I object most strenuously to the way Communists try to foist upon Canadians a mode of living which has not yet been proven a success in the country where it is being tried. When it has been a success there, and not before, is the time for other countries to experiment with it.

"They are making preposterous demands," Mayor Webb went on. "They want noncontributory unemployment insurance. Where do they think the money is coming from if they don't share in raising it? There is nothing constructive about their programme, and Britishers who prize their traditions will not be so anxious to lose the liberty they have fought so hard to win."

INSULT UNION JACK

Mayor Webb cautioned newspapers against using photographs of street disturbances. "They are all sent to Moscow," he said, "and the sender, who is a paid representative here, receives so much commission for each picture."

He told of a visit made to his office recently of five members of the Fish Commission, who went to Russia to study conditions there. They told the Mayor that they felt certain Russia would have another revolution before the end of the five-year plan.

Mayor Webb deplored the Communistic teaching going on among the children of Western Canada. "In Winnipeg there are kindergartens operated after the public schools, where children are taught to spit upon the Union Jack. Religious pictures are destroyed, and in their place are hung pictures of Lenin and Stalin."

CITY BANK CLEARINGS

Total clearings at the Victoria Clearing House for the week ending April 30 were $1,692,403. For the corresponding period last year they were $2,348,433.

CHANGE IS SOUGHT BY NON-PENSIONERS

As a means of lessening the present burden of unemployment, members of the Non-Pensioners' Association, at their meeting on Wednesday night, decided to approach the Provincial and Dominion Governments on the question of ex-servicemen with substantial pensions holding Government posts.

Members who spoke on the subject were of the opinion that such pensioners were actually getting double pay, and suggested that such men should either give up their pensions or their positions in the interest of non-pensioned returned men now seeking work. They stated that, regardless of whether a man was wounded or not wounded, no man was as good after the war as he was previously.

Here's to the man who invented stairs
And taught us our feet to soar!
He was the first who ever burst
Into a second floor.
The world would be downstairs today
Had he not found the key;
So let his name go down to fame,
Whatever it may be.

CUTE LITTLE PLACE

LOCATED IN FAIRFIELD and only a five-room bungalow with full-size basement, furnace and sewer, but so very different from the ordinary type bungalow. It is truly a cute little place, with both porches front and rear glassed in, and the living-room just a dream, with its large open fireplace and built-in bookcases. The whole house is in perfect condition throughout, and the garden! Well, you must just see it, that's all, for no words can describe the rockeries, arbors and shrubs that have been so artistically arranged and which make this little place such a haven for an elderly couple or a dream house for a bride. This could not be duplicated for .. $3800

FAMOUS SHIP ENDS CAREER

H.M.S. Tiger, Veteran of Battle of Jutland, to Be Scrapped

WAS MOST SOUNDLY CONSTRUCTED SHIP

PLYMOUTH, Eng., April 30 (CP).—H.M.S. Tiger recently returned to Plymouth with the other ships of the Atlantic fleet and then went up the harbor to Devonport flying a paying-off pennant, which marked the end of her career as a fighting unit of the navy. She is to be scrapped.

This famous ship was laid down on June 20, 1912, at Clydebank, and, having been launched on December 15, 1913, she was finally completed in October, 1914, at a cost of $10,437,455. Her normal displacement is 28,500 tons, her length over all is 704 ft. 6 in., and her maximum draught 34 ft. She is armed with eight 13.5 in. guns, twelve 6 in., four 4 in. high angle, four 3-pounders, and four 21 in. submerged torpedo tubes. Her 85,000 h.p. turbines, the steam for which is supplied by thirty-nine boilers, give her a speed of between twenty-eight and thirty knots, and at this speed she burns about 4,200 tons of oil fuel a day. Her annual upkeep is $918,400, and since her completion she has had several refits, each costing large sums of money.

During the Great War she served with Admiral Beatty in the Grand Fleet, taking part in the action off the Dogger Bank and in the Battle of Jutland. At Jutland she was the fourth ship in the line until H.M.S. Queen Mary ahead of her was blown up, and then the Tiger took her place astern of the Princess Royal. During this battle the Tiger was hit twenty-one times, but her casualties were only twenty-four killed and thirty-seven wounded, which seemed to bear out the claim that she was the most soundly constructed ship ever built.

In recent years she has been the gunnery practice ship at Portland, until she recommissioned with a Devonport crew on May 17, 1929, for service with the Battle Cruiser Squadron, Atlantic Fleet. During this, her last commission, she specialized in winning the Rodman Cup for racing cutters, the Fleet Boxing Cup, the King's Cup for football, and all the tug-of-war cups, so, after she has come under the hammer, she will not be forgotten.

NEW AUTO LOCATORS BEING DISTRIBUTED

The 1931 edition of The Auto Locator and Motorists' Guide of Victoria and Vancouver Island, is now being distributed. The volume, which is published by J. C. North, contains a complete list of all auto licences and to whom issued. A change in the issuing of licences this year is noted in the publication. All numbers from 19,000 to 19,999 have been issued to the medical profession only. Victoria has an allotment of 22,000, Vancouver has an allotment of 45,000, New Westminster has 8,750, Nanaimo 3,500, Nelson 2,000. Anyox has the smallest allotment with 50, and Queen Charlotte has 75. Victoria series run from 1 to 22,000, of which numbers 1 to 5,000 have been issued by mail to all parts of the province.

PRINCESS JULIANA IS 22 YEARS OLD

THE HAGUE, Holland, April 30 (AP).—Holland gave over this day to the celebration of the twenty-second birthday of Crown Princess Juliana. Flags flew over the public buildings throughout the country, but the festivities centred here.

The royal family spent most of the day in the Palace, but tonight they were to witness a fireworks display on the parade ground.

ONTARIO MOTORIST KILLED IN SMASH

LONDON, Ont., April 30.—Bert Loosemore, twenty-two, Glencoe, Ontario, was fatally burned when a car in which he was driving with two other young men crashed into the ditch near Delaware village early today and caught fire. The other two occupants, Donald Taylor, Kent, Ohio, and Lloyd Farrell, Windsor, are in hospital here, critically injured.

Uniforms Delayed—The new uniforms for members of the city police force will be ready about the middle of the month, Chief Thomas Heatley stated last night. It was hoped to have had them ready for today, but error in shipping of some of the materials has been responsible for the delay.

Unusual Burial Place

THIS picture, taken at Malagar, shows one of the victims of the collision between the British aircraft carrier, Glorious, and the French liner, Florida, being buried in a hole in the wall of the cemetery. The bodies buried in the walls of the Malagar Cemetery are left there for five years and then removed to make way for new corpses.

WORKERS' ALLIANCE MEETING TONIGHT

The Workers' Alliance will hold a mass meeting at Central Park this evening at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of discussing the present economic crisis. All workers are asked to attend.

The next regular meeting will be held at Temple Hall on Monday, May 4, at 7:30 o'clock.

ST. SAVIOUR'S VICAR EXPECTED HERE TODAY

Rev. Alan Gardiner, M.A., B.D., who has been appointed vicar of St. Saviour's Church, and who will also assist Rev. Canon Chadwick at St. John's Church, is expected to arrive here today. The new vicar comes from Metcalfe, Ont., where he had been doing duty under the Right Rev. J. C. Roper, Bishop of Ottawa, formerly of this city. He will be the guest of St. John's Rectory over the week-end.

LAKE HILL DANCE

A very enjoyable and largely-attended dance was held in Lake Hill Community Hall on Wednesday evening, following the basketball games held in the gymnasium. A popular three-piece orchestra provided music for the dancing. The final dance of the season will be held next Wednesday evening, and arrangements are being made to mak it a very special occasion.

Householder (to applicant for rooms): Yes, we have two rooms to let, $4 a week. No cats, dogs, pianos, gramophones, loudspeakers, or children allowed.

Applicant: Do you mind if my boots squeak a bit?

The two women met at a concert and began t talk.

"Yes," said one, "I have awful headaches and pains in my lungs. The doctor says I've a weak heart, too."

"I've just the same," replied her companion. "Heart, lungs and ears always giving me trouble."

An old gentleman in the seat behind gently touched one of them on the shoulder.

"Pardon me, ladies," he said, "but I've come to a concert, not an organ recital."

STONE CARVING PROVES PUZZLE

Unearthed in Montreal Is Believed to Be From Easter Island

MONTREAL, April 30 (CP).—A strange stone bust recently unearthed in Notre Dame de Grace and at first believed to have been the work of Indians probably came from Easter Island in the South Pacific Ocean, declared E. Lionel Judah, curator of museums at McGill University, in whose hands the relic has been placed.

The stone is of volcanic origin similar to the strange archaeological specimens that have been found on that island, and it is also in the form most common for the sculptures in that place. There is no doubt in the mind of Mr. Judah that the specimen unearthed here comes from Easter Island; how it got here is another question.

HEAD OF MAN

The bust, which was recently discovered by Douglas Barnes, son of Lieut. R. Barnes, of the Montreal Police Force, has been carved from a single piece of stone and represents the head and upper portion of a man's body. It weighs thirty pounds and has an over-all length of eighteen inches. The color is reddish because it has been subjected to the elements for thousands of years. The bust was discovered here, buried under four feet of soil on King Edward Avenue, near Cote St. Luc Road.

Easter Island, which lies in the eastern part of the South Pacific Ocean, is triangular in shape, has an area of forty-five square miles, about 200 inhabitants, and belongs to Chile. It was previously wooded, but now has only a few bushes, ferns and grasses on it. The island is used by the Government of Chile for raising horses.

STRANGE CARVINGS

Easter Island has long been famous for its wonderful archaeological remains. There have been found immense platforms built of large cut stones fitted together without cement. They are generally built upon headlands and on the slope towards the sea. Inland there is a broad terrace with large stone pedestals upon which once stood huge stone images carved in various forms, but mostly like the one now in the hands of the McGill Museum authorities. On some of the platforms there are upwards of a dozen images, which have been scattered by storms and collected by archaeologists.

The images are all carved from lava rock, but how or when still remains a mystery. The only ancient tool discovered on the island is a kind of stone chisel, but it is considered doubtful if many of the works could have been done with such an implement. The present inhabitants of the island know nothing about how these figures were carved, and how they came to the island in the first place is still a matter of speculation. Some believe that the islanders are related to the Haida Indians, Pacific Coast tribes, who showed such skill at carving and sculpture.

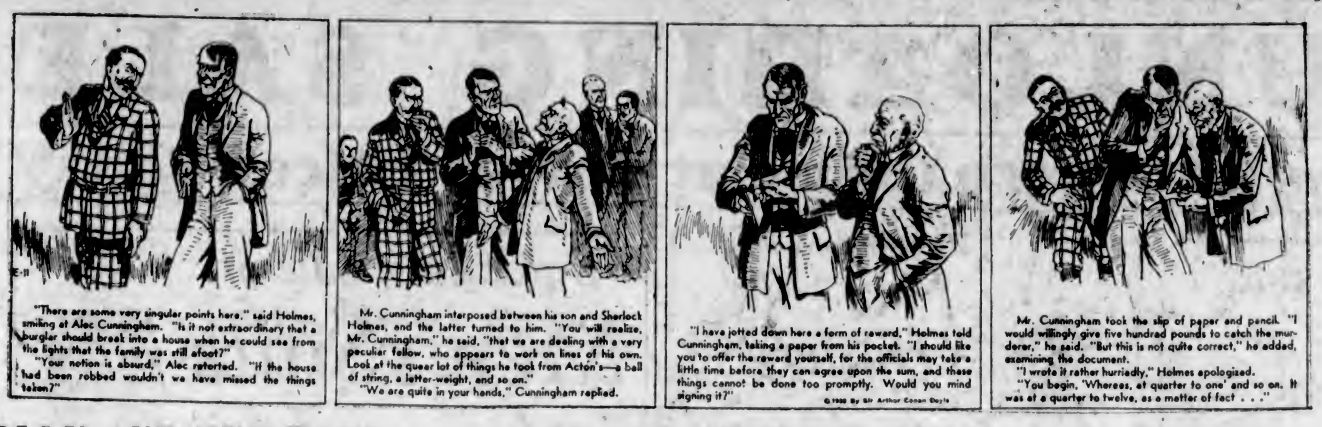
SHERLOCK HOLMES—The Reigate Puzzle

Holmes Makes a Blunder

By Sir Arthur Conan Doyle



"There are some very singular points here," said Holmes, smiling at Alec Cunningham. "Is it not extraordinary that a burglar should break into a house when he could see from the lights that the family was still afoot?"
"Your notion is absurd," Alec retorted. "If the house had been robbed wouldn't we have missed the things taken?"
Mr. Cunningham interposed between his son and Sherlock Holmes, and the latter turned to him. "You will realize, Mr. Cunningham," he said, "that we are dealing with a very peculiar fellow, who appears to work on lines of his own. Look at the queer lot of things he took from Acton's—a ball of string, a letter-weight, and so on."
"We are quite in your hands," Cunningham replied.
"I have jotted down here a form of reward," Holmes told Cunningham, taking a paper from his pocket. "I should like you to offer the reward yourself, for the officials may take a little time before they can agree upon the sum, and these things cannot be done too promptly. Would you mind signing it?"
Mr. Cunningham took the slip of paper and pencil. "I would willingly give five hundred pounds to catch the murderer," he said. "But this is not quite correct," he added, examining the document.
"I wrote it rather hurriedly," Holmes apologized.
"You begin, 'Whereas, at quarter to one' and so on. It was at a quarter to twelve, as a matter of fact . . ."

Executive (interviewing applicant for important position)—Are you absolutely honest, straightforward and trustworthy?

Applicant—Yes, indeed, I am, sir.

Executive—If you should enter this office tomorrow morning and find a wallet containing $100,000, what would you do?

Applicant—What would I do? What would I do? I'd do nothing and live on my income.

KRAZY KAT

THERE'S THAT NICE LITTLE DRAGON AGAIN. DONT YOU THINK IT WOULD BE NICE TO SORT OF WALK AWAY AND NOT DISTURB HIM, OR NOTHING?
BUT IN THE OLDISH TIMES, KNIGHTS AND BRAVE PIPPILS USED TO CHASE DRAGONS AWAY—
YES, BUT THIS IS A NICE LITTLE DRAGON— HE'S NEVER DONE NOBODY NO WRONG—WOT DO YOU MEAN BY A "WRONG" OFFISSA PUP"?
WELL, HE'S NEVER TOSSED NO BRICK AT YOU—NO?
SEE THAT KNOT?

THE FAMILY ALBUM—HOME WORK

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

CAVES WILFRED LECTURE ON POOR MARKS, SAYS ITS NONSENSE NOT GETTING HIS LESSONS DONE WITH NOTHING TO DISTURB HIM
SETS HIM TO WORK AT HIS STUDIES AND WANDERS THROUGH HOUSE, WHISTLING AND WONDERING WHAT TO DO
CALLS TO WILFRED DOES HE KNOW WHERE THE MAGAZINE IS WITH THE LAST INSTALLMENT OF THE MYSTERY STORY IN IT TURNS ON RADIO FULL BLAST, CAN'T GET ANY SNAPPY MUSIC AND AFTER A WHILE, TURNS IT OFF AGAIN
CALLS TO WILFRED TELL HE LOOK AND SEE IF THE HAMMERS ON THE BUREAU IN THE HALL
CALLS UP ED DIPPICK AND HAS JOVIAL CONVERSATION WHICH ECHOES THROUGH THE HOUSE
ASKS WILFRED TO COME DOWN AND LEND A HAND MOVING THE BIG ARMCHAIR BACK INTO DEN
PICKS OUT TUNE ON PIANO WITH ONE FINGER, OVER AND OVER AGAIN, WONDERING WHY WILFRED DOESN'T GET BETTER MARKS

THE DOT CARTOONIST, BY GEORGE BELL

At first sight of Cornelius Cowperthwaite's canoe you'll possibly chuckle. But have your laugh and then consider its advantages. If a hole gets in it he has a new boat by simply turning it around; it is always a shade shelter against sun and rain, and when he is through he can roll it to the . . . where he lives. (Kindly draw straight lines between the numbers.)

HOW IT STARTED

By Jean Newton

TO SMELL A RAT

"Smelling a rat" is a phrase very much in use in these days of a suspicious public, and official investigations of office holders. With every clue to what may perhaps be a new field fertile with evidence of wrong-doing, awakened suspicion is phrased as "smelling a rat."

It is an inelegant expression with a literary origin. No less elegantly literary, so to speak than the suspicious authorship of Ben Johnson in his "Tale of a Tub."

Modern slanginess, dating back to 1632.

A successful business man was giving an address on "Commercial Acumen" to a class of students. In speaking of his career, he mentioned a certain company that had been wound up on account of its shady practices.

"Of course," he said, "as soon as I realized there were possibilities of dishonest profit being made I got out of it."

"How much?" asked a student.
